DEBATE ON HOOVER LETTER

Borah Puts It in the Record—Declares It Indicts the Treaty.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Senate today decisively defeated the declaratory reservation on foreign policy brought forward by mild reservationists as a bid for Democratic support for treaty ratification. It refused to include in the reservation program any recognition of the claims of subject peoples, including the Irish, to self-determination or independence.

As the session was ending, Senators agreed to limit debate from now on to fifteen minutes for each speaker on the remaining reservations. Senator Lodge gave notice that he would keep the Senate in session tomorrow until all reservations were disposed of and those adopted were made a part of a resolution of ratification ready to be voted on.

The final vote, therefore, is expected to come on Friday. The desire of some indefatigable orators to express themselves further may throw the vote into Saturday, although and effort will be made to prevent that.

The surprise of the day was the defeat, by a vote of 25 to 39, of the Lenroot reservation declaring it to be the policy of the United States that in the event of a threat against the peace of Europe in the future the United States would consider what action it should take in the premises.

The vote was:

This reservation was held out to Democratic Senators as a "face saver." They were told that, if they thought that the Lodge reservation on Article X. too emphatically repudiated all obligations to go to the aid of any nation against which another committed an act of aggression, the Lenroot reservation would salve their feelings and allow them to vote for ratification.

Senator Borah offered an amendment to the reservation providing that the United States "reserves the independent and uncontrolled power to throw its influence and its weight, whenever the occasion arises, in favor of what it deems to be right in the affairs of the world." Mr. Lenroot accepted it, but some of his colleagues told him that there was a joker in the amendment, and he withdrew his acceptance.

"All right," said Mr. Borah. "As I am against the reservation anyway, I withdraw the amendment."

Owen Reservation Beaten.

Consideration of the Lenroot reservation occupied only a short time. Several hours were used up, however, in excited debate on various reservations relating to the independence of Ireland, the British protectorate over Egypt, the independence of Korea, and self-determination for all subject peoples, including the inhabitants of the Philippines, Porto Rico and Hawaii. Senators grew sarcastic and denunciatory in their exchanges on these questions.

The debate opened on a reservation offered by Senator Owen of Oklahoma, which stated that the United States understood that the British protectorate

Long Hopes America and Britain May Compete to Reduce Navies

LONDON, March 17.—Introducing the naval estimates in the House of Commons today, Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, said the Government was firmly adhering to the traditional policy that the British Navy should not be inferior to the navies of other Powers.

Then, referring to the United States as the only country whose navy approached that of Britain in strength, he said that the idea of competition in armaments between the United States and Great Britain was repugnant, adding:

"We hope and believe that if there is any emulation between us it is likely to be in the direction of reducing that ample margin of naval strength which we alike possess over other naval powers. This is the foundation of the British naval policy."

HUGE WAR PLANT TURNED TO PEACE

General Electric Acquires Remington Arms Property at Bridgeport for $7,000,000.

WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS

Forty-Acre Factory, with Million and a Half Square Feet of Floor Space, to Open Up.

The forty-acre war plant of the Remington Arms Company at Bridgeport, Conn., was leased yesterday, with an option to purchase, by the General Electric Company. It is generally believed that this means the permanent establishment of a great General Electric plant there.

The transaction is especially notable as being the first on a large scale involving the conversion of a huge war plant to peace purposes.

Joseph P. Day, who negotiated the lease, said that it involved about $7,000,000.

The plant was built in 1915 and 1916 and is of the latest type of construction. It is located in the industrial centre of Bridgeport, in what is known as the East Side. A remarkable feature of the plant is the unit planning of the main factory group of buildings, with all floors on the same levels and all buildings interconnected with the most perfect interrelation of parts. The space covered by buildings is about 900,000 square feet, or over twenty acres. The floor area within the buildings is 1,555,257 square feet, or over thirty-six acres.

The buildings of the plant are divided into several groups; first, the group of thirteen main five-story buildings and the dry kiln; second, the five one-story buildings; third, the power house, and fourth, the employment office and guards' quarters buildings and two storage buildings. The first two groups are the manufacturing units; the second two are adjuncts of them. Each building is a duplication of the other and is roughly T shaped; each has two divisions, a main portion and a service building. In each story a main corridor runs through the thirteen buildings, a distance of over 2,000 feet, connecting all on the same level. What this means in the handling of material will be well understood only by those who have studied factory costs intensively. Incidentally, roller skates, the bicycle and the small electric truck play an important part in the distribution of material.

In size the plant is bigger than the Equitable Building by over 200,000 square feet and 50 per cent. larger than the Woolworth Building.

Joseph P. Day, the broker in the transaction, when interviewed, stated: "The purchase of this property by the General Electric Company is a good indication of the industrial activity of the whole country. Although the General Electric Company operate many of the largest manufacturing plants in this country, they did not have anywhere near enough room to execute their enormous amount of orders and needed about a million to a million and a half square feet in order to turn out their products so urgently needed.

"When in full operation, which will be about April 15, the General Electric Company will employ many thousand hands, all of whom can be readily housed as the facilities for such are excellent. The Remington Arms Company erected and own many hundred single, two-family and apartment houses and the Federal Government erected and owns a large housing development close to the plant."

C. L. Hutchinson, President of the Remington Arms Company, said:

"The plant that has just been taken over by the General Electric Company was one of our surplus properties. It was erected during the war for the execution of war orders. It has served its purpose well and I am glad to see it occupied by the General Electric Company. When laying out the plant we had in mind its use after the war and what we looked forward to is now coming true. The leasing of this property has no effect whatsoever on our U. M. C. Company plant at Bridgeport, which is always in full operation on our general line of work."

ALLIES OCCUPY CONSTANTINOPLE; SEIZE MINISTRIES

Turkish and British Indian Soldiers Killed in a Clash at the War Office.

NO OTHER RESISTANCE MADE

HIGH AGITATORS ARRESTED

People Told in Proclamation Turkey Is Not to Lose City and Sultan Is to be Supported.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 16 (Associated Press).—Constantinople was occupied this morning by allied forces under General Sir George F. Milne of the British Army, which occupied the Ministries of War and Marine and assumed control of the posts, telegraphs and telphones, which have been temporarily suspended. Shipping also has been suspended.

This long-looked-for military demonstration by the Allies against Turkey was carried out with only one untoward happening, a serious clash at the War Office, where the Turks resisted the allied troops.

An exchange of shots resulted, in which several Punjabi of the British East Indian forces and a few of the Turks were killed.

The excitement caused by the occupation quieted down before darkness, which brought absolute calm.

Fleet Covered Landing of Troops.

The landing of the forces of occupation was carried out under the guns of the formidable allied fleet anchored in the Bosporus. The British dreadnought Benbow was moored at the Galata quay, her guns trained upon Stamboul. Another man-of-war faced the arsenal in the Golden Horn, while all the other warships in the Bosporus were standing by with their decks cleared for action.

Except in the instance stated, however, there was no resistance to the allied forces as they carried out the orders for the occupation of the historic capital of the Ottoman Empire. The population, in fact, showed little alarm, nor was there any sign of panic except in one section of Stamboul as the commanders of the allied troops brought their forces ashore. The excitement was on the part of shopkeepers near the War Office where the clash occurred. They closed their shops in their first fright, but speedily reopened them.

The forces landed included 4,000 bluejackets and marines from the British warships, and contingents from the forces of all the Allies represented here, Indian detachments having Moslems on their roster were among the troops taking part in the operation.

Comprehensive military and naval plans had been made for carrying out the allied measures and precautionary steps taken. Last night a number of Turkish agitators and other persons who were regarded as possible disturbers of the peace were arrested, including the commander of the 10th Turkish Division; Djemal Pasha, former Minister of War and his Chief of Staff, Djevad Pasha; an Imperial Prince who was conspicuous in the crisis, and Senator Mahmud Pasha.

People Warned Against Hostile Acts.

The dead walls of Constantinople had been placarded with a proclamation by Major Gen. Henry F. M. Wilson of the British troops, declaring that any one committing any act that threatened the safety of the allied forces would be tried by court-martial and sentenced to death or such other penalty as the court might fix. The proclamation was printed in Greek, English and French, and it was eagerly scanned by curious crowds in all sections of the city, who after the landing took place wandered around the streets in a dazed manner, apparently unable to understand exactly what had happened.

Subsequently the British, French and Italian High Commissioners issued the following proclamation:

First—Occupation is provisional.

Second—The Entente Powers have no intention to destroy the Sultan's authority. They wish rather to strengthen it in all places which shall remain under Ottoman administration.

Third—The Entente Powers persist in their purpose not to deprive the Turks of Constantinople. But if, God forbid, troubles develop and massacres occur that decision probably will be modified.

Fourth—In this critical hour every one must attend to his own affairs and assist in maintaining general security without permitting himself to be deceived by those whose frenzy tends to destroy the last hope of build-

HOUSTON FAVORS A FLAT TAX PLAN

Proposes Substitute for Graduated Scale on Profits Above Distributed Earnings.

WANTS TAXATION SIMPLIFIED

Urges That Personal Service Corporations, Now Exempt, Be Brought Inside the Law.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Definite suggestions for simplifying the income and excess profits taxes, for dealing with personal service corporations, and an estimate of the loss to the Treasury through the Supreme Court's stock dividend decision, were sent by Secretary Houston today to Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Secretary expressed the hope that Congress would take up the work of simplification as soon as possible, and not delay until the Autumn of 1921, with the result that income and excess profits taxes would be collected on the present basis during 1922.

"It would be manifestly unsafe to reduce now the income and profits taxes to be collected in 1920 and 1921, but I can see nothing in the financial prospects for 1922 and thereafter which would make impossible or unwise the very modest reduction involved in the plan of simplification," said Mr. Houston.

Treasury Department experts, according to Secretary Houston, do not believe the entire net loss through the stock divident decision will be more than $25,000,000. At the time the decision was handed down it was thought the refund to taxpayers would reach $100,000,000.

Flat Tax On Earnings.

One of the suggestions of Secretary Houston is a new flat tax on profits above distributed earnings, in place of the present graduated 20-40 per cent. scale to be applied to incorporated and unincorporated businesses on the same basis. Mr. Houston does not believe this change should be made in taxes due in 1921, but as soon thereafter as decreasing Governmental expenditures will permit. He estimates that with a 20 per cent. rate on the basis of present corporate net income the reduction would approximate $430,000,000 annually, and would reach $215,000,000 in the fiscal year 1922. However, he says, he does not think present corporate conditions will continue, and therefore, with a coincident increase in uninvested capital, there would be no reduction in revenue through the adoption of the amendment to the law.

Reduction of surtaxes upon income saved and reinvested is recommended by the Secretary, who says the present surtaxes penalize savings. He suggests the reduction by one-quarter of the surtaxes upon reinvested savings, at the same time limiting the total amount of the reduction to the same per cent. of the reinvested income as the rate imposed upon the undistributed profits of corporations. Mr. Houston declares it will be impossible to continue collecting surtaxes up to 65 per cent. on ordinary business incomes, while exempt interest at remunerative rates can be obtained from tax-free bonds.

Through the Supreme Court decision, according to the Secretary, about 2,500 corporations would be exempted from all taxation, and he considers these should be brought inside the revenue laws, and should pay $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 of his proposed flat tax. The 2,500 corporations are said to have an income of $30,000,000, and through the decision the tax loss would mean for 1918-19 between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000.

Other Recommendations.

Other recommendations by the Secretary include an amendment allowing the Internal Revenue Commissioner to decide with the taxpayer a specific claim, which shall not be set aside except for fraud; preventing the Treasury Department from making its interpretations retroactive; imposing a five-year limit on bringing suit for tax collections; simplification of Liberty bond exemption, and an adjustment so that income earned over several years shall not be taxed in a lump when received in one year.

Chairman Fordney appeared to look with favor on the suggestions made by Secretary Houston, but Representative Kitchin, Democratic leader and ranking member of his party on the Ways and Means Committee, said the burden

THE HAGUE, March 17.—In the second chamber of the Dutch Parliament today Delegate Schaber, a Socialist, raised the question of the ex-Kaiser, saying that he was a supporter of the right of asylum here, but that the chamber had to do with an exceptional situation.

The guard had been reinforced, he said, and rightly so. This guard, he continued, had now become an international question. He asked what measures had been taken. Uncontrolled courier service was being conducted. What did the Government intend to do?

Minister Ruys replied:

"The ex-Kaiser has promised to refrain from all political action or compromise the Dutch Government. By royal decree of March 16 a place has been allotted as his residence in the province of Utrecht. The residence of the ex-Crown Prince is still under consideration."

Several members were still unsatisfied. Schacher then proposed that "the chamber consider that it must be able to rely upon such measures by the Government as would prevent the ex-Kaiser and ex-Crown Prince from exercising influence upon all political occurrences." He added that this was not a question of lack of confidence, but was a warning.

A long discussion followed. Communists and other members considered that the resolution was nonsense. There was a scene of excitement when a Communist member declared that the Government and the Premier knew beforehand that the ex-Kaiser was coming to Holland, whereupon the Premier shouted "Liar!"

The resolution was finally withdrawn.

There is no doubt that Amerongen Castle is now surrounded by relays of armed guards making unauthorized exit and entrance impossible. The Handelsblad devotes an evidently inspired column to the severe measures taken and number of guards, adding that the ex-Kaiser did not realize the seriousness of the situation until at the dinner table Saturday evening, when the armed guards, who had already arrived, prevented escape.

I learn, however, that old inhabitants of Amerongen declare that there is a secret exit passage to Count Bentinck's brother's castle, Scuylewteen, which is a large granite castle near by.

Ex-Ruler Restricted to a Zone.

THE HAGUE, March 17 (Associated Press).—A royal decree, issued March 16, says that the place to be allotted to former Emperor William as his residence will form part of the Province of Utrecht and that it will be fixed later by the Government. The decree was in connection with an announcement to the allied Premiers regarding their recent note concerning the former monarch.

The Premier stated today that the Government was considering an official allotment of land at Wieringen as a place of sojourn for former Crown Prince Frederick William. He said that up to the present time the Government had no indication that the former Emperor or his son had taken part in any political activities whatever.

The Associated Press was informed from an official source that the real effect of the decree concerning William Hohenzollern will be absolutely to restrict him to Doorn and Amerongen and their surroundings, and that one of the main purposes was to exclude him from any large towns.

AMERONGEN, March 17 (Associated Press).—Reinforcement of the Dutch guard at the von Bentinck castle, which, since the middle ages, has been protected by moats and drawbridges, has made the former German Emperor's refuge a veritable prison fortress capable of defense even in the unexpected event of an attack by raiders desiring to free the exile.

The castle is situated in a big square. The four sides are moated, and two of them have additional walls. Constables and military police patrol the roads with loaded rifles night and day.

Kapp Says That the Dangers of Bolshevism Moved Him To Surrender Executive Power

BERLIN, March 17 (Associated Press).—The official communique announcing the resignation of Chancellor Kapp endeavors to give a patriotic aspect to his withdrawal. It says:

"The Bauer Government having voluntarily decided to fulfill the most essential political demands addressed to it, the rejection of which on Saturday led to the establishment of the Kapp Government, Chancellor Kapp considers his mission fulfilled and retires, resigning the Executive power again in the hands of the military Commander in Chief.

"In this he is moved by the conviction of the extreme necessity of the fatherland, which demands solid union of all against the annihilating dangers of Bolshevism."

LONDON EXPECTS RED OUTBREAK

Thinks the German Situation Shows Trend Toward Bolshevism.

STRONG AUTHORITY LACKING

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 17.—Gravest fears that Germany will fall victim to Bolshevism are held in well-informed quarters here as a result of news contained in the latest telegrams.

In Berlin the Spartacides are inclined to establish a Soviet and the same tendency is apparently increasing in the occupied territory.

Practically the entire economic life of the country is at a standstill. Some of the railroads, notably that to Austria, have ceased operating and only food and coal are permitted to be conveyed to Berlin.

The resignation of Kapp and the failure of his attempt at revolution removes one of the chief checks on the Spartacides, and the general disorganization and isolation of the important centres of population are naturally producing conditions that render the establishment of local governing bodies a necessity.

If Berlin were to establish a Soviet tonight (and THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent learns that in responsible quarters here it is held to be a possibility) many other cities are likely to follow suit.

One point that may be able to resist is the National Assembly, which is meeting at Stuttgart. But it is by no means certain that it can.

The Ebert Government, it is understood, has 55,000 troops faithful to it, but they are not well organized or concentrated and it will be difficult, it is thought here, to make effective use of them.

Then the National Assembly will have to produce a policy that will appeal to the majority of the people and it appears to have little to go upon. The Ebert Government had been living from hand to mouth, endeavoring to keep order and get the shattered economic organization moving again and the Assembly itself had not evolved any definite platform, consequently the best opinion here believes the future of Germany is a matter of touch and go. If Ebert can keep control, it may be hoped that disorders will turn themselves out and the country will settle down in a week or two. If the Spartacides break out, no one can tell how far or with what consequences the revolution will spread.

LONDON, Thursday, March 18.—The London Times understands that telegrams from a well-informed source in Berlin received in London Wednesday convey the impression that the situation in Germany is serious.

The question as to what particular Government shall hold office (that of Ebert, or possibly some fresh combination) is thought in some quarters to be of less importance than the menace of extreme Socialist and Communist activities.

Signs of this are not wanting, says the Times, and the action of some of the Independent Socialists in joining the Workmen's Councils is regarded as significant. It is also stated that Noske considers the Spartacide outrages in some provinces as serious.

No confirmation of the reported resignation of Chancellor Kapp, the Times adds, has been received in official circles in London, but there is ground for believing that his action may in part be ascribed to loss of nerves.

He may, too, have been influenced by news of the great demonstration at Cologne Monday to protest against his Government, which was attended by 200,000 people.

WORKERS WIN BATTLES

Dangerous Situation in Westphalia — 44 Killed at Essen —More Soviets Proclaimed.

AMSTERDAM, March 17.—A serious Spartacide movement in Westphalia has resulted in battles with the troops and there have been a number of casualties, according to the Telegraaf's Münster correspondent.

Fighting was reported to be still in progress last night at Hagen, where troops had been rushed to put down a local Soviet Republic, the correspondent adds.

Two battalions of troops have been disarmed by the Münster workmen, the dispatch says, and the total of armed laborers is now 8,000. Airmen sent as observers have been received by the laborers with a heavy machine-gun fire. The remainder of the troops are concentrated near Süst and Weil, where they are awaiting reinforcements.

THE HAGUE, March 17.—Reports received here from Heerlen, Holland, which is on the frontier of the allied occupied German territory, say that the Spartacides hoisted the red flag and deposed the Mayors at Halle, Westphalia and Ohligs, Rhenish Prussia, but that British troops restored order and reinstated the Mayors.

The Telegraaf's Dresden correspondent, under yesterday's date, describing the fighting for the telegraph office, says the Spartacides had to engage a small force protecting the office, but later had to encounter a larger force, which fought with grenades and armored cars. One of the cars was destroyed by the Spartacides and all the crew killed.

The Civic Guard by mistake fired on the Government troops. Toward 7 o'clock the building was in the hands of the Spartacides. Many were killed or wounded.

According to the Telegraaf, the Baltic troops who advanced on Hamburg were captured and disarmed before they reached the city.

The Telegraaf says that 100 soldiers, including four officers, were killed in the fighting with Spartacides at Wetter. The official losses of the Government troops in this conflict, however, are placed at one officer and nine men.

In the eastern parts of the industrial region at Bochum, Dortmund, Gelsenkirchen and Unna, the proletariat is in charge. Armed laborers are speeding to various places to assist their comrades engaged in fighting. The Government troops are using artillery.

All Rhenish and Westphalian industry is declared to be ready to follow in the footsteps of the Soviet.

Fighting with Machine Guns in Leipsic.

COBLENZ, March 17 (Associated Press)—A telephone message received today from an American at Leipsic said conditions there are very bad. Fighting in which machine guns were being used was proceeding. Food was growing short and the water had been cut off. The Government troops supporting Premier Bauer were still holding their own against the revolutionists.

The message said there were many foreigners in the city attending the Leipsic fair, but that there had been no casualties among Americans.

KAPP FEARED BOLSHEVISM

BERLIN AWAITING NOSKE

Railway Strike Is Called Off Immediately—Berlin in Dread of Spartacide Outbreak.

Arrest of Kapp and Aids Reported Ordered by Noske

PARIS, Thursday, March 18.—Orders for the arrest of Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, General von Lüttwitz and other leaders in the reactionary revolt were issued last night by Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense of the Ebert Government, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Petit Parisien.

BERLIN, March 17 (Associated Press).—After holding the reins of power for less than five days, Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the self-appointed Chancellor and dictator, together with General Baron von Lüttwitz, his military Commander in Chief, has retired from office and control.

An official communication explained that Chancellor Kapp considered his mission fulfilled when the old Government decided to meet the most essential demands addressed to it. He was also moved to this action by the extreme necessity of the Fatherland, which demanded union against the dangers of Bolshevism.

The troops commanded by Lüttwitz, which have been supporting the reactionary revolt in this city, will have left Berlin by tomorrow evening at the latest, according to an announcement by Dr. Hirsch, the Prussian Premier. Security guards and loyal regular troops will then take over control of the capital.

Kapp has fled Berlin, leaving the Chancellery in an automobile at 6 o'clock this evening.

It is stated that the Communists are constructing barricades at many places in the northern and northeastern sections of the city.

The leaders of the general strike have issued a proclamation saying:

"The general strike of the railway men has been completely successful and, therefore, it is suspended forthwith."

The resignation of Chancellor Kapp and his chief officials is announced in the following statement:

"General Provisional Director Kapp has retired, with the object of bringing about internal peace. General von Lüttwitz has retired for similar reasons.

"The Vice Chancellor, in the name of the Imperial President, has accepted the resignations and has intrusted Major Gen. von Seeckt with the provisional conduct of affairs as Commander in Chief."

The real circumstances of Kapp's retirement are still shrouded in mystery. An important factor undoubtedly is to be found in the deliberations of the Under-Secretaries and Imperial Council yesterday, which Major Gen. von Lüttwitz attended. The views of this conference were that both Kapp and von Lüttwitz withdraw in order to terminate an intolerable position.

Noske Reported Returning to Berlin.

It is reported that Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense in the old Government, is coming here tonight.

In conference with the foreign correspondents yesterday Kapp's press chief made play with the Bolshevist danger. In a second conference an attempt was made to conceal the fact that the Berlin Government was likely to be of only short duration.

Although the general strike dealt this Government a mortal blow, the decisive fact is that Kapp and his supporters had no political prestige, their Government being built only on machine guns.

The statements made at these conferences gave a strange impression and caused a suspicion that the cry of alarm about the Bolshevists was preliminary to the announcement of retreat. The chief of the press bureau warned the correspondents against showing themselves in the streets, as a Communist revolt was expected hourly.

That any kind of compromise is out of the question now is undoubted. President Ebert of the old Government is strongly intrenched at Stuttgart, where, according to semi-official advices, the Council of the Empire met today and unanimously approved the old Government and strongly condemned the military coup at Berlin.

The Semi-Official News Agency announces that an agreement has been reached between the members of the majority parties, the German National Party and the German People's Party, on the following points:

(1) Reichstag elections to be held in June at the latest.

(2) An Imperial President to be elected in accordance with the Constitution by the people.

(3) Thorough reorganization of the Imperial Government.

Berlin Fears a Rising.

Frightened Berliners last night were asking: "The White or Red terror, which?" This was in consequence of an official announcement that the Reds were planning a rising.

Government officials said to The Associated Press:

"We fear bloodshed tonight. It is difficult for us to hold the troops back."

In preparation for the expected rising officials camped in their offices all night. When the correspondent left the Chancellery at nightfall into the darkening Wilhelmstrasse soldiers were bringing in huge boxes of food and cases of wine. Berliners generally scurried to their homes, apprehensively seeking refuge and locking their doors.

Notwithstanding Dr. Kapp's resignation, Berlin seems destined to have troublous times. An influential member of the Government, talking with the correspondent Tuesday, insisted upon the urgency of suppressing the strike movement and Communist opposition. He added: "Time is on the side of the Communists, and every hour we let slip weakens our position. We may expect great events between now and tomorrow."

The great events, beginning with the retirement of Kapp, are evidently moving to a climax. Ebert sent an airplane over Berlin dropping leaflets and predicting the early collapse of the Berlin Government.

The utter tie-up of the city continued today and there is no evidence of the breaking down of the strike. So far as is known, no fresh supplies of food have been received and prices are jumping almost hourly.

The striking water plant employes released a sufficient amount to flush the sewers, to prevent the outbreak of disease, but little is available for drinking purposes.

Reports Ebert Already Returning.

Copyright, 1920, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

BERLIN, March 17 (by Telephone to Cologne, thence to Paris).—Von Kapp's revolution has been utterly crushed.

The Ebert Government is returning to Berlin tonight.

The Spartacides continue to threaten trouble and are doing their utmost to foment a general strike.

Dr. Schiffer, who has been representing Ebert, has succeeded in forming a coalition Government with a declaration that a new national election will be held in June, the President to be chosen by popular vote instead of by the National Assembly.

To Call Off Railway Strike.

LONDON, March 18.—The Prussian Premier, Paul Hirsch, has issued a statement that the Kappist dictatorship has collapsed, says a Berlin message to the Central News. General von Seeckt has taken over the command of the troops loyal to the Ebert régime for the purpose of maintaining order. The Baltic troops have been removed, the orders of Kapp canceled and the ban on newspapers and telephones lifted.

The Railway Workers' Union has decided to call off the strike.

When asked today if the report that the Kapp Government was negotiating with the Entente, the Kapp spokesman who met the correspondents intimated that there had been informal discussions, but said there were no "binding negotiations."

He reiterated that General Merker came to Berlin with the knowledge of the old Government and the approval of Friedrich Ebert and Gustav Noske.

One effect of the revolution has been the interruption of negotiations to repatriate Russian prisoners, of whom there are more than 200,000 scattered throughout Germany. The Associated Press is informed that the negotiations were almost concluded when the Government was overthrown. It was planned to ship the prisoners from Stettin to Reval and pass them into Russia through Esthonia.

The Reichsrat met secretly yesterday and disposed of a measure providing for a wage increase for public employes. Herr Schiffer presided. One of Chancellor Kapp's acts yesterday was the issuance of a decree empowering General von Lüttwitz to take possession of all publishing houses and printing works and operate them for the Government as he might think fit.

There was no resumption of the tramway, underground and other railway services today and the Government appealed to the men to "continue work against the Bolsheviki, who threaten the welfare of the State and individual with destruction."

All Reichstag Parties Confer.

COPENHAGEN, March 17 (Associated Press).—The Berlin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung says that Kapp and von Lüttwitz have declared their unconditional retirement as a result of negotiations.

A special dispatch received from Berlin under date of Wednesday says the members of the majority parties conferred with Wolfgang Kapp and that the result of the deliberations was transmitted to Stuttgart. The conference was held in consequence of a several hours' discussion of the situation in the Reichstag between members of all the parties, including those of the Right, and at which Dr. Karl Helfferich, former Vice Chancellor and Secretary of the Imperial Treasury, was present.

A special dispatch from Berlin, quotes the Kapp Government as making the following announcement:

"According to reliable news a Congress occurred yesterday in Berlin, convoked by Independents, Communists and members of the Right Socialists, at which an agreement was reached according to which the Right Socialists do not accept the general strike as a reply to the coup d'état, but declare they are neutral to it. On all other points a complete agreement was reached.

"A Ministerial list was drawn up which includes the following: Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Daumig; Minister of the Interior, Kurt Beyer; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Herr Neumann or Herr Levy; Minister of Economics, Herr Rasch; Minister of Labor, Otto Gras; Minister of Food, Herr Geismann; Minister of Justice, Dr. Cohn; Minister of Finance, Herr Adel; Minister of Press, Herr Goldschmidt; Minister of Railways, Julius Meeer.

"The list only includes Independents and Communists. It is assumed that an accord exists between the two extreme parties."

Soviet Ultimatum Reported.

According to the Frankfurter Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here, the independent leaders, Cohn and Daumig, called on the Chancellor on behalf of a Soviet republic which had been proclaimed in working class quarters in Berlin and presented an ultimatum saying that if the troops were not withdrawn by 9 o'clock Tuesday evening they would attack them with armed workmen.

Chancellor Kapp and General von Lüttwitz offered to retire under certain conditions, primarily with regard to amnesty.

A telegram from Stuttgart says that according to absolutely reliable news from Berlin very heavy fighting is impending there.

According to a Munich dispatch received here, the Bavarian Diet has elected Dr. Kahn Premier. Kahn declared himself to be a representative of people's sovereignty and said he would hold the place for the Premier who is to be elected by the Diet as a result of the next election.

The new Ministry comprises Dr. Kahn, Premier and Minister of the Interior; Minister of Worship, Herr Müller; Minister of Justice, Herr Hamm; Minister of Commerce, Herr Koffler; Minister of Finance and Social Affairs, Herr Oswald, and Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Wupzerhofer.

LONDON, March 17.—The Berlin correspondent of The London Times says that Kapp's decision to resign was influenced by the Reichsbank's refusal to execute the new Government's orders.

All Americans Safe.

PARIS, March 17.—Official advices from Berlin say that all the foreign missions have refrained from any intercourse with the Kapp faction.

All Americans in Berlin are declared to be safe.

KAPP KEPT AUTOS READY.

Showed Panic When He Received Newspaper Men Tuesday Night.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, March 17.—According to reports received here Dr. Kapp resigned on Tuesday evening. Newspaper men who called at the Chancellors palace were received by a deathly pale and panic-stricken man, who stated that he had only a short communication to make. He then referred to the acute Bolshevist danger.

As the newspaper men left the palace many automobiles were standing there ready to take away members of the four days' Government.

SOUTH GERMAN STATES WANT INDEPENDENCE

Ebert Expected to Face a New Problem There When He Returns to Power.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, March 16.—Reports today from across the frontier, especially from Stuttgart and Munich, show that Kapp's government has failed and that Ebert is likely to return to Berlin soon, but will face a new and strong situation from southern Germany, which is tired of coup d'etats and wants to be independent of Berlin's central rule.

The Governments of the four largest States of the south, headed by Bavaria, want complete independence from Prussian rule and domination.

WILL POOL AGAINST BERLIN.

Rhineland Cities Agree on an Industrial Combination.

DUISBURG, Rhenish Prussia, March 17.—The Burgomaster, at a session of the City Council today, declared that resumption of work was of the highest importance, for all the industrial cities in the Rhineland, from Westphalia to Cologne, intended to pool their output and, in agreement with representative industry and labor unions, exchange it against merchandise from abroad.

This is the first attempt at realization of the idea, put forward by the Christian trade unions to cut off Berlin from Western Germany. The first meeting will be held Thursday with one representative for each 150,000 population.

The Burgomaster than remarked that they would easily show the Berlin usurpers that they could exist without Berlin, but not Berlin without them. Cries of "separation from Berlin" are heard at all meetings of the Christian trade unions.

THREATENS A WORLD STRIKE.

Secretary of International Federation Would Use It Against Kapp.

THE HAGUE, March 17.—An international strike as a protest against the destruction of the German Republic is probable unless the new régime in Germany is overthrown very soon, according to William Oudegeest, Secretary of the International Federation of Labor.

Such a strike probably would not be necessary, however, Oudegeest is quoted as saying in an interview in the Dutch press, "as Kapp cannot last long."

REFUSES TO FREE JOACHIM.

Luettwitz Keeps the Prince in Jail, Despite Appeals.

BERLIN, March 17.—General von Lüttwitz has refused to comply with repeated requests of Prince Joachim Albrecht for the release of the Prince from the Moabit Jail, where he is being held in connection with an assault on members of the French Mission in the Hotel Adlon dining room recently.

'PERTINAX' PREDICTS NEW GERMAN SPLIT

HE OPPOSES INTERVENTION

Argues That Allied Support of Ebert Might Lead to New Treaty Complications.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 17.—The following article by "Pertinax" will appear in the Echo de Paris tomorrow.

"Dr. von Kapp announced last night that he abandoned the attempt to form a Ministry and handed over the powers he held to the Under Secretaries of State of the Ebert Government who remained at their posts and who, as is known, have been undisturbed.

"The question now is, what are the leaders of the Popular Party going to do, who have constantly favored the rebel movement and who, thanks to the fidelity of their troops, are masters of considerable sections of the country—East Prussia, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Silesia, Northern Bavaria, and Munich? Around these leaders are grouping themselves the two parties of the Right, the German Party and the German Popular Party, as well as important sections of the Centre Party and other elements.

"It was these men who Sunday and Monday, during the pourparlers between Berlin and Dresden, almost succeeded in imposing upon Ebert and his colleagues the essential part of their program, namely, the dissolution of the Assembly, the election of a President by the people and the formation of a Cabinet of experts. Von Kapp put a check to the negotiations by insisting that a General who was a friend of his be placed in charge of the Ministry of Defense and that the law establishing Workmen's Councils in factories be modified in a conservative direction.

"The attempt which failed between Berlin and Dresden will be resumed between Berlin and Stuttgart. The parties of the Right have military force with them; their opponents have the general strike, which so far seems in many places more of a threat than a reality. In both camps those who are working for conciliation are favored by the fact that if no compromise intervenes Germany will experience a convulsion whose limits none can foresee. Blood has already been shed in several places.

"The French Government continues its waiting attitude for reasons already set forth. If any disorder occurred in the neutral zone east of the occupied territory no German police force would be authorized to take action there. The whole French policy is guided by the paramount desire of insuring the execution of the Treaty of Versailles.

"In consequence of Emir Feisal's proclamation of himself as King of Syria and Mesopotamia, steps have been taken by the Cabinets of London and Paris to inform him that no enterprise on his part will be tolerated in the zone of direct application of the Syrian littoral, Mesopotamia, &c., where the French and British administrations are now functioning. If he refuses to obey these instructions he will be called upon to make an explanation before the Peace Conference.

"Acting on instructions from Paris, M. Jusserand has laid before Mr. Polk the principal outlines of the Turkish treaty, explaining that the Allies had not the choice of making other decisions, and that their action was dictated by events. The Under Secretary of the State Department, while expressing hope of obtaining further information, showed that he understood the Allied point of view. It is possible, however, that in view of the grave results it might entail—involving, as it does, the more or less disguised partition of Turkey—the settlement of the Smyrna question may be indefinitely delayed. Should the Allies refuse, Kemal would oppose the revision of almost the whole treaty."

In his article this (Wednesday) morning Pertinax said:

The question has arisen today whether the coup in Germany will not give rise to a new European period. It is a subject of great importance. The Commissaries of the People in Moscow have never ceased to hope to see the people of Central Europe pushed by the rigor of the treaty into the gulf of revolution. Only a few weeks ago, profiting by the wishes of certain Germans to renew relations with the Slav people at any cost, they sent as their representative to Berlin Vogdor Kopp.

"Like his predecessor Joffe, he set to work at once, not only among the extremists, but also among those who wished to see the recovery of Germany in co-operation with Russia. It is quite certain that in these last few days Kapp has not been idle.

"The Charge d'Affaires of the allied nations, except the French, seem to have allowed themselves to be alarmed by the spectre of Spactacism. They have formally recommended to their Governments to intervene in favor of the Ebert régime. The French Government has resisted this request, and we believe it is right. From all the news received here it appears that, in spite of the general strike call, the disturbances have been neither violent nor long.

"On the other hand, in pronouncing themselves openly for the Stuttgart Government and in admitting its statements which proclaim the danger of anarchy, the Allied Governments would put themselves in a position which might look as if they were consenting to great concessions in clauses of the Treaty of Versailles which demand the disarmament of Germany. By that roundabout road they would serve the interests of the Prussian militarists.

"It is probable that if the present disorder continues the proper means of establishing order will have to be discussed; but the hour for such discussion has not yet come. In any case, the concessions which might have to be made to Germany on this ground would have to be accompanied by proper measures for safeguarding the treaty. During the last month it has received severe blows: the surrender of the war criminals, the extradition of the Kaiser, the delivery of coal, &c.

"The day before yesterday even the Supreme Council in London refused to take measures for the punishment recommended by Marshal Foch for the incidents which have disturbed the work of the control commissioners: a public apology by commanders before troops, &c. France asserts that without danger to the future such a course cannot be persisted in.

"It is unlikely that the powers will continue to exchange notes with President Wilson in the hope of arriving at a conclusion on the Adriatic question. That is, at least, the opinion expressed by one of the allied Governments. The present position will be maintained in Fiume and Dalmatia until there is accord between the powers interested.

"As was forecast, the allied troops have entered Constantinople. They have occupied the Ministries of War and Marine and the Central Telegraph station. They have arrested some chiefs of the Nationalists. General Milne, the English officer who directed operations only theoretically, takes the place of General Franchet d'Esperey, who has the title of Chief of the Allied Armies in Turkey in Europe.

"At the last meeting of the Supreme Council in London the frontiers of Palestine were discussed. In the name of the Zionist interests the British representatives declared themselves in favor of the widest possible extension of the frontiers."

ARGENTINA AVERTS STRIKE.

Prompt Military Action and Arrests of Anarchists Halt Trouble.

BUENOS AIRES, March 13.—Prompt action by the Government has apparently forestalled the calling of a general strike. Troops have been quartered in the city barracks and anarchist resorts have been raided, resulting in 200 arrests. The police closed twenty alleged anarchist headquarters, meeting resistance at one place, where a bomb exploded and wounded a police Sergeant.

There are signs of unrest among the members of the police force and some policemen who refused to perform their duties last night unless they were granted more pay were arrested.

The Argentine Patriotic Society, which is a citizen guard, has mobilized. La Epoca, the Government organ, declares there is no cause for alarm.

FEDERAL COUNCIL CONDEMNS KAPP

Session at Stuttgart Unanimously Approves Ebert Government's Action.

BERLIN, March 17 (By Associated Press).—A session of the Council of the Empire [the Republican successor of the old Bundesrat] was held today in the old castle at Stuttgrat in the presence of President Ebert, says the semi-official Wolff Bureau.

The States of Prussia, Württemberg, Bavaria, Baden, Hesse and Hamburg were represented. The Ministers of the Empire spoke of the situation and the progress of events, as well as of the political, economic and moral consequences likely to result therefrom.

The Council of the Empire unanimously and unreservedly approved the Government's attitude and strongly condemned the coup d'état.

STUTTGART, March 17 (Associated Press).—Nearly 200 members of the National Assembly were already here this morning, and most of them participated in group reunions in preparation for the opening session of the Assembly set for 4 o'clock this afternoon. President Ebert, Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense; Herr Mueller, Foreign Secretary, and other members of the Cabinet arrived from Dresden Monday.

The Cabinet met on Tuesday afternoon, President Ebert presiding. It heard the report of General Merker regarding negotiations with Dr. Kapp, which the Ebert Government declares were made on the General's own initiative.

The Cabinet decided that there could be no question of negotiations with Kapp and demanded that he withdraw immediately with his troops.

A rumor current among members of the Assembly that Field Marshal von Hindenburg is on the way to Stuttgart is arousing intense interest in view of his reported efforts to quiet the tense situation in Berlin.

One and two day protest strikes in sympathy with the old Government threatened to reduce the attendance of the Assembly, but seven special trains from various districts managed to get through. The sympathetic strike in this region ended last night, and traffic now is restored.

Seven thousand loyal troops are here, and a few of them are guarding the public buildings, but it is asserted this is not from fear of any trouble.

Eight mass meetings were set for this afternoon by the Communists and Socialists to protest against the Kapp régime. The Communists are urging the establishment of a Soviet form of Government.

Professor Hartman, Austrian Ambassador to Germany, arrived here today to confer with the German leaders. He declared that he feared a revolution in Vienna and Budapest in the event of the success of Chancellor von Kapp.

What Ebert Required of Kapp.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 16.—Before the German National Assembly, which begins in Stuttgart tomorrow, a session that may be historic in its results, President Ebert will lay the program upon which he counts to regain complete control of the Government of Germany. This program has four points:

1. The withdrawal without conditions of von Kapp and von Lüttwitz, as well as their accomplices.

2. The handing over of their troops to a General who has taken no part in the insurrection and is known to be faithful to the Constitution.

3. The immediate withdrawal of the Iron Division and its companies of officers.

4. The removal from Berlin of the Naval Brigade and its demobilisation by a new commander.

This program was adopted by an Ebert Cabinet meeting, at which were present, besides Ebert, the Ministers Noske, Bauer, Müller, Koch, David and Bond, Herr Heckman for Würtemberg, Herren Gesswurth and Ruckert for Baden and Heinrich for Hesse, as well as Herr Fehrenbach, President of the National Assembly.

The Cabinet heard General Merker, who came with proposals from von Kapp. Then it removed Merker from his command, refusing to treat with the Berlin usurpers, and declared the program on which it would go before the Assembly.

Conjecture as to Spartacide Action.

In some quarters there is fear that the Spartacides will make a coup in Germany. This fear is not shared by the French Foreign Office. It is admitted, however, that much depends on whether the workers obey the order from Ebert to go back to work, as they obeyed his order to strike. The error of reasoning that, since the strike is so important a factor in the German situation, the Spartacides can get control lies in supposing that all the men who struck are Spartacides. Last April this was proved to be false. The Spartacides called a general strike for political purposes, but the workers did not respond in mass.

So far as the accomplishments of the Spartacides go, it appears that they are strongest in Cassel and Bremen, long known as pro-Bolshevist. They have proclaimed a Government in the suburbs of Berlin, where the workers live, but no information is forthcoming that they have made great headway in the capital proper.

At Essen the Workers' Council has proclaimed itself in control. This council is trying to effect the Sovietization of Western Germany.

At Chemnitz a Committee of Action, composed of ten Communists, eight Independents, four Majority Socialists and one Democrat has been formed.

After Spartacide demonstrations in Dresden General Müller assumed command of all the troops, and, announcing that he was against both militarist and Spartacides, ordered all the strikers to go back to work.

FALSE STORIES CIRCULATED

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, March 16.—It now looks as if the old Government would emerge from the present difficulties without loosing its face and return to Berlin within forty-eight hours. Generals Hindenburg, Gröner and Märker are hard at work to arrange a peaceful settlement between the two contesting parties. General Märker who went to Stuttgart by auto on Sunday is expected back in Berlin tonight by airplane.

Gröner has been in conference with Hindenburg all day. This evening he received the Editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung whom he told he did not consider Kapp and Lüttwitz possessed the political ability for the places they assumed. Gröner did not say he was also stating Hindenburg's opinion. The interview remained unpublished but was forwarded to Berlin by telephone for political reasons.

The authorities admit that various shooting affrays yesterday resulted in about fifty deaths all over Berlin. On the Potsdamerplatz where the mob attacked Kapp's military band playing "Fridericus Rex" about a dozen persons were shot dead by soldiers and many were wounded. Many clashes took place throughout yesterday and this morning great crowds again gathered before which the police were compelled to withdraw while the soldiers still held the adjoining street corners.

The masses seem in a livlier mood than yesterday. There were frequent street fights and isolated firing. The worst clashes between the new authorities and the people are reported in Kiel, Dresden, Leipsig and other places. In Dresden about sixty persons were killed battling for possession of the telegraph office. The famous Leipzig Fair was seriously disturbed by deaperate looters who robbed the merchants' booths and killed some foreign visitors.

All yesterday men were noticed in the Berlin streets telling the people with affected sympathy it was no use objecting to the new rulers. If they loved their own people they should go home and work and submit to the unalterable change in the Government because England and America had already expressed willingness to recognize it. There is no evidence the Kapp Government itself was responsible for the assertion, but the fact that the Lokal-Anzeiger makes similar allusions in its bulletins proves that overseas readers are misrepresenting the real state of affairs.

Today these same friends of the Kapp Government spread the report that France had declared she would only interfere if it was intended to place one of the Hohenzollerns in power.

The old Government in Stuttgart is now preparing a law for the confiscation of all property of those concerned with the Kapp-Lüttwitz revolution.

Since any attempt to conciliate the Stuttgart Government is impossible, Stresseмann, the leader of the Deutsche Volkspartei, has undertaken to approach the Democratic Party with a view of proposing some compromise acceptable to the old Government, or if that was impossible, to induce the Democrats to join the new Government. THE TIMES correspondent is informed, however, that there is not the slightest chance of the Democratic Party deserting the old Government.

The Government states a few trains with blinded lights reached Berlin during the night. It remains uncertain whether these were trains bringing the garrisons of Potsdam and other neighboring cities to the capital. Energetic efforts are being made to restore the postal service, but still with little result.

Travelers who arrived from Frankfurt-on-Main by auto today tell of horrible events. They state that a Soviet republic was proclaimed there on Saturday by the Communists, who established themselves in the best hotel, the Frankfurter Hof. There have been battles daily ever since, Ebert's Government having as yet been unable to drive the Bolsheviki from certain districts where they established their so-called Government. Frankfort's finest stores were completely looted and destroyed.

STILL A FRIEND, FEISAL SAYS

Won't Let His Syrian Kingship Come Between Him and the Allies.

LONDON, March 16.—Details of the Syrian situation received in London state that Prince Feisal, the newly proclaimed King of Syria, has officially intimated that neither the independence of Syria nor his acceptance of the throne will in any way effect the cordial relations between himself and the Allies. The King has declared himself in favor of an Arab State, comprising Lebanon, Mesopotamia and Palestine, over which he shall have sovereignty. He also favors an indivisible Syria which would not affect the present European administration, and advocates the assistance of British and French advisers, advices received here state.

The latest dispatches show that the situation in Damascus is normal, but elsewhere there are signs of much nationalist activity as the result of the Pan-Syrian Congress, which dissolved after a declaration pledging activity for an independent Syria. The country around Aleppo is much disturbed, and the dispatches say it is indicated that Prince Feisal has not carried the whole population with him.

SPARTACIDES RISE, ATTACK SOLDIERS

a violent agitation in favor of a Soviet republic and an alliance with Soviet Russia, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

During the day a detachment of soldiers passed through the Brunnenstrasse, headed by a band playing "Heil Dir im Siegerkranz." Workmen immediately charged the troops and a skirmish ensued in which a number of men were killed and others wounded, the message adds.

At Spandau sixty-nine persons, nearly all workmen, were reported killed, and the fighting is continuing.

The correspondent reports that big trucks are constantly passing through the streets, loaded down with armed soldiers, who point their guns in the direction of the sidewalks.

A military patrol at Görlitz, Prussian Silesia, having been driven back by a crowd, fired and killed two civilians, according to a dispatch from Berlin under Monday's date.

The Governments of Mecklenburg and Schwerin have signed a declaration that they are ready to retire in order to avoid bloodshed, the dispatch says.

General Watter, Commander of the Reichswehr in the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region, has convened the Workmen's Councils to aid in maintaining order.

Workmen and Troops Fight.

COPENHAGEN, March 17.—Fighting broke out at daybreak in Hagen, Westphalia, between regulars and troops composed of the workmen, in which the regulars were worsted, losing more than thirty killed and seventy wounded, says a dispatch received from that city. The workmen had two killed and several wounded.

A deputation composed of party leaders, headed by the Burgomaster, succeeded in preventing further bloodshed. The regulars surrendered their arms and were taken prisoner.

A report received from Gera, Germany, says the Kapp troops there were defeated and disarmed after sanguinary fighting.

A Berlin dispatch says a Soviet republic has been proclaimed at Eisleben. Fighting is reported at Elberfeld, one of the most important industrial towns of Germany, between troops and Communists, in which the latter were defeated. About 1,000 of the Communists are said to have been driven into the allied occupied territory and disarmed by the British.

A dispatch from Oldenburg says that at Wilhelmshaven all the officers of the garrison whose attitude was "doubtful," namely about 400, were arrested at noon on Tuesday.

Collisions in Brunswick on Tuesday between a crowd and the public security guard resulted in a number of civilians being killed or wounded, according to advices from Brunswick today.

URGES ALLIED UNITY TO FACE GERMAN CHAOS

Deschanel Calls on American and British Paris Correspondents to Foster It.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

PARIS, March 17.—Speaking at a luncheon of the Anglo-American Press Association of Paris today, President Deschanel said that recent events in Germany should promote unity among the Allies, who he predicted would experience many such surprises. He urged the Paris correspondents to work without ceasing to promote the unity of France, England and the United States.

"It is a fine task and worthy of your talents," he said. "It means effectual collaboration in the maintenance of an understanding which is the first and most solid guarantee of world peace."

The President said it was the duty of Paris correspondents to make France better understood in America.

"Lack of sympathy and distrust between the Allies always arises from some misunderstanding," he said. "It is the duty of the press to prevent these misunderstandings. When difficulties arise between our countries it is most often because public opinion has not been sufficiently instructed with regard to modifications of the situation in other States or because it has not taken into consideration those particular interests which in France, England or America may at some moment or other acquire a predominating influence. Gentlemen, apply yourselves to explaining France to your fellow-countrymen. We count on your colleagues in Washington and London to make a similar effort on their part and give us each day the exact picture of the state of opinion in your capitals."

LONDON, March 17.—Sir Auckland Geddes, speaking at the dinner of the English-speaking Union tonight, emphasized the importance of co-operation between Great Britain and the United States in the present international crisis.

He remarked that countries which had been considered the most stable in the world seemed to be threatened with a return to barbarism, and that the only thing that could save them, if that were possible, was the co-operation and sympathy of the two English-speaking nations.

Lady Astor proposed the health of Lady Geddes and referred to the good she could do to both countries by bringing American women in touch with their English sisters.

SEES DEEP SCHEME IN GERMAN COUP

General Maurice Considers Peace with Soviet Russia More Urgent Than Ever.

FEARS MILITARIST PLANS

Bolshevist Menace Paraded in Hope Allies Will Not Insist on Rendering Army Powerless.

By MAJOR GEN. SIR FREDERICK MAURICE.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 17.—I wish I could take the optimistic view which is so general that the German militarists cannot last and that their movement is already failing. These men gave us a great deal of trouble. It would be very dangerous to assume that they have failed because they have not done what they had no intention of doing, namely, bring William II. back from Amerongen.

It is becoming possible to give definite shape to the plans of the militarists. There is no likelihood of an attempt at a monarchist restoration at present that is for the distant future, when the ground has been much more thoroughly prepared.

The Prussian soldiers and bureaucrats who are endeavoring to gain control of the State are well aware that the bulk of the German people are not yet ready to welcome home the ex-Kaiser or any of his sons and quite understand that the Allies will not tolerate restoration of the Hohenzollerns. They probably also are aware that they cannot hope for a reactionary majority in the popularly elected Reichstag. They, therefore, devised a cunning scheme to give them power behind a façade of popular Government.

The two main planks in their policy are the inclusion, in the coming Government of each, Ministers or experts and alternation of the existing Constitution so that the President may be elected by the voting of the people and not by Reichstag. What they desire is to have a Prussian soldier in charge of the Ministry of Defense and a Prussian bureaucrat at the Ministry of the Interior.

The Ebert-Noske Government made itself unpopular with the bourgeoisie because their administration was feeble and ineffective. The Germans began to recall with regret the days when life was arranged "according to plan." The militarists hope to make good if they can put in their experts by so arranging affairs that life in Germany shall be more orderly and comfortable.

As long as the Ebert Government is compelled to remain at Stuttgart, its chances of recovering power are not great. Stuttgart is geographically a bad centre for the direction of a political campaign. When Ebert is able to move his Government to Munich or Dresden the chances of his re-establishing his position may be taken seriously.

Kapp, whether he has resigned or not, has been only a dummy. There is good reason to believe the compromise with Ebert administration was part of the original program of the revolutionaries. In the present condition of affairs we can only watch and wait, but if the compromise which I suggest as probable is reached the Allies will require more statesmanship than they have shown in the past.

Lüttwitz, who is a plain soldier and no statesman, has blurted what is in the minds of the reactionaries. His program is to parry the Bolshevist menace. Within the next three weeks the armed forces of Germany have to be reduced under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles to 200,000 men and thereafter progressively to 100,000 men. Lüttwitz declares that with 100,000 men the eastern frontiers of Germany cannot be defended against the Bolsheviki, and he proposes to ask the Allies to allow him many a larger army for that purpose, just as von der Goltz was allowed by them to keep his troops in East Prussia.

He hopes the policy of permitting Germany to form a barrier against Bolshevism will appeal to the Allies. We have to show him and his friends that he is out in his reckoning. Even the Junkers will not be able to do much mischief if there are not more than 100,000 soldiers throughout the length and breadth of Germany.

At the same time we must do everything possible to destroy the main plank in the junker program. If the Bolshevist armies are demobilized Lüttwitz's appeal to his countrymen to prepare for a new war will have no force. If the Bolsheviki, instead of demobilizing, attack Poland, then it will be difficult to see an end to the calamities of Europe. The Russian situation is the key to most of the great problems, political and economical, of today. The German revolution has made the need for peace with Russia more imperative than ever.

SMUTS WINS A MAJORITY.

Expected to Have a Lead of Four in South African Chamber.

CAPE TOWN, March 17.—The Cape Times says that General Smuts with the Unionists, will have a majority of four in the Chamber, and that it is considered probable that the Labor party will support his economic and financial measures.

Swiss Make French Trade Treaty.

BERNE, March 17.—Conclusion of a new commercial treaty with France is announced by the Swiss Government. By this convention France will allow the exportation of 30,000 tons of coal monthly to Switzerland in exchange for electric energy, watches and embroidery.

BRYAN DECRIES TREATY 'FILIBUSTER'

Demands Ratification and Says Lodge Draft on Article X. Does Not Nullify League.

JOINS FIGHT IN WASHINGTON

Predicts Both Parties Will Have Planks for Strict Dry Enforcement.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—William J. Bryan arrived here today and directed a barrage of words at the White House and the Senate in advocacy of ratification of the Peace Treaty with the Lodge reservations or any other reservations which a majority of the Senate might see fit to adopt.

The appearance of Mr. Bryan in the arena was not as effective in the spectacular sense as had been expected. He did not visit the Senate building and, as far as could be learned, no Senators called upon him at his headquarters in the Lafayette Hotel. Neither did he make a call at the White House in an effort to "put the President right."

His arrival caused little reaction in the Senate Chamber or cloak rooms. Frequent inquiries were heard in the cloak rooms as to "whether Bryan has reached the hill," but none of the Senators had advance information on his plans and as the day wore on his presence in Washington was scarcely a cause of comment among the Senators.

Some of the irreconcilables, who want to see the treaty defeated and have been fearful that President Wilson might lift the ban and permit ratification on the basis of the Lodge program, made inquiries as to what Bryan was doing.

"I hope," said one of the irreconcilable group, "that he makes the President so mad that the White House will stand pat and thus assure the defeat of the treaty."

Mr. Bryan said late in the afternoon that he had made no engagements with Senators and had seen but one, whom he met by accident. He did not know, he said, what his plans would be for tomorrow.

In some quarters the opinion was expressed that the "punch" had been taken out of Mr. Bryan's visit here as far as its effect on Senators was concerned by the announcement which Mr. Bryan had made that there were conditions under which he might be forced to accept the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Bryan stated that he was not seeking the nomination, but this did not end the belief that he has his eye on the place.

Urges Centring on Treaty.

Mr. Bryan, who will celebrate his sixtieth birthday on Friday, appeared to be in condition for a battle of any kind. When he received the newspaper correspondents late in the afternoon he perched on the edge of a table, smiling and affable. He did not seem to be a day over fifty.

While Mr. Bryan discussed many things political, he expressed the belief that attention should be centred upon the treaty situation at this time. Under the pressure of questions he said he believed that both political parties would insert in their platforms plans for the strict enforcement of prohibition; that he was in favor of instructed delegates to the Democratic National Convention, as uninstructed delegates defeate the purpose of the primary law and might result in a boss-controlled convention, as in the old days, and that he would endeavor to get to the San Francisco convention as a delegate from Nebraska.

"Whether I'll get there or not," he said with a smile, "I don't know."

The bitterness which exists between Mr. Bryan and Senator Hitchcock, leader of the minority in the Senate, was emphasized in this connection. Mr. Bryan repeated his assertion that even if he went to the Democratic Convention as a member of a delegation instructed to vote for Hitchcock as a favorite son he would not personally cast such a ballot. He said that he would not attempt to vote in opposition to the will of the people in such an event, but would permit an alternate to cast the vote.

By his expressions here in regard to the Peace Treaty, Mr. Bryan opened the breach between President Wilson and himself to a width that apparently can have no bridging. He would not discuss the President's stand as such or permit any reference to the President in person during the interviews granted, but none could avoid the impression that there an issue lay.

Sees No Nullification.

For the first time Mr. Bryan stated definitely, when questioned by THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent, that he did not believe that ratification of the treaty with the Lodge reservation to Article X. would nullify the effectiveness of America's participation in the League of Nations.

Mr. Bryan advocated a constitutional amendment which would require only a majority vote of the Senate to ratify any treaty.

"I assume," he said, "that Democratic Senators who favor ratification will now support the reservations agreed upon, those having been supported by more than a majority and in most cases by more than two-thirds. What seems to be the most bitterly contested reservation, on Article X., was adopted by 56 to, 26, four more than two to one. If the votes of the thirteen so-called irreconcilables were taken from the fifty-six the vote would be 43 to 26, a majority of 17 of those voting on the proposition.

"Filibustering is not popular in the United States. An end was put to filibustering in the House thirty years ago and the chief criticism directed against the Senate today is against the rules that enable a minority to obstruct progress.

"I have no doubt that the rules of the Senate will be changed at an early date so as to permit a majority to close debate and proceed to a vote.

"Filibustering against the treaty is made possible by the constitutional provision requiring a two-thirds vote. I am sure that the provision is out of date and that the Constitution will soon be changed so as to make it possible for a majority to ratify.

"Besides our duty to the world we have domestic problems that demand attention. Consideration of them ought not to be suspended merely to permit a year's fight over the phraseology of a few reservations."

Mr. Bryan was asked to discuss the Lodge reservation to Article X.

"I do not care," was his reply, "to express an opinion on the wording of the reservation, because I think the right of the Senate to make such reservation as it deems best is more important than the wording."

"In your opinion," was asked, "would the adoption of the reservations, especially concerning Article X., destroy the value of America's participation in the League of Nations?"

"Not at all," replied Mr. Bryan. "The moral value of the League is far superior to the value of any physical force which it contemplates. It provides three ways of promoting peace before the question of resorting to force can arise. First it is provided that there shall elapse nine months for investigation before war. This provision is not at all affected by any reservation and of itself, in my judgment, makes war almost impossible.

"Another provision looks to the reduction of armament, and this not only would relieve the nations of a burden but would be another step toward peace. This is not at all affected by the reservations.

"A third provision abolishes secret treaties which we now know are a constant menace to peace. These three provisions are not affected by any reservations. Article X. may never be called into operation. If we are in the League and can use our moral influence for the establishment of justice the chances are many to one that we can prevent a condition to which Article X. would apply.

"How can we jeopardize all the good provided for in the League of Nations because of the difference of opinion on a few words in a reservation which deals with contingencies while the League itself deals with actualities?"

SENATORS IN DEBATE ON HOOVER'S LETTER

Borah Thinks It a Stronger Indictment of the Treaty Than Any Made by Bitter-Enders.

ROOSEVELT STAND DISPUTED

Lodge Contradicts Senators Who Say Former President Favored League of Nations.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Herbert Hoover's letter to President Wilson, setting forth his views with respect to American participation in the economic and political arrangements of Europe, was the text of debate in the Senate today, in the course of which Senator Borah declared that Mr. Hoover had made a much more sweeping indictment of the Peace Treaty than any irreconcilable Senator.

Mr. Hoover's statement, made today in New York, to the effect that the attitude he took in that letter, written in April, 1918, has since undergone modification, was read into the record along with the letter.

The Hoover letter created the greatest interest, particularly in view of the fact that in some quarters the impression had been fostered that the former Food Administrator was "President Wilson's candidate" for the Democratic nomination. The publication of the letter seemed to dispose of that, some Senators thought.

During the discussion Senators King and McKellar, Democrats, sought to show by reading from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's writings that he was a supporter of President Wilson's League of Nations plan. This brought an emphatic statement from Senator Lodge concerning Mr. Roosevelt's exact position as he stated it to Mr. Lodge less than two weeks before his death. During the argument concerning Mr. Roosevelt's views, his daughter, Alice Roosevelt Longworth sat in the Senate gallery, and her husband, Representative Longworth of Ohio, was an interested listener on the floor.

Mr. Borah observed that "there is no man better fitted to diagnose the situation in Europe than Mr. Hoover," and after reading the paragraph stated he was convinced that since the armistice there had grown up in Europe a policy of dragging the United States into every political and economic question in Europe, and obtaining guarantees and pledges from this Government. He continued:

"This is a deliberate judgment communicated in private to the President of the United States of a man whose business it was to study conditions in Europe and who at that time would certainly have had no other purpose than that of advising his Commander in Chief.

Calls Letter a Prophecy.

"When you read it in the light of what has occurred since in the light of the Adriatic correspondence, in the light of what is taking place now in Europe, it amounts almost to a prophecy."

Mr. Borah then read two more paragraphs in which Mr. Hoover said he felt revolution in Europe was not over, and gave the opinion that the United States should retire from Europe, "lock, stock and barrel."

Of this Mr. Borah said: "If we undertake to deal with the European situation we must, as Mr. Hoover says, be forced to adopt principles at war with our whole theory of government and civilization."

Senator Borah was asked if he had any objections to having Mr. Hoover's statement relative to a modification of his position with respect to American membership on the Reparations Commission inserted in the records.

"No," replied Mr. Borah, "I am glad to take any explanation from any candidate."

Mr. Borah, commenting on Mr. Hoover's statement of today, said he sympathized with Mr. Hoover for not being able to keep his letter secret, and when Mr. Hoover's statement that he knew the White House was not responsible for giving out the letter was read, Mr. Borah said that he could quite agree that the White House probably did not give it out.

"Now turn to another candidate, from Philip Drunk to Philip Sober," continued Mr. Borah. "Mr. Bryan is here today to console those Democrats who have decided to break away from the President and to insist upon ratification of the treaty. I want the country to know Mr. Bryan's view of the situation based on his expert knowledge gained as Secretary of State."

He read from an article in The Commoner for July, 1915, in which Mr. Bryan protested against the United States assuming any responsibility for policing Europe, and stated that if the United States revised its traditional foreign policy it must be content to follow "at the rear of a European procession."

Senator King at this point quoted from writings of Theodore Roosevelt, and declared that Mr. Roosevelt was clearly an advocate of a League of Nations. Senator McKellar supplemented Mr. King's quotations with others.

"I cannot permit to go unanswered statements just made concerning Theodore Roosevelt," said Senator Lodge. "I, therefore, want to say a word concerning his views of this question just before his death.

"On Dec. 21, 1918, I made a speech in the Senate, discussing the Fourteen Points and the League of Nations, then beginning to be talked of in Paris. Colonel Roosevelt wrote an editorial upon that speech, approving and commending it.

"On Jan. 3, 1919, the Friday before his death, he dictated another editorial, which was published after his death, and in which he said that the United States should not become an international meddler.

"There is an absolute condemnation of Article X. as originally drawn, in that editorial, and of the paragraph on the Monroe Doctrine.

"Less than two weeks before his death I spent several hours with Colonel Roosevelt. We were in entire agreement on the subject of the League. The line I have followed and am following here now is the line he would have wished me to follow. I do not say this to try to shift any of the responsibility to his shoulders, for what I do here I do on my own responsibility, but I wanted it made clear that Theodore Roosevelt agreed with those of us who want this thing Americanized."

HOOVER PROTESTS.

Denounces the Making Public of His Memorandum to the President.

Herbert Hoover issued a statement yesterday expressing surprise that his memorandum upon many of the questions then before the Peace Conference, directed to the President on April 11, 1919, had been made public by Government officials without his consent. He was then officially attached to the American Peace Delegation as an adviser. This is his formal statement, sent to the newspapers yesterday from the offices of the American Relief Administration at 115 Broadway:

"I have seen in some of this morning's papers a copy of a memorandum of mine that was prepared in the course of the Peace Conference on the subject of our participation in the large number of international commissions set up in Europe. As to the views expressed in the memorandum, they were later on modified as to the particular of our having a representative on the Reparation Commission itself because of the large economic control finally given to it over a great part of Europe and the complete necessity for the United States to be represented thereon at once in order to protect American interests.

"Regardless of any personal point of view in this matter, there is to me nothing that is such a breach of good taste or the very foundations of relations among Government officials as for them to issue to the press correspondence that may have passed between them and their superiors in the courses of their service without approval on both sides. I am informed it was not issued from the White House. It is scarcely necessary for me to say that it was not released by me and that a searching inquiry in my own office satisfies me that it has not come from my staff."

Officials at 115 Broadway and Mr. Hoover's Secretary said he was too busy to answer the questions of newspaper men and that the statement would not be amplified in any way.

LOWDEN CAPTURES VIRGINIA DELEGATES

Republican Convention Instructs Delegation at Large to Support Illinois Governor.

VICTORY AFTER HARD FIGHT

Hays Tells Republicans the Party and the South Each Needs the Other.

ROANOKE, Va., March 17.—In one of the stormiest scenes that ever attended a political gathering in the State, Virginia Republicans in convention here tonight elected four delegates at large and four alternates to the national convention in Chicago, and instructed them to support Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois for the Presidential nomination. The opposition fought for uninstructed delegates.

Support of Henry W. Anderson of Richmond for Vice President also was instructed, the delegation receiving the instructions for both men by a vote of 314 to 194.

A motion, which started the fight, was offered by Representative C. Bascom Slemp, asking for instructions in favor of Lowden. A storm of protest immediately followed.

R. S. Roop of Christianburg said he attended the national convention in 1908 as an instructed delegate and he "knew of the evils of being pledged for a man who has not the following of the people."

Delegate Lou W. Summers of Abingdon exclaimed:

"I rise to say that the men in this convention who are advocating an uninstructed delegation are jingling Wood money in their breeches at this moment."

Before the convention got into the thick of the fight Will H. Hays, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, addressed the delegates, saying, among other things:

"We have heard it suggested that the South needs the Republican Party," Mr. Hays said. "This is true, but I say that the Republican Party needs the South, that we may fulfill our avowed purpose and function in our faithful performance as a real national party. I believe that the business men are coming over to the Republican Party because of the failure of the present Administration, and because they want some of the burdens lifted from their shoulders."

Mr. Hays bitterly criticised President Wilson's administration, declaring the President had "a one-track mind and a sidetrack Cabinet."

Outlining the principal things for which his party stands, Mr. Hays said in part:

"I suggest that, above all things, the Republican party stands first for honest, efficient, and economical business administration of the country's affairs.

"I suggest the Republican party stands for the development and execution of a plan for the reduction of taxes, with the repeal of taxes, which kill initiative, and the spreading of war debt over a large number of years.

"I believe there shall be developed a better relation between labor and capital, with justice to both and with justice to the public, the third side of the triangle, which must not be forgotten."

HOOVER MEN AFTER WEST.

Will Campaign for Republican Support in Middle Western States.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Plans to organize a campaign in Middle Western States for Herbert Hoover for the Republican Presidential nomination were made today by representatives from eleven States, who attended a meeting at the invitation of Ralph Arnold, a California mining engineer, who started the California Hoover campaign.

Headquarters for Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas would be opened in Chicago soon, Mr. Arnold said.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—Ralph Merritt presented his resignation today as Secretary of the Board of Regents of the University of California and Controller of the University, so that he would be free to take part in the Republican campaign to nominate Herbert Hoover. Merritt, who was Federal food administrator for California and for three years an associate of Hoover, will direct the campaign of the Hoover Republican Club in California.

TO BOOM HOOVER IN OHIO.

Republicans There Would Join with National Campaign.

F. D. Leslie, Chairman of the Hoover Club of Cleveland, discussed last night with members of the Hoover National Republican Club at headquarters in the Hotel Vanderbilt plans for a campaign in Ohio to nominate Herbert Hoover for President at the Republican Convention. The Cleveland Chairman came here to identify the Ohio movement with the national Hoover organization by the Communists in the best hotel launched here last week.

With headquarters in the Cuyahoga Building, the Cleveland Hoover Club, Mr. Leslie said, was started as an independent movement. He said that "the matured councils of the various groups have arrived at the conclusion that the Hoover movement should be in the name of the Republicans, bearing a Republican title. John W. Pearson, Secretary of the Cleveland club, has called a meeting of Hoover backers in Northern Ohio tomorrow.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—Announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Gay, Secretary of State Bailey said today that he would advocate modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.

HELD AS COAT SLASHER.

Accessory Supply Agent Arrested on Stenographer's Complaint.

A man who said he was Harry Nell, an accessory supply agent at 1,639 Broadway, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the complaint of Miss Sarah Forkas, a stenographer, of 940 Kelly Street, Bronx. She said a man who had followed her into the store at 21 Malden Lane had placed his hand on her back and that when she attempted to seize his wrist she found that her coat had been slashed. She pursued her alleged assailant, she said, and Detective Thomas Hughes, seeing the chase, arrested Nell.

Nell declared his arrest was due to mistaken identity and denied being in the store. Nell was held in $1,000 bail on a technical charge of disorderly conduct by Magistrate Corrigan in the Tombs Court. The Magistrate directed the detective to have employes of the store in court today. Magistrate Corrigan said Miss Forkas's identification alone was not sufficient to maintain the charge.

Two Hurt in Bronx Auto Smash.

Joseph Schwarzler of 4,001 Park Avenue and Charles Canfield of 3,065 Webster Avenue, both builders in the Bronx, were taken to Fordham Hospital last night in a critical condition after an automobile, of which they were the only occupants and which is believed to belong to Schwarzler, struck a telegraph pole on Webster Avenue at 222d Street, opposite Woodlawn Cemetery. The police did not learn how the accident occurred as no one saw it.

on guard. Behind this main gateway, at a distance of 120 yards, is another gate, barring the inner driveway to the draw. Still further on, where the road bends at yet another gate, there is also a guard. Then turning to the right a driveway leads to the terrace on which the castle stands. Police patrol this terrace.

At the rear of the castle is a garden, then a moat and then a private pathway on the dike, which is constantly patrolled. Beyond the dike is a meadowland crossed by ditches and hedges. In the meadow are patrols, who are particularly warned to guard against the landing of airplanes there.

Considerable excitement was caused here on Sunday by an attempt by a mysterious German woman to visit the former Emperor. She appeared at the gate of the castle, but admittance was denied her, and later had a conversation with the steward, leaving a bouquet for Count Hohenzollern.

There were rumors that her name was Kapp, which is the name of the Chancellor who seized power in Berlin, but there is no confirmation of this report.

The former Emperor is still engaged in sawing wood, and has not been permitted to leave the castle, even for a visit at Doorn, since Saturday.

His nervousness continues as he follows the news of the varying fortunes of the Kapp adventure. He sits most of the time in an odd posure on chairs in his apartment—straddling each chair and grasping its back and rocking it to and fro.

Torpedo Boat Leaves Wieringen.

WIERINGEN, March 17 (Associated Press).—The Dutch torpedo boat which arrived here Monday, presumably to guard former Crown Prince Frederick William, departed today by order of the Dutch Government.

Frederick William, who is thoroughly informed of the progress of events in Germany, is greatly interested, but seems not to be perturbed by the falling of the Kapp régime's fortunes. Today he boxed with the son of Burgomaster Perebcom, who was a good match for him, but much younger.

No special guards have arrived here, and the former Crown Prince is quite free to move about the island. He reiterates that he would like to return to Germany some time, but not under present circumstances.

EBERT APPEALED TO POWERS.

Asked Them to Ignore Kapp Regime When He Left Berlin.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Ebert Government, on its withdrawal from Berlin, requested all countries to withhold recognition of the régime in control at Berlin, according to advices from that city to the State Department today.

The statement accompanying the request said that the Ebert leaders left Berlin to avoid bloodshed. The announcement is said to have been distributed by airplanes.

Woman's Heels

The Peacock, it has been said, is ashamed of his feet.

There is an old saying that if you would know whether a woman is smartly dressed, look at her heels.

If the shoe cobblers of the United States were organized and articulate, what opportunity for educating the public into having its runover heels and worn shoe soles cobbled into their pristine glory.

There are 56,000 shoe menders in our country. A "chip in" of $10.00 apiece per annum would give a fund which, spent in good advertising, would direct public attention to its heels.

If the public were made to think about shoe mending, the aggregate increase in shoe tapping would make each sustaining member much profit on his ten.

There is no national cobblers' association, but corporate "big business" is an association of many men and many small sums of money.

Big business is learning to inculcate by advertising, the consciousness of wants.

The results are so profitable as to be sometimes enviously called profiteering.

SENATE DEFEATS LENROOT PROPOSAL

over Egypt was merely a war measure intended to preserve the integrity of Egypt during the war, and amended by Senators Thomas and Shields to include recognition of the "Irish Republic," and of the claims of Korea to independence from Japan.

After a period of debate, in which Senators differed radically over Irish independence, Senator Kellogg brought matters to a head by saying:

"This is all nonsense. Senators are trying to make the Senate ridiculous. It is time we ceased such tactics. We have no business interferring with the affairs of other nations in this way, and the proposal of Senator King to amend this reservation by including the Philippines, Porto Rico and Hawaii is an evidence of how ridiculous the other proposals are. I move to lay the reservation on the table."

Senators hastened to support this motion, for there was somewhat general unwillingness to go on record directly on the question of Irish independence. The Owen reservation, with all its amendments, was tabled by a vote of 54 to 21.

The roll call resulted:

Senators Reed and Borah then prepared a substitute, in which the support of Senators to the principle of self-determination enunciated by President Wilson was sought, without mentioning any names. This also was tabled by vote of 47 to 21.

A reservation by Senator Norris, declaring that the United States expected Egypt to be released from the British protectorate as soon as the American notice of ratification of the treaty was deposited in Paris, was defeated, 15 to 51.

Senator Owen then offered a reservation stating that the United States understood that the allied nations would adhere to and be guided by the principles set forth by President Wilson in his letter of Nov. 5, 1918, upon which the terms of the armistice were based. This was even more overwhelmingly rejected, getting but 12 votes to 55 against it.

Gerry Has New Draft on Ireland.

Senator Gerry, of Rhode Island, reverted to self-determination later by presenting a reservation which is to be discussed and voted upon tomorrow. It provides that "in consenting to the ratification of the treaty with Germany the United States adheres to the principle of self-determination and to the resolution of sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a Government of their own choice adopted by the Senate June 6, 1919," and declares that "when self-government is attained by Ireland, a consummation which it is hoped is at hand, it should promptly be admitted as a member of the League of Nations."

Senators were at some pains to explain that they did not wish to appear unsympathetic toward Ireland's claims to independence, but that as the treaty was silent upon the Irish question they felt that it would be presumption on the part of the Senate to make a declaration in a resolution ratifying the treaty concerning a matter which relates intimately to another nation and does not concern directly the United States. The same view was held as to Korea, though not so much emphasized.

It seemed extremely unlikely, as a result of today's voting, that Mr. Gerry's resolution would be adopted.

The Senate now has only a few reservations to dispose of. Under the limitation of debate they may all be cleared away in a few hours tomorrow. They include a provision by Senator Knox to the effect that the prior consent of Congress must be obtained to any pledge of the credit of the United States in connection with any enterprise under the jurisdiction of the League of Nations, two by Senator Reed to eliminate every vestige of obligation on the part of the United States and in effect to nullify completely any ratification, one by Senator Gore to prevent any power having a mandate over territory from monopolizing the natural resources of that territory, and several substitutes for the Lodge reservation on Article X.

In this connection Senator Simmons of North Carolina made a final effort late in the day to enlist Democratic support for ratification. He presented a substitute reservation on Article X., which, it is said, differs from the one adopted by the Senate only in the grouping of words.

With the final vote now in sight, Senators who for one reason or another do not want the treaty ratified, said there was no doubt that enough Senators would remain firm against the Lodge program to send the treaty to defeat on Friday.

A worker for ratification, former Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, told friends today that his survey of the situation in the last few hours had convinced him the treaty was dead.

PLAN TO END SENATE FIGHT.

George A. Miller Would Separate Treaty and League Covenant.

Separation of the League of Nations covenant and the treaty has been suggested to the Administration at Washington by George A. Miller, a Democrat of this city, as a means of straightening out the treaty tangle. In a letter to Secretary Tumulty, Mr. Miller, who is a former Shipping Board official, outlines his plan, which he has also submitted in person to Democratic leaders in the Senate.

Mr. Miller's proposal, which, he said, had been favorably commented upon in Washington, is: First, to withdraw the treaty in its present form until after the election or immediately after the new President has taken office; second, to arrange a treaty with Germany which shall be synchronized as nearly as possible with the present terms of the League of Nations; third, to "keep the faith with France, either in a formal compact, or at least to all spiritual and practical purposes."

"All of this will be made clear to the people in the President's proclamation withdrawing the League of Nations treaty and proclaiming the necessity of an immediate treaty with Germany and the compact with France," says Mr. Miller in his letter to Secretary Tumulty. "If these negotiations are consummated successfully, here would be the attitude of the President and the Democratic Party before the nation: There is but one League of Nations and that the League proposed and fathered by the President of the United States and now in actual operation at Versailles, France."

ing upon the ruins of the ancient Turkish Empire a new Turkey. In short, it is the duty of every person to obey orders issuing from the Sultan.

Fifth—Certain persons implicated in threats, of which more will be told later, have been arrested in Constantinople. They naturally will be held responsible for these acts and for the consequent results.

The French this evening are patrolling Stamboul with Senegalese troops. The British are guarding Pera, the suburb northwest of the Golden Horn, while the Italians are guarding Scutari, the portion of Constantinople on the Asiatic side of the Bosporus.

The Allies are declared to believe their measures have provided amply for the maintenance of security and order in Constantinople, and consider it questionable whether even the so-called Nationalist forces in Anatolia are in a position to attempt anything serious.

The Cabinet met late this evening. Its resignation is expected.

Bonar Law Tells Allied Plans.

LONDON, March 17.—Andrew Bonar Law announced in the House of Commons today that Constantinople had been occupied by allied troops as proposed, and that at only one point was there fighting. Two British soldiers were reported killed and one officer and three men wounded. One Turkish officer and eight Turks were killed and others were wounded.

Mr. Bonar Law said that at the same time the Turkish Government had been warned that the occupation of Constantinople would continue until the terms of the Peace Treaty were duly executed, and, further, if outrages against native Christians continued, the terms would be more severe.

For reasons previously indicated it was decided that the Government, in conjunction with its Allies, should proceed with the occupation of Constantinople. The general administration of that city would not be taken over, but the Ministries of War and Marine would be occupied, the postal and telegraph services and navigation of the Bosporus placed under control and the police put under allied officers.

NITTI AND COLLEAGUES FRAME THEIR PROGRAM

Hold Daily Sessions to Determine the Course of the New Government.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, March 17.—The new Nitti Cabinet is holding daily council to discuss the program which the Government will submit to Parliament. The Ministry has been especially strengthened by the accession of ex-Premier Luzzatti, who has concluded for Italy more than thirty commercial treaties.

Since the sad days of Caporetto no Italian Cabinet has found itself confronted with such responsibilities as those facing Signor Nitti and his colleagues today.

Almost all the parties agree that what Italy most needs is greater security for her frontiers, so that she may reduce her army and navy to the lowest peace footing, whereas they now entail an expense which is simply ruinous.

ALLIES ARE ANXIOUS TO HEAR FROM WILSON

Plans for Turkey Reduce the Empire to Little Corner of Asia Minor.

By EDWIN L. JAMES.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 17.—General Franchet d'Esperey of the French Army is in command of all the allied forces in Turkey, and thus the British General, Sir George F. Milne, who is in active command at Constantinople, is at least theoretically under his control.

For the purpose of maintaining order the Turkish capital has been for sixteen months occupied by French troops. This was military occupation. The new occupation partakes more of a political character, for while its purpose is to persuade the Turkish Government that it cannot countenance further massacres, it is also intended to put the Allies in a position to enforce the terms of the Peace Treaty which is being prepared.

There is the greatest interest here in the forthcoming note from President Wilson on the proposed features of the Turkish treaty. It is presumed that the President will oppose the maintenance of the Sultan in Constantinople, which is favored by the recent allied decision. But the interest of allied diplomats in that phase by no means limits their interest in Mr. Wilson's views on Turkey. I will try to explain why.

The plans of the Allies reduce by about 85 per cent. the former size of the Turkish Empire by slicing off portions which are to be assigned to European powers as protectorates and zones of influence and to new States.

Before the war Turkish sovereignty extended from Thrace to the Black Sea and the Caucasus on the north and south to the Arabian Sea. If claims of the different allies are satisfied there will be left to the Turks the northern two-thirds of Anatolia and no more.

The Greeks claim a slice off the western end of Anatolia extending on both sides of Smyrna, which they now hold, and in addition they are to get Eastern Thrace. The Italians want the southern coast of Anatolia running from the Greek holdings on the west eastward to the Gulf of Alexandretta. Their claims would slice off about one-third of Anatolia on the south. The rest of Anatolia is eastward to a north and south line from Samsun to the Gulf of Alexandretta would be left to the Turks.

To the east of this line lies independent Armenia, with Erzeroum its capital, and north of it the independent Republic of Georgia, with Tiflis as its capital. Just north of Mesopotamia, with Mosul as the capital, lies the proposed independent Khurdistan.

A slice from the Gulf of Alexandretta south to Tripoli and running eastward to Mesopotamia marks the French Cilician zone of influence, while Syria from Tripoli on the north to Acre on the south and running eastward is under direct French influence. Palestine is under English influence directly, while the Kingdom of Hedjaz, embracing Arabia down to the sea, is under indirect English influence, at least theoretically.

Technically, the Italian zone in Anatolia and the French zone of influence in Cilicia remain under Turkish suzerainty.

By tracing these divisions on the map it can be easily seen what remains of Turkey—a little corner of Eastern Asia Minor. Mr. Polk has given the Allies to understand, it is reported, that the American Government favors dealing drastically with the Turks. Whether his ideas of drastic treatment correspond with the Allies' plans for partitioning Turkey is something they are much interested in.

—ARGUING THAT QUALITY SHOULD EXCEED THE PRICE, THESE FRANKLIN SIMON & CO. FROCKS ARE NO EXCEPTION TO THE RULE

THE vogue for taffeta which is the particular whim of Paris at this moment, expresses itself charmingly in these Easter and Springtime frocks for the Girl and Junior Miss. Franklin Simon & Co. offer these dresses with a threefold faith:—faith in the soft wearable quality of the taffeta, faith in the perfection of workmanship which is an inseparable characteristic of all Franklin Simon & Co. creations, and faith in the price. For their intrinsic worth cannot possibly be paid for by the price—they can merely be bought for it.

Trimmed with tiny ruffles, wool embroidery, narrow velvet ribbon, or Georgette crepe.

SIXTY-NINTH LEADS ST. PATRICK PARADE

Governor, Mayor, Archbishop and De Valera Review the Marchers in Fifth Avenue.

BEST EVER, SAYS PRELATE

Sinn Fein Banners Replace Old Flags of Green with Harp in Procession.

'Twas the saint's birthday to be sure, but in the churches, in the big parade and at the dinners last night there was no mistaking that St. Patrick had rivals. Eamonn de Valera, the first "President" ever to review a St. Patrick's Day parade, and the "Irish Republic" certainly got their share of shamrocks from the Hill of Howth and their quota of cheers from what appeared to be the biggest turnout since the city had a St. Patrick's Day.

And was it any wonder that the biggest crowd was there? Think, now, of Mayor Hylan and the Board of Aldermen giving all the city employes a half day with pay to see the parade! Think again of having a "President" sitting in the grandstand and beaming as the boys marched by! And think of the Sinn Fein Dail Eirean, which would be in session now only they aren't allowed to—why, it was enough to make a Turk buy a bit of green and go out to celebrate.

Only an Orangeman would dare estimate the number of Irish men and women and children who were in the parade that swung up Fifth Avenue from Forty-seventh to 120th Street. But anybody would be safe in saying that there wasn't an unoccupied inch on the sidewalk of the line of march, and the Sinn Fein colors of orange, white and green were strongly in evidence.

Calls It Best Ever Held.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock Archbishop Hayes, Governor Smith, Mayor Hylan and Dr. de Valera climbed into the small reviewing stand in front of St. Patrick's Cathedral, and just as promptly the head of the parade moved off from Forty-seventh Street. At 5 o'clock, when the last of the marchers filed by, Archbishop Hayes declared it to have been "the biggest and best St. Patrick's Day parade ever held in this city." The Governor and Mayor agreed with him, while Dr. de Valera said the sight had thrilled him.

The first section of the parade was headed by the 69th Infantry, N. Y. G., followed by detachments of the old 69th, the 165th Infantry of Rainbow Division fame. For the veterans of the A. E. F. it was the first St. Patrick's Day parade in several years, and they got a hearty greeting along the entire route. Back of the olive drab came the boys from Father Powers's All Saints' Church in Harlem, wearing Gaelic costumes of the ancient Irish clans. Then were the All Hallows' boys, the cadets from Cason Point Military Academy, the lads from St. Francis Xavier High School, the Francis de Sales cadets and a big force of the United American War Veterans.

Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan then came along, setting a precedent for Grand Marshals. He was riding in an automobile alone and there was no prancing, cavorting Grand Marshal's steed anywhere in sight. Next were fifty battalions of various Irish-American civic societies, some from New Jersey and Connecticut and a few from Philadelphia. And for the first time in a St. Patrick's parade there appeared a large delegation of the Protestant Friends of Irish Freedom. They and their banner about Dean Swift and Charles Stewart Parnell received much applause. Back of them were the Irish county organizations—Mayo, Cork, Kerry, Sligo, Kildare, Limerick and Tipperary.

Old Flag with Harp Missing.

Right at this point it became evident that the old Irish flag of green with the harp on it was spending the day in the country, for rank after rank went by with only the Sinn Fein banners and bannerlets appearing. That was a novelty in itself, but—whisht! Some lads from an as yet undiscovered county of Ireland were coming along. Hindus! A flock of them! "Friends of Freedom for India" their banner read, and each of them wore a turban of green, red and yellow; that is, all but the leader. He was wearing a regulation emerald green one.

As if surprised by the sight of the strangers, a green lamppost that had stood at Forty-ninth Street and Fifth Avenue through many parades, fell into the avenue just after the Indians passed. Policeman Orville Wanzer of the East Fifty-first Street Station, who saw the post toppling, got spectators back in time to prevent any one from being hurt. The paraders themselves were hugging the east side of the avenue preparing to pass in review and so they were out of range of the post.

As usual, the parade was dotted with inscribed banners, but they were not so bitterly anti-British as in other years. One of them read: "Every true American is a true Sinn Feiner."

Before the parade the reviewing officers attended pontifical mass in the Cathedral, the celebrant being Archbishop Hayes. About 4,000 persons were there, including the 69th Infantry and veterans of the 165th. The eulogy was delivered by Father Francis P. Duffy, the fighting chaplain of the 165th. He made a strong plea for Irish freedom, telling of the part Irishmen had played in the war that brought freedom to so many other small nations. Earlier, Justice Cohalan, Bourke Cockran and others attended a solemn high pontifical mass in the Church of St. Jean the Baptist, Lexington Avenue and Seventy-sixth Street, where the celebrant was Archbishop Pierre Rey of Tokio.

What Happened in Brooklyn.

That's what Manhattan did during the day, and as for Brooklyn—well, they closed all the courts, sent a big delegation over to Fifth Avenue, and they solved the problem of the stuffed monkey in Mrs. Sarah Reil's "Rose Glow" tea room at 2,107 Cortelyou Road, Flatbush. The stuffed monkey may not sound like much, but it certainly did rouse the ire of some of Mrs. Reil's neighbors of Irish extraction.

Two days ago, on the very eve of St. Patrick's Day you might say, the monkey appeared in the window. It wore a green coat and—here's the trick—an orange hat. Murmurs and mutterings, grumblings and growlings, and finally Mrs. Reil was asked to remove the offensive costume—either let the beast go back to Eden or put something else on it. She refused. Yesterday a man walked into the tea shop. He offered to buy the monkey. He said he was Irish. He uttered both sentences in one tone: it had T N T in it. Mrs. Reil said she'd sell for $7. A second later the man walked out of the tea shop. He had the monkey under his arm; he was smiling happily; the orange hat was tied to the monkey's feet; peace settled over Flatbush.

DE VALERA ON IRELAND.

"President," Limited to Five Minutes, Speaks, Watch in Hand.

With his watch in his hand, "President" de Valera spoke last night at the eighth annual dinner of the St. Patrick's Society of Queens at the Hotel Biltmore. He had about five minutes in which to explain Ireland's cause, having so many other dinners to attend, so he looked at his timepiece every thirty seconds, so as not to be late for his next engagement. In the short time he was able to say that people who are sympathetic with the present rule in Ireland sympathize with a rule of might instead of one of right. For this he received rousing cheers.

Another speaker was State Senator Loring Black, who devoted most of his speech to an attack on prohibitionists and the Bolsheviki.

FRIENDLY SONS CELEBRATE.

Their 146th Annual Dinner Is a Lively Affair.

The 146th annual dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick was held in the Hotel Astor last night, and many of the 1,000 who attended declared that the Eighteenth Amendment would not go into effect among Irishmen until this morning. It was a spirited dinner.

One of the speakers was Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, who said: "Justice is not so sure in this country as we would have it. Public administration manifests abuses of waste and favoritism which we condemn and which we would cure, but who would change conditions at their worst anywhere in America for the theory of Karl Marx as applied in Russian by the dictator, Nicholas Lenin?

"Those who would blithely overturn the system which the generations have worked out, would do well to think upon the cost before they abandon our society, imperfect though it be, for government by one class or another. Revolution is the last weapon to which an oppressed people may have recourse when they can find no other means by which to win justice and liberty. At home we will not submit to the Bourbon or the Bolshevik. Abroad we seek no conquests for ourselves and we shall guarantee none to others."

Other speakers were Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, President of the society, and Eamonn de Valera, of the unrecognized Irish Republic. Governor Smith was a guest.

BROOKLYN SOCIETY DINES.

Governor Speaker at St. Patrick's Day Dinner at Waldorf.

The St. Patrick Society of Brooklyn celebrated St. Patrick's Day at the Waldorf last night at their seventy-first annual dinner. Harry T. Woods, the President, was toastmaster. The speakers were Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mgr. David J. Hickey, Congressman John B. Johnston, David A. Boody, Arthur J. W. Hilly and W. A. Kouwenhoven.

The Governor was cheered when he said that the history of Ireland had shown that no nation was more entitled to self-determination. "It is the most wonderful characteristic of the Irish people," he said, "that after centuries of oppression their love of freedom is greater than ever. We have heard a lot lately about self-determination. Let every one be without racial feeling and he will realise that Ireland should be allowed to take her place among nations."

UPSET LARGER NAVY PLANS.

Canadian Caucus Decides Against Proposed Program for This Year.

OTTAWA, Ontario, March 17.—Proposals for a Canadian naval building program, submitted to a caucus of the Government forces last night, met with such disfavor that the success of any naval program this year is considered improbable. The majority held there was no emergency, and that the empire's supremacy in Europe could not be challenged for a generation.

The chief objection was that the electorate was aligning on the issue of free trade and protection, and that there was not available sufficient information of the naval requirements in the Pacific.

PARIS, March 17.—Dissident Socialists, who were read out of the unified Socialist Party at the recent congress at Strasbourg, formed a new party at a meeting held here Monday night.

The new organization welcomes adherents, refusing only those Socialists who desire to enter into relations with the Russian Bolsheviki. This gives France three Socialist parties—the Majority, Minority and Dissidents.

MOSCOW APATHETIC TO LEAGUE PLAN

Soviet President Says No Particular Importance Is Attached to Mission's Visit.

RECIPROCITY IS DEMANDED

Bolsheviki Want Right to Send Commissions Also Into Other Countries, Kameneff Says.

MOSCOW, March 11 (Associated Press).—The approaching visit of the Commission of the League of Nations to Soviet Russia is arousing little interest and discussion here. Russia has no confidence in the league, according to the Soviet leaders. Leo Kameneff, President of the Moscow Soviet, discussing the League of Nations, said today:

"The league has capitulated. It has lost its original significance. It contains vital principles applicable to the new organization of society, and it is created in the interest of the old imperialism."

Referring to the projected visit of the League Commission, Kameneff had this to say:

"We attach no particular importance to the matter. The bona fide commissions of other countries desiring to make an impartial investigation will be welcome. We will make no special preparations and will arrange no fêtes for the League Commission, but we shall afford facilities to see everything. We ask the same right, however, to send our commissions to other countries."

Ekaterinodar Abandoned and Bolsheviki to Occupy It Today.

LONDON, March 17.—A War Office communication issued this evening announces that the Russian Bolsheviki have issued a proclamation stating that it is their intention to occupy Ekaterinodar, province of Kuban, Thursday.

The communication adds that General Denikin, the anti-Bolshevist leader in Southern Russia, has left Ekaterinodar, that the women and children have evacuated the town and that the British Mission has gone to Novorossisk, sixty miles from Ekaterinodar on the Black Sea.

SOVIET THREAT TO POLAND.

Demand That Warsaw Recall Troops from Line Won in Southwest.

WARSAW, March 16 (Associated Press).—Polish authorities are urged in a third peace note of the Russian Soviet Government to cease military action in the Ukraine, the Bolsheviki threatening to concentrate their forces against Poland if the latter does not recall its troops from their position in Southwestern Russia. The Soviet note, which was signed by M. Tchitcherin, requested an immediate answer.

Belief is expressed here the note was inspired by fears in Moscow of a spread of a counter-revolution in the Ukraine and Southern Russia.

NOSKE SAYS HE CAN CONTROL.

Able to Restore Normal Conditions Soon, He Asserts.

LONDON, March 17.—Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense in the Ebert Government, is confident of his ability to restore normal conditions in Germany within a comparatively brief time, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch quoting an interview with him at Stuttgart.

"Large contingents of imperial defense troops are at our disposal," Noske is quoted as declaring. "I am confident we will succeed in restoring order in Germany within six or eight days."

LETTS AND ESTHS AT ODDS.

Joint Frontier Commission Breaks Off Negotiations.

COPENHAGEN, March 17.—Differences between the Esthonian and Lettish Governments have assumed an extremely grave character, says the Reval correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende. The Joint Frontier Commission has ceased negotiations and the Letts are concentrating troops along the frontier.

The correspondent adds that the British representative has offered to mediate in the controversy and avoid war between the two countries.

LONDON, March 17.—Colonel Malone asked the Government in the House of Commons today whether the supplying of arms and ammunition to Poland by the United States Government had received the approval of the Supreme Council.

Andrew Bonar Law replied that any action which the United States might have seen fit to take in this matter could not suitably form the subject of a question and answer in the House.

RED CROSS RULES ESTHONIA

Has Authority to Take Any Measures to End Plague.

REVAL, Esthonia, March 17.—Two Governments are holding power in Esthonia. One is the regularly constituted executive body of the country and the other is the American Red Cross Commission, under command of Lieut. Col. Edward Ryan of Scranton, Pa. This commission has been vested with authority to take any measures, political or economic, to stamp out the typhus plague raging here.

The Esthonian Government, realizing its inability to cope with the danger of an epidemic, has given the Red Cross authority to put the country under strictest quarantine rules. Travel from one point to another by all persons not provided with a Red Cross permit is forbidden, and no Esthonian living in an infected region can board a train or leave the limits of his home district without permission of the American authorities.

These measures have resulted in the Red Cross gaining control of the situation.

BOLSHEVIST HORRORS IN ODESSA: March CURRENT HISTORY MAGAZINE publishes a vivid, horrifying description of the tragic horrors perpetrated by the Bolsheviki in Odessa, with full details. This is one of forty big features in the March issue; 208 pages; on news stands, 35 cents.—Advt.

PRESIDENT GIVES CAMERA FREE REIN

Moving and Still Pictures Taken for First Time Since He Became Ill.

"LIKE OLD TIMES," HE SAYS

He Looked Fit and Regretted Only That He Had Forgotten to Wear Green.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The first photographs taken of President Wilson since his illness began were obtained this morning by a small army of photographers and "movie" men when the President and Mrs. Wilson and Rear Admiral Gary T. Grayson went for a ride in an open automobile. Four men representing moving picture firms obtained about 100 feet of film each and a dozen still camera men snapped perhaps a total of three dozen views. The films will be shown in motion picture theatres throughout the nation within a day or two.

The President looked pretty fit. He was seated in the tonneau with Mrs. Wilson at his side, and he smiled and raised his cap—an old gray golf cap—in acknowledgment of the persistency of the photographers who dashed about his automobile in a frenzy of activity. Turning to Mrs. Wilson he said:

"This reminds me of old times."

Admiral Grayson, as shown by the film, is occupying one of the folding seats back of the driver. The others in the automobile were the chauffeur and Richard Jervis, Secret Service operative.

The pictures were taken as the automobile left the entrance of the White House grounds opening into West Executive Avenue. The car did not stop, but the driver swung it around slowly, and the camera men, who had been permitted to take their positions in the forbidden stretch of street for the first time since the President returned in September from his tour in behalf of the League of Nations, had an excellent opportunity to obtain satisfactory views.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF PRESIDENT SINCE ILLNESS

Clarence Jackson, one of the photographers, unwittingly added to the success of the occasion. After obtaining his first "shot" he seized his camera and made a mad dash to get in front of the automobile and obtain a second and better view. His movements caused the President to laugh heartily. Jackson, however, got his picture and was happy.

In the little group about the West Executive Avenue gate were three detectives of the local force. Each wore a green cap and one of them a waistcoat of particularly greenish shade. The President remarked with a show of some vexation that he had forgotten to wear a green necktie in honor of the day—St. Patrick's Day. On his return to the White House, an hour and three-quarters later, he found a bouquet of green roses and carnations which had been artificially colored and which as a tribute to St. Patrick left nothing to be desired.

FARMERS ISSUE QUIZ FOR CANDIDATES

Program to Advance Their Interests Goes to All Presidential Aspirants.

DEMAND RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

Farmers Also Want to be Represented on All Boards and Commissions Affecting Them.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Elimination of the middleman, protection of the farmer in his right to organize, appointment of an expert acceptable to organized agriculturists as Secretary of Agriculture, and representation for farmers on all boards and commissions in the membership of which various interests are recognized are the main planks outlined in a questionnaire for Presidential candidates issued today by the National Board of Farm Organizations, according to C. S. Barrett of Union City, Ga., President of the National Farmers' Union.

Other issues presented include the free and unquestioned right of collective buying, reduction of the farm tenancy evil, improvement of farm credit facilities, national conservation and the maintenance of "free speech, free press and free assembly."

The questionnaire is in the form of a letter asking the recipient to send "definite and clear replies" to twelve specific inquiries as to his views.

Among the questions are:

"Will you do your best to bring about such direct dealing between producer and consumer as will secure to the farmers a fair share of the wealth they create, reduce the cost of living to the consumer and limit or destroy the opportunity of the profiteer?

"Will you do all that in you lies to secure to all farmers and consumers the full, free and unquestioned right to organize and to purchase and sell cooperatively?

"Will you see that the farm people of America are represented on general boards and commissions in whose membership various interests are recognized, whether or not the work is directly concerned with agriculture?

"The railroads having been returned to their owners, if at the end of two years of further trial of private ownership the railroads fail to render reasonably satisfactory service to the people, will you then favor opening the railroad question?

"Will you use your best efforts to secure the payment of the war debt chiefly through a highly graduated income tax or, otherwise, by those best able to pay?

"Will you do your best to secure and enforce effective national control over the packers and other great interstate combinations of capital engaged in the manufacture, transportation or distribution of food and other farm products and farmers' supplies?

"Will you respect, and earnestly strive to maintain, the right of free speech, free press and free assembly?"

Another farmers' organization, the Farmers' National Council, through its managing director, George D. Hampton, today announced that this organization, which has made an alliance with the railroad brotherhoods, was ready to join forces with the American Federation of Labor to capture enough Congressional districts to give labor and the farmers the balance of power in the next Congress.

From the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor it was also announced today that local committees which are to conduct organized labor's campaign for "the defeat of its enemies and the election of its friends" will be organized over the country March 22.

Fifteen Years' Service—With Addressograph

Wherever absolute reliability of power is vital, on motor-driven machinery and on motor-equipped appliances for store, office and home, Robbins & Myers Motors have won a high place for their steady, economical, reliable power.

Among the 250 Robbins & Myers Motors which comprise 90% of The Addressograph Company's factory motor equipment are numbered many R & M veterans of service. An example is Motor No. 43539, which has a fifteen-year record of steady service without repairs or breakdowns.

And it is a notable fact that, since the adoption of Robbins & Myers Motors for the Addressograph machines sold to the public, more of these good motors have been used than any other make of motor.

The Robbins & Myers name plate is all you need know about a motor. Look for it when you buy a motor or a motor-equipped device.

ASK LEGISLATURE TO END RAND SCHOOL

Lusk Committee Also Presents Bill Creating State Sedition Bureau.

MAKES ITS FIRST REPORT

Loyalty Test for Teachers and Americanization Instruction in Industrial Plants Recommended.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 17.—Favorable action is insured in the Senate and Assembly on bills introduced today which end the life of the Rand School of Socialism and create in the office of the Attorney General a permanent bureau for investigating and prosecuting cases of criminal anarchy as well as exercising such vigilance as would protect the State against seditious propaganda and activities.

The bills were introduced by Senator Lusk of Cortland, Chairman of the legislative committee which for the last year has been investigating seditious activities in the State, to carry out the recommendations of a preliminary report of the committee, also submitted to the Legislature today. Speaker Sweet of the Assembly and Senator Walters, President pro tem. of the Senate, said the measures would be put through in record time.

Three other bills accompanied the report. One provides that all public school teachers before receiving a license must submit to a loyalty test and give satisfactory proof to the Commissioner of Education that they are in sympathy with the Constitutions of the United States and the State of New York, and with the institutions of the State and nation. This measure, according to the report, was prompted by the discovery that several teachers in public schools who had qualified in educational attainments were affiliated with revolutionary organizations, having for their aim "the overthrow of the Government."

The other bills establish at large industrial plants Americanization classes to give instruction in English, history, civics and other topics that will tend to improve the citizenship of alien and native workmen, as well as promote higher vocational efficiency, and for special courses at the State Normal Schools for the training of teachers for such classes and for Americanization schools in general.

Appropriations of $100,000 for the special bureau in the Attorney General's office and of $40,000 for the new courses at the normal schools are called for.

The report recommends that no repressive measures be enacted at the present session, urging that the enforcement of existing laws in all that is necessary to protect the State against sedition. More rigid enforcement, it is predicted, will be attained through the proposed special bureau, which would practically remove cases of sedition and anarchy from the jurisdiction of District Attorneys.

The bill aimed at the Rand School provides that private schools, courses, classes, except such as are maintained by recognized religious sects or denominations, can be conducted only on a license, the granting of which would be predicated on approval by the Board of Regents. The Rand School has sought in vain approval of the Regents for its courses.

The committee announced that in a final report to be submitted before the end of the session it would recommend a plan for improvement in industrial conditions which it hoped would do away with industrial unrest.

Assemblyman Cuvillier tried unsuccessfully today to reopen the Socialist investigation, withdrawing a resolution seeking such action on request of Speaker Sweet. There is little likelihood of his attempt being taken seriously by the legislative leaders.

The resolution cited that Samuel Orr, one of the suspended Socialist Assemblymen, had made in a speech remarks detrimental to Mitchell A. Trahan of Westchester County, who resigned from the Assembly to get into the army and has been re-elected; that Orr served in the Chemical Division of the army, and that Louis Waldman committed perjury on the witness stand.

The Speaker refused to have the resolution read and on a question of personal privilege Mr. Cuvillier charged that Orr had concealed his service from the Judiciary Committee so he could say, if unseated, that the Assembly had unseated an ex-service man.

Waldman, he charged, who swore during the inquiry that he had been exempted from the draft because of conscientious objections and physical defects, had really been exempted on his claim to being a member of the Assembly.

Speaker Sweet promised that the evidence, which is supposed to be in possession of Attorney General Newton, would be examined, and that if it was proper, the investigation would be reopened.

TO FIGHT INFLUENZA IN AIR.

Hungarian Professor Calls on Meteorologists to Aid in Battle.

BUDAPEST, March 17.—Meteorologists are called upon to fight influenza in an appeal issued through the American Red Cross by Professor Detrusa, head of the medical faculty of Budapest University. He asserts that the influenza germ is the smallest encountered by scientists and, because of its light weight, it is caught up by air currents and carried hundreds of miles to other districts. He thus accounts for the steady and rapid travel of the malady.

Professor Detrusa declares the microbe has a strange property of remaining in air currents close to the earth, and never rising above 2,000 feet. He appeals particularly to meteorologists in America and Europe to organize a system of notifying the world during influenza epidemics of the direction of air currents, so that endangered districts in the supposed path of the microbes may take adequate precautions to prevent infection.

Drive for More Maternity Nurses.

Additional day and night maternity nursing centres are to be established with part of the $1,000,000 fund for which the Visiting Nurse Service is conducting a city-wide campaign this week. The centre now maintained at 234 East Seventy-second Street is taxed to the utmost and, according to Miss Annie Goodrich, director of the nursing bureau of the service, there is need for two more centres, one on the east side and one on the west side.

The Marvelous Playing of RACHMANINOFF

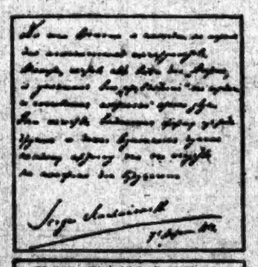
THE significance of the presence here of this great Russian is realized by music lovers, who crowd his concerts wherever they are given. The power and beauty of Rachmaninoff's playing has been the sensation of two brilliant musical seasons. Musical history in New York is made the richer for the presence of so illustrious a personage as Sergei Rachmaninoff.

It is equally significant that so great a man, so consummate an artist, one who so conscientiously and nobly interprets the works of the great composers, should entrust the preservation of his art for future generations to

The AMPICO

Mr. Rachmaninoff did not lightly reach a decision to play exclusively for the Ampico. Conscientious artist that he is, he demanded the utmost exactness in the reproduction of his playing, and he found this quality only in the Ampico, concerning which he writes as follows:

THIS MARVELOUS INSTRUMENT makes it possible for those far distant from the metropolitan centers in which his concerts are given to enjoy the playing of this great pianist, and for future generations of music lovers Rachmaninoff will be equally alive and vital, for the intellectual power, the delicate beauty, the wonderful poetry of his memorable interpretations are preserved for all time in the records he has made for the Ampico and for the Ampico alone.



TRANSLATION OF THE RUSSIAN:
"I have never before consented for any reproducing instrument. Now I have placed my works for the Ampico because of its absolute faithfulness of reproducing and its capacity to preserve immortal those peculiarities. It gives the highest and most interesting pleasure to those psychological which a pianist must demand in considering a perpetuation of his art.
Sergei Rachmaninoff"

THE PLAYING OF CHOPIN, Rubinstein and Liszt comes down to us only in the remembered story of their triumphs. Today it is different. The art of the pianist is made immortal by the Ampico. The spell he weaves will enchant generations of music lovers long after age shall have robbed his fingers of their dexterity or death removed his presence from the concert stage. Realizing this, one fully appreciates what the Ampico means, not only to us, but to those who will come after us in preserving forever the art of the great pianists of today.

You are cordially invited to hear the Ampico

WILSON FAVORITES WIN AT FLOWER SHOW

CARNATION EXHIBITS RULE

Gude Display from Washington Obtains Silver Medal—Governor and Mrs. Smith Visitors.

"Mavehona," the orchid named by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, won a special gold medal yesterday at the Flower Show. It was awarded to the Joseph Manda Company, the growers. It was Carnation Day, and another flower exhibited, in which both President and Mrs. Wilson take an interest, was the Gude carnation, "Democracy," which has won many prizes. The Gude exhibition of red and pink Radience roses, which was received from Washington too late to be shown on Tuesday, won a special silver medal yesterday for its remarkable beauty.

One of the finest collections of roses is that of 1,000 blossoms exhibited by Traend & Schenk of Rowayton, Conn., which won a $500 prize. It was arranged by George Stumpp.

Sumptuous in effect was a bridal table entered by the Vanderbilt Hotel and arranged by A. Kottmiller, containing orange blossoms, with innumerable camelias, lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots.

Contrasting with this exhibit was a small but important display of early vegetables grown at Loretta, Pa., shown by Nathan Ireland, gardener of Charles M. Schwab. It included string beans, beets, cauliflower, carrots, radishes, nice little tomatoes, lettuce and onions.

Many beautiful carnations were shown. Joseph E. Widener captured first prize in the class calling for 150 blooms displayed in a vase. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney was second and W. B. Thompson third in this class.

First prizes in other carnation classes were awarded to Mrs. Payne Whitney, Manhasset, N. Y.; Mrs. A. Schlact, Saugatuck, Conn.; Countess von Holstein, Edge Hill, Pa.; Mrs. Holbrook, Stamford, Conn.; Adolph Lewisohn, Ardsley, N. Y.; G. G. Mason, Tuxedo Park, N. Y., and Walter Jennings, Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y.

Adolph Lewisohn and Mrs. Payne Whitney won first and second prizes, respectively, offered by Max Schling for their unusual displays of flowers in baskets.

Winners of firsts among commercial growers in carnation classes were F. B. Abrams, Blue Point, N. Y.; Gude Brothers Company, Washington; Strouts, Bideford, Me.; Springfield Floral Company, Springfield, N. J.; Curt Thimm, Roslyn, N. Y.; S. Goddard, Framingham, Mass., and H. Schwartz, Central Park, L. I.

It was French Day in the Allied Loyalty League Tea Garden, where Mrs. Leland Cofer was hostess. A delegation of French war veterans were in attendance throughout the day, coming into the palace carrying small American flags that had been donated by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the former President.

Governor and Mrs. Smith arrived at the palace after the Governor had reviewed the St. Patrick's Day parade.

"LIGHTNIN'" BREAKS RECORD

Reaches 658th Performance, Eclipsing Long Run of Hoyt Farce.

The record for unbroken runs of plays on the American stage was broken last night by "Lightnin'," which reached its six hundred and fifty-eighth performance at the Galety Theatre. The first performance of the play here took place Aug. 26, 1918, and since that time the run has been continuous, with the exception of a brief break caused by the actors' strike. Frank Bacon, coauthor of the play and creator of the principal rôle, has played the part during all but two weeks of this time, and was recently elevated to stardom.

The previous long run record in this country, 657 performances, was held for many years by Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown." "Peg o' My Heart" is now third, with 604 performances, and "Adonis" follows with 603.

BARRYMORES TO AID POST.

Head Program for Benefit for S. Rankin Drew, No. 340, April 11.

A benefit performance in aid of the S. Rankin Drew Post, 340, American Legion, will be given at the New Amsterdam Theatre on Sunday night, April 11, with Ethel, John and Lionel Barrymore heading the program. S. Rankin Drew, son of the late Sidney Drew and nephew of John Drew, was the first actor killed in the war, and the post which bears his name has a membership of about 300, all recruited from the amusement interests.

The performance, which was suggested by Ethel Barrymore, will be under the direction of R. H. Burnside. The funds raised will be put toward the construction of a gymnasium for the use of the post.

Caruso Again in "L'Elisir d'Amore."

Caruso sang for the fourth time in "L'Elisir d'Amore" to a gala audience at the Metropolitan last evening. A familiar cast included also Mmes. Barrientos and Sparkes, Messrs. De Luca and Didur, and Mr. Papi conducted.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The first performance of "What's in a Name?" at the Maxine Elliott Theatre, which was to have taken place last night, was postponed until tomorrow night.

"The Star-Sapphire," by Robert Housman, author of "The Gypsy Trail," has been accepted for production by A. H. Woods.

Lee Ditrichstein will give a special matinee of "The Purple Mask" at the Booth Theatre next Monday in aid of the American Relief Committee for Hungarian Sufferers.

Annette Westbay is now appearing in "The Passion Flower" at the Belmont.

BOLM'S BALLET APPEARS.

Picturesque Dances Handicapped by Accompaniment of Playerpiano.

A picturesque series of dances by Adolphe Bolm's Ballet at Carnegie Hall last night gained in curious interest and lost in all other respects of musical accompaniment by the employment in place of an orchestra as first aid to the dancers of a mechanical piano. The records reproduced were those of performers as celebrated as Paderewski and Percy Grainger, but there was no mistaking the mechanicality, and except where the time was of the marked sort that lends itself to mechanic reproduction the swing and rhythm of the dances suffered.

Bolm, himself, managed the task of marrying the poetry of motion to a machine better than the rest. He is a artist of quite exceptional merit in the first place and in the second among his selections was a Greek warrior dance to Rachmaninoff music with a bold rhythm, which survived mechanization.

The best part of the dance entertainment, however, was that "assisted," as the program put it, by the Little Symphony Orchestra, an Assyrian dance and a Spanish dance by Bolm, a delightfully costumed pavanne by Margit Leerass and Caird Leslie; a waltz by Ruth Page (who did the infanta in the recent ballet at the Lexington), and a hopak dance by Miss Leerass, Alexander Oumansky and others. It should be added that a pantomime to Franz Liszt's Bal Masque was charming in spite of the handicap of the mechanical piano accompaniment.

In short, the performance was at once a tribute to Mr. Bolm's artistry as a stager of pantomimic dances, and evidenced that the player piano is not a complete substitute for an orchestra.

Next Week's Metropolitan Operas.

Last times of "The Blue Bird" and "Carmen" are announced at the Metropolitan next week, with a special matinee of "Zaza" and the production of Tschaikovsky's "Eugene Onyegin." The list, made public a day later than usual, is as follows: Monday, "Le Prophete," Caruso and Matzenauer; Wednesday, "Eugene Onyegin," Muzio, Martinelli, De Luca; Thursday matinee, "Zaza," Farrar, Crimi, Amato; Thursday evening, "Marta," Caruso, Barrientos, De Luca; Friday, "The Blue Bird," Easton, Delaunois, Chalmers, Rothier; Saturday matinee, "Carmen," Farrar, Martinelli, Whitehill, and Saturday evening, "Manon Lescaut," Muzio, Crimi and Scotti.

Mrs. Goodson's Piano Recital.

Mrs. Katharine Goodson gave a worthy piano recital yesterday afternoon, the program of which was made up entirely of music by Chopin, and some of his most familiar compositions. The G major nocturne, the B flat minor Scherzo, the A flat Ballade, the Berceuse, the A flat Polonaire, and certain preludes, studies, waltzes and a mazurka. Mrs. Goodson played with poetical feeling, delicacy and beauty of tone, and gave a true account of the spirit of Chopin as manifested in her program.

would be lifted from the rich and would fall upon the poor man.

Among other things, Secretary Houston's letter to Chairman Fordney says:

"Public opinion has not yet awakened to the gravity of the consequences which are likely to follow a failure to simplify the tax law at this legislative session. Unless the necessary amendments be passed now, they will be delayed in all probability, I understand, until the Autumn or Winter of the year 1921, with the result—unless they are to disrupt the administrative procedure and confuse the necessary calculations of the taxpayer by being made retroactive—that income and profit taxes must continue to be collected on the basis of the present law until the close of the calendar year 1922, and, in the case of some taxpayers on the so-called fiscal year basis until the early months of the calendar year 1923.

Views Delay with Apprehension.

"I cannot contemplate such delay without the gravest apprehension. An imperfect and uncertain tax affects the future even more adversely than the present, and, for similar reasons, it is costly and unwise to make a beneficent modification of the tax law retroactive, or even to delay its adoption and announcement until the time at which it is to take effect.

"Complexity in tax laws violates the most fundamental canon of taxation, that the liability shall be certain and definite. It is not merely a source of irritation, labor and expense to the taxpayers; but when conjoined, as it is in the present law, with the heavy rates of taxation which war exigency has forced upon us, it becomes a major menace, threatening enterprise with heavy but indefinable future obligations, generating a cloud of old claims and potential back-taxes which fill the taxpayer with dread, creating, to be sure, an attractive source of additional revenue, but clogging the administrative machinery and threatening, indeed, its possible breakdown.

"I recommend, therefore, as the most urgent and important of the measures of simplification which could advantageously be put into effect at once, an amendment authorizing the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the consent of the taxpayer and the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury (or under such other public safeguards as the Congress may prefer), to make a final determination and settlement of any tax claim or assessment, which shall not thereafter be reopened by the Government or modified or set aside by any officer, employe or court of the United States, except upon a showing of fraud, malfeasance or misrepresentation of fact materially affecting the determination thus made.

"This recommendation is of major importance. At present the taxpayer never knows when he is through. Every time an old ruling is changed by court decision, opinion of the Attorney General, or reconsideration by the department, the department feels bound to apply the new ruling to past transactions. The necessity of constantly correcting old figures and settlements is as distressing to the department as it is obnoxious to the taxpayer.

Trouble with Back Taxes.

"But an even more serious situation arises in connection with the assessment of back taxes. The tax returns of a large corporation are likely to be crowded with debatable points which the corporation, in the first instance, usually decides in its own favor. The auditing of these returns has been necessarily delayed by the inability of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to engage and hold a sufficient force of experts to audit promptly the more complex and difficult returns; but when the audit comes to be made it ordinarily brings to light a large amount of back taxes. A prompt determination and collection of such back taxes due would probably bring in additional revenue exceeding $1,000,000,000.

"On the other hand, this situation must fill the taxpayers concerned with the gravest apprehension. If present taxes be continued and a period of industrial depression ensues during which the department finds the time and the men with which to clear up both current and back taxes within the same year the result may be highly disastrous to business.

"Provision for the application and fundamental modification or repeal of the excess profits tax at the earliest possible future date should, in my opinion, be made.

"The general course or principle which simplification of this part of the tax law should follow is, I believe, reasonably clear. The outstanding feature of the present system of income taxation in its most important application to business income is the fact that we employ for this purpose two systems of taxation which are incommensurate and irreconcilable. Corporations pay the profits tax and normal income tax, while their stockholders pay surtaxes on dividends or distributed profits, but nothing in respect of the undistributed corporate profits. On the other hand, sole proprietors and the members of partnerships pay full income tax, normal tax and surtaxes upon the entire profits of their business, whether distributed or not, but are exempt from the profits tax.

"There should be one system and not two systems of income taxation applicable to persons engaged in business. Substantial uniformity of treatment, or, at least, a nearer approach to uniformity of treatment, could be achieved in a variety of ways, the details of which it is not necessary to discuss here. * * * The essential thing is to simplify the excess profits tax and grasp a uniquely opportune moment to remedy a deeply rooted defect in our system of income taxation by providing for the just taxation of the undistributed profits of corporations as a time when such taxation represents simplification and relief, not further complexity and heavier burdens.

Should Not Penalize Savings.

"While it is fully important that savings and reinvestments effected through the medium of the corporation should not be dealt with more leniently than similar savings made by the partnership or individual, it is equally important that the methods of taxation employed should in all cases penalize savings and investments as little as possible. Our present surtaxes offend greatly in this respect. We attempt to levy surtaxes rising to 65 per cent. upon ordinary income, while there are thousands of millions of tax-free securities in the market, the income from which is practically exempt from all taxation. The result is to make investment by wealthier taxpayers in the expansion of industry or foreign trade unattractive and unprofitable. It is obvious that this situation should be remedied."

In discussing personal service corporations, Secretary Houston says it is possible to place such corporations and their stockholders in nearly the same position that they now occupy in a manner wholly consistent with the spirit and letter of the ruling of the Supreme Court in the stock dividends case by applying to the corporations on and after Jan. 1, 1918, the tax on undistributed profits recommended for all corporations on and after Jan. 1, 1921.

"It would be desirable, moreover, in my opinion," Mr. Houston says, "to permit personal service corporations at their option to distribute during the year 1920 cash or other taxable dividends to the full extent of their profits earned during 1918 and 1919, but not yet distributed; and such retroactive distributions should be made taxable by the stockholders at the surtax rates applicable to the years in which the profits were accumulated by the corporation. By so doing personal service corporations could, if they desired, place themselves and their stockholders in nearly the same position that they now occupy. They would pay no profits taxes at all, while the entire corporation income (having been distributed) would be taxable in the hands of the stockholders. Indeed, so closely would the proposed plan resemble in effect the method of taxing personal service corporations prescribed in the revenue act of 1918, that it would be eminently proper and probably a source of great convenience to the taxpayers concerned—to authorize personal service corporations, with the written consent of their stockholders, to elect voluntarily to pay taxes for the years 1918 and 1919 on the basis prescribed in the revenue act of 1918."

TAX REFUND BELIEVED SMALL.

Financiers Think Loss by Stock Dividend Decision Only $25,000,000.

According to opinion in the financial district, estimates as to the amount of money the Government will have to refund because of the ruling by the United States Supreme Court that stock dividends are not taxable have been greatly exaggerated. The estimates immediately following the decision ranged all the way from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000. The majority are inclined to believe the total refund will not exceed $25,000,000, as part of the loss will be made up on a readjustment of the income accounts involved, especially where there was profit derived from the sale of holdings.

Actually the ruling applies only to returns made in 1916, 1917 and 1918, as the decision came in time to prevent an inclusion of 1919 stock dividends in the returns made the first of this week. It is believed that in the three years mentioned the total of stock dividends was not more than $350,000,000, and the stock disbursements of the larger companies about which there is general information amounted to some $321,000,000. On the total of $350,000,000 there would be a tax of only about $150,000,000 if the highest rate of the surtax was paid, and not all the distributions would have been subject to the highest tax.

LITTLETON CLOSES NEWBERRY DEFENSE

Pictures Senator as Seeking to Uphold Militants Against Pacifists.

STATE BEGINS ARGUMENT

Prosecutor Conducts Imaginary Cross-Examination and Compares Case to Snakes of Ireland.

Special to The New York Times.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 17.—Martin W. Littleton of New York closed for the Newberry defense today and Assistant Attorney General Dailey began to sum up for the prosecution. He will talk all Thursday and Judge Sessions will charge the jury Friday.

Mr. Littleton pictured Senator Newberry as the centre of a great group of patriotic citizens, striving to elect a Senator of the militant temperament who would defend his country at all hazards, and kept Henry Ford in the foreground as Newberry's pacifist opponent.

The Assistant Attorney General declared there were eight candidates, all militant, when "the conspiracy was laid in New York."

"While the great 32d Michigan Division, the fighters from your own State, slept in tents in mud, fought cooties as well as the enemy, and ate horse meat when they could get it, for $31 a month, being hungry part of the time, King at home was spending Newberry's money, paying men $10 a day to circulate Senatorial petitions and banqueting the politicians to get their support for this man they claim was a patriotic, militant man, who wanted to be Senator for that purpose," exclaimed the prosecutor.

Mr. Dailey put the absent King through a theoretical cross-examination.

"Now, Mr. King," went the imaginary cross-examination, "Newberry asked you how much it would cost to run for Senator at your first meeting?"

"About $50,000 for advertising, as you are not well known in the State," was the imaginary answer.

Dailey noticed that some of the jurors were wearing green stripes.

"St. Patrick is said to have banished the snakes from Ireland, making that little green land free of reptiles," he said. "You gentlemen on that same day are in the same position to wipe from your great State everything in politics that is slimy and crawls in the dark.

"The Government for six weeks, with witness after witness, recounted the details of the crime on the stand by hundreds of witnesses, while the defense offered fewer than twenty whom the Government cared enough about to cross-examination," said the prosecutor.

Mr. Littleton, in his closing arguments in the afternoon, insisted that King never intended to violate any law, and that all the testimony tended to show that fact. Newberry's letters to King were read to bear out that money was not talked about between them except at the first meeting in New York, when the $50,000 discussed was only a passing thought.

If all people knew that the real merit of a dentifrice—and the safety of it—lay in its cleansing and polishing qualities alone, even more Dr. Lyon's would be used.

Outside of the dentist, Dr. Lyon's has done more for the cause of good teeth than any other agency. This is not only because it is the oldest, but because it has always kept on safe ground—it contains no drugs.

Clean the teeth and you remove the leading cause of mouth acidity. Polish them and you clear away films. That's the acknowledged and supported practice of Dr. Lyon's—and that's safe for all people.

ST. NICHOLAS

"The Magazine of Youth"

"Is Thy Servant a Dog?"
by Fullerton L. Waldo
The true story of a Labrador hero who carried a life-line through icy seas and saved the lives of 92 people.

"The Crimson Patch"
by Agnes Hulell Seaman
An absorbing serial of mystery and clean, wholesome adventure.

"Young Abel Yancey"
by Archibald Rutledge
The inspiring story of a boy who was true to his trust.

"The Blue Pearl"
by Samuel Scoville, Jr.
The fascinating, instructive story of Boy Scout adventures in the far North.

ALSO a fine BIOGRAPHY OF EDWIN A. ABBEY, the master painter of History and Romance; the first installment of "THE HAPPY VENTURE", a corking serial story by Edith Ballinger Price; three splendid articles by G. F. Paul, L. E. Theiss and Clara T. MacChesney on the wonderful part played by Dogs in the world war, and all the regular St. Nicholas departments, including Current Events, Nature and Science, The Letter Box, St. Nicholas League Verse and Drawing competitions and Packing House Village, a hobby-horse for the roller coaster and air-plane rudder for the Sled in the section devoted to Boys Who Do Things.

ALL BOYS AND GIRLS—from six to eighteen years—love St. Nicholas. And it is good for them.

For nearly half a century, this splendid magazine has been recognized as a delightful, profitable friend, companion and instructor by parents, in every station of life, who want to train their children for success.

St. Nicholas is clean, fascinating and inspiring. Scores of our foremost statesmen, authors, artists, educators and business executives of today were the audience of St. Nicholas yesterday. And they hail St. Nicholas as the friend who taught them in the formative period of youth, to love the bigger, finer, better things of life—and fastened their restless minds and energies upon the highest ideals of manhood and womanhood. Help your boy or girl belong to this group tomorrow!

The best is none too good for your children, is it? Then give them St. Nicholas. The cost is trifling—less than one cent a day! And its influence for good in their lives can never be measured in money!

These People Believe in St. Nicholas

James Montgomery Flagg drew his first pictures for St. Nicholas League. Kate Douglas Wiggin and Mary Roberts Rinehart were two of its ardent readers. So were President Hibben of Princeton University and Prof. Phelps of Yale. Presidents Roosevelt and Taft subscribed to St. Nicholas and read it with their children.

A Big Manufacturer writes:
"It has put ambition in my boy. He gets a half dozen or more ideas out of St. Nicholas every month and he is so busy studying them and trying to apply them that he doesn't have time to get into mischief. It is certainly giving him the mental stimulation that means a real education and a fine start toward success in life."

Kate Douglas Wiggin, the novelist, says:
"During my girlhood, St. Nicholas was as dear a personal friend as the world could furnish. I have never outgrown my affection for it."

A Great American Statesman said:
"I wouldn't take a fortune for the memory of youthful hours with St. Nicholas and its valuable influence."

A Successful Business Man says:
"One of the wonderful things about having St. Nicholas in our home is the bond it has made between my boy and girl and me. We read the stories together and are partners in all the thrills. We discuss the articles on travel and sports. They bring me the drawings, photographs and verses they prepare for St. Nicholas League competitions. Thus I see just what St. Nicholas is doing for them; how it is helping form right tastes and stimulating ambition. St. Nicholas is giving them a great start toward success."

Give your boy or girl the wholesome entertainment and instruction that St. Nicholas brings. Take the March number home tonight. See for yourself whether or not it is well worth while. Then invest $3.00 in a year's subscription to help your boy or girl become the kind of man or woman all we parents want our boys and girls to be!

THE FLEET IN 1924.

The Naval Appropriation bill which will be reported to the House of Representatives authorizes the completion of the three years' construction program of 1916. In his annual report of that year Secretary DANIELS said that the carrying out of the program would give the navy twenty-seven first line battleships, six battle cruisers and twenty-five second line battleships, "completed and in commission" in 1921. It has been necessary to advance the date three years because the war came to halt the construction of capital ships. "As late as October, 1918," explained Mr. DANIELS in his last annual report, "we received insistent and urgent "recommendations from the representatives of the Allies that the "anti-submarine program be accelerated to the limit, in view of existing "and anticipated conditions." Accordingly, work was rushed upon destroyers and a considerable number of that type were turned out and commissioned in record time. British officers paid the United States the compliment of saying that the new American destroyers were superior to their own in gun power, seaworthiness and speed.

The armistice having been signed, it was decided to go over the plans for the twelve capital ships of the three years' program and revise them in the light of naval lessons of the war. Admirals GRIFFIN, TAYLOR and EARLE were sent abroad to consult with the British, French and Italian Admiralties in the Spring of 1919. In England these officers, who were experts in construction, engineering and ordnance, were invited to inspect the Hood, a first line ship of great speed and heavy battery power, a new type that had made a stir in naval circles. She had been launched, but was not in commission. Upon the return of Admiral GRIFFIN and his associates the General Board heard their report and decided that the battleships should be "completed as expeditiously as possible, and that future designs of battleships should depend upon further "development in battleship construction." These vessels, with as little sacrifice of armor protection as possible, are to exceed previous American dreadnoughts in speed and will carry main batteries of 16-inch guns. It was recommended by the General Board that the six battle cruisers authorized should have additional protection to turrets, conning towers, magazines and communications "at the expense of a small reduction of speed." One lesson of the war was that battle cruisers as constructed by the British before August, 1914, had been built at a costly sacrifice of armor. It seemed better to have less speed and more protection. The United States had fallen behind the times in not adding the battle cruiser type to its fleet, but nothing, fortunately, has been lost by delay. The truth is that the General Board in Admiral DEWEY'S time thought more of armor than of speed for battleships, and it did not take kindly to the battle cruiser type. That this type is indispensable to a modern navy is a salient lesson of the war.

Chairman BUTLER of the Naval Appropriations Committee says that "if "the building plan authorized in this "bill is carried out the United States "in 1924 will have a navy equal in "strength and value to any navy in "the world"—that is to say, equal to the British Navy. The prediction can safely be made if Great Britain adheres to her resolution not to expand her fleet by new construction, because she would not be able to match our twelve new battleships. But there is one division of her navy in which Great Britain will be easily superior unless the United States keeps pace with her, and that is the aviation division. No modern navy can be really formidable and ready to take the offensive at once unless it maintains a strong fleet in the air as well as on the sea.

THE TOUR OF THE TIGER.

The Municipal Administration continues to view with alarm and scrutinize suspiciously the private societies to which the city, for the public good, contributes money, but which have the good fortune not to be managed by it. Experts are a breed not to be trusted; and it is the proper function of all institutions wherein the city has an interest to be conducted by and for "the boys." Commissioner of Accounts HIRSHFIELD'S eagle-eyed inexperts have been investigating the Bronx Zoological Park and the inquities of Director HORNADAY for more than a year. Mr. HIRSHFIELD sounds a new and fiercer defiance to Dr. HORNADAY, and at the same time emits his resolution to examine the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Museum of Natural History and the New York Public Library. "There is no politics in this," he says gravely, but it is about time that these city-supported institutions be conducted by the city for the benefit of all the people and not for the benefit of any particular person or group of persons, who, under the cloak of science, education or patriotism, exploit them for their own glorification, prestige and, perhaps, financial gain.

In mitigation of this rhetoric Mr. HIRSHFIELD denies that he used the expression "financial gain," and he is careful to assure the public that the phrase "by the city" has no suggestion of municipal ownership. It doesn't appear that he has any evidence save fanatic, foolish or malicious complaints to justify his investigation, but none of the institutions whose administration is to be inquired into will object. It will be interesting to see if the investigation of the "economic and business administrations" of these admirable societies, managed by some of the most public-spirited and able business men of New York, can be improved. Mr. HIRSHFIELD says that that is his purpose; and that there is no thought of interfering with expert direction.

Of course the notion of City Hall politicians as a committee on the selection of pictures or books or scientific specimens is too crude and preposterous to be revealed in all its nakedness at once. Still, the public has its own opinion, and the investigator doth protest too much. If the politicians can only get one foot into these noble institutions they hope to get the whole body in gradually and later. Their proceedings will be carefully watched. Their inquiry will be inquired into strictly. They don't care about art, literature, science, but if the city has to spend money for such unnecessary purposes they think there ought to be a fat collection of spoils in every establishment for such purposes which the city helps to maintain.

THE HOUSING TANGLE.

Mayor HYLAN has gone straight to the heart of the housing problem. The difficulties as to securing mortgage money and stabilizing the costs of building materials, though serious, are business difficulties and can be solved by business men. A great public service goes hand in hand with the resumption of normally profitable enterprise. But such operations are out of the question and the community is doomed to stagger on beneath the load of exorbitant rents and impossible living conditions unless the labor difficulty is definitely solved. The stumbling block, as the Mayor says, is "a well-defined feud between va-"rious branches of the building "trades." It is not a contest of employed against employer. Working conditions and wages have nothing to do with it. It is a civil strife among labor organizations, a struggle of labor leaders for domination. "There are "seven or eight men in this city who "have it in their power to say the "word that will launch a building "boom which will be the greatest in "the history of the world."

The situation was very clearly outlined in Monday's meeting at City Hall. A fundamentally important employers' organization, the Iron Erectors' League, is tied hand and foot by a contest between a workmen's organization, the Allied Building Trades Council, and the local unions of bricklayers and carpenters, who refuse to submit to its domination. Mr. R. B. BRINDELL, President of the Trades Council, declared that before work could be resumed such parts of structures now in progress as had been built by non-union labor would have to be torn down. HENRY STEGG of the carpenters declared that BRINDELL had made this same demand with regard to work already done by the International Carpenters' Union. Representatives of the Bricklayers' Union made similar charges and added that for more than thirty-five years they had had harmonious relations with the master contractors employing them. They had always made satisfactory terms directly and refused to submit to the interference of the Trades Council, as BRINDELL demanded.

The motive behind all this is not yet clear, but all the indications are that a small group of leaders in the Allied Building Trades Council is attempting to force the closed shop upon a vast majority of employers and workmen who do not want it, and to this end is riding roughshod over a bitterly harassed and long-suffering community—not the least unfortunate members of which are the members of their own organization. Meantime the workmen whose labors we so sorely need have been driven by the many strikes to other and more fortunate cities. Of the 7,000 bricklayers who have been idle since Jan. 1, 2,500 have already migrated.

"If these seven or eight men," says Mayor HYLAN, "would put "aside old feelings and disregard the "attitudes they have taken, brick-"layers would be back at work to-"morrow and other mechanics in the "building trades would follow and "complete the job." That would be a step, but it is necessary to go much further. New York is short some 100,000 dwellings. Before capital can be assured and the supply and prices of materials can be stabilized, assurance must be given that laborers in all trades will be willing to make fair terms and be permitted by their leaders to keep them. Unless labor can give such assurance, it will not only suffer like the rest of the community for lack of housing, but will continue for the most part out of work.

WOOD CARRIES MINNESOTA.

Minnesota goes for General WOOD at the primaries by a considerable majority. The assertion of the Wood managers that the Middle West was largely for WOOD was evidently sincere and not buncombe, even if they should subsequently lose some States in that region. The Non-Partisan League does not seem, on the returns so far in, to have cut much of a figure in Minnesota. The General is campaigning in South Dakota now and seems to be well received. The North Dakota returns will not count in the political figuring, since there is only one candidate there, Senator JOHNSON. The North Dakota Republican convention requested all candidates not to run in the primaries and JOHNSON was the only one who disregarded the request. Hence delegates elected in that State who may be for WOOD or other candidates will feel free to disregard the primary result and vote as they please in the convention.

The restrained and cautious statement issued by NORMAN J. GOULD, Eastern manager of General WOOD, will impress its readers favorably. Senator MOSES prematurely claimed 300 votes for WOOD on the first ballot. Mr. GOULD says that WOOD can count on 248 delegates now. He expects to add Missouri's 18 votes. It is not so far away from Senator MOSES'S estimate, bringing the total to 266 and leaving the way open for further primary results.

THE COMIC PRIMARY AGAIN.

Several irredeemably obscure burlesque candidates for President have turned up in the Presidential primaries of 1920 as in those of 1916. In Oregon the comic spirit of the primary is amusing itself with nominations for Vice President. We learn from The Morning Oregonian that petitions have been filed "for the Vice Presidential "nomination of ELWOOD WASHINGTON, "who it is alleged (although we can-"not conceive upon what ground) is "a descendant of the Father of His "Country, and of SAMUEL ADAMS, "whose press agent says of him that "he is a 'member of the Adams fam-"ily that has already given two "Presidents to this country.'"

Any person who describes himself or is described as a descendant of GEORGE WASHINGTON is necessarily comic. Everybody named Adams is a member of the Adams, as likewise of the older ADAM'S, family. It would have been more refreshing to the sociologist or the student of human nature if SAMUEL ADAMS of Oregon had been described as a descendant of SAM ADAMS of Massachusetts, who left only female descendants; but perhaps such a reflection is mere carping and bile. The press agent of The Oregonian SAMUEL ADAMS is less romantic than that of Mr. ELWOOD WASHINGTON. Is it curious or is it natural that the nomination in the primary of candidates for President and Vice President should be regarded by so many persons not as a serious duty but as an irresistible opportunity for a joke?

CLARK WILL NOT BE SENATOR.

There is much good sense and at least one bit of epigrammatic expression in Representative CHAMP CLARK'S refusal to run for the Senate and his determination to stick to the House. He points out a feature of Washington life that has not received enough attention when he says, "There is a "House habit with which I am thor-"oughly acquainted and a Senate "habit with which I am not famil-"iar." The sentence is as good in its phrasing as it is in its self-knowledge and knowledge of Washington life; most people would have written "atmosphere" instead of "habit," but Mr. CLARK selects the better word.

Almost as good in its keenness of analysis is his declaration that no man has a right to run for a great office "involving himself and his friends in "all sorts of labors and turmoil with-"out first viewing the landscape "o'er." Few politicians take that rule for their guiding star; if they did there would be fewer Favorite Sons. The net result of his cogitations is that he declines to "swap off the "Democratic leadership in the House "for the position of a new Senator." A new Senator has a long way to go before he acquires enough of the "Senate habit" to be really effective in that chamber. CHAMP CLARK is immensely popular in the House, popular with the Republicans as well as the Democrats. He knows the working of that great machine of legislation down to the last bolt and lever. He would have to learn during several years the working of the great but different machine of legislation at the other end of the Capitol, and even then he would be merely one Senator out of many. There is only one minority leader in the House, only one Speaker.

There was a time when CHAMP CLARK would have put a little buncombe into such a statement. If he had issued it years ago he would not have said he preferred the Democratic leadership; he would have said that he preferred the Speakership, and that as the grand old Democratic Party was sure to sweep the nation in November he would be certain to recover that office. The plain good sense of his statement today is not more noticeable than its modesty. The phrase "Democratic leadership" includes both the Speakership if the Democrats win and the minority leadership if they lose. Nor is there any lack of modesty in his assumption that whether they win or lose he is sure to be their leader.

SPARTACUS AND KAPP.

The counter-revolution in Germany has provoked a counter-counter-revolution, the return of Spartacus to activity in many cities. The need of unity against this danger Dr. KAPP now alleges as the reason for his yielding to EBERT; which may or may not have some basis of truth. Just what the Ebert Government is doing it is hard to say; the National Assembly had trouble in meeting in Stuttgart yesterday because the general strike which the Government had called stopped most of the trains. One observes that the general strike is a somewhat dangerous weapon, likely to hurt those who wield it no less than their enemies unless they use some care.

At any rate, it seems unlikely that much good will come of the whole affair. If the Berlin coup d'état had led to a definite fight to a finish between all the forces of reaction and the Government which tries to be liberal, but has stood in terror of those forces ever since it was established, it might have had some desirable results. Such an alignment would have been the fulfillment of hopes once cherished but since deferred—the hope, for instance, which inspired the declaration of the President that we were at war with the German Government but fighting for the liberation of the German people. That would have been a brilliant stroke of statesmanship, if it succeeded; but the German people stood by their Government so long as it was winning and threw it overboard only when it had become a Jonah. Even after that the "old gang" was still strong enough to make it perfectly clear that the Ebert Government could not be trusted very far, whatever the good intentions of those at the head of it. If the Kapp rising had had the support of all the reactionaries, if all the liberals had risen against it, the Allied Governments could have given much support to the liberals, because a liberal victory, in such a case, would have meant the victory of the trustworthy elements in Germany, the removal of the old military influences, and the rebirth of some hope that Germany would become a peaceful neighbor to the rest of Europe.

But KAPP and LUETTWITZ appear to have gone off at half cock, and a good deal of the old reactionary party has held aloof from a rising whose ultimate success was somewhat doubtful. If this movement fails, as with KAPP'S resignation it now appears to have failed, the decisive struggle between liberalism and reaction has merely been postponed, for the Junkers will still be strong and will not yet have lost hope. Meanwhile this attack upon the Ebert Government, never very strong, has unleashed the Communist groups that were beaten in January of last year, and the final conflict may be between the two extreme parties which have crushed the moderates between them. Here is a good argument for immediate signs of favor to the Ebert Government from the Allied Powers; and yet it will be difficult to show any favor until there is some guarantee that Government will be less controlled by fear of the Junkers and bureaucrats, and less contaminated by the presence in high place of men whose allegiance to liberalism was of too notoriously mercenary character, than it has been in the past.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Responsibility Put Upon an Abstraction.

HOMER FOLKS contributes to the March Harper's an article containing much valuable and interesting information as to present health conditions in the several countries recently at war with Germany. These facts Mr. FOLKS, as Director of the Department of Civil Affairs of the American Red Cross in Europe, had unusual opportunities and facilities for getting, and the presentation of them made by him does go some way toward justifying his contention that the great conflict, to a serious degree, has delayed the advance of the world toward the final conquest of such diseases as tuberculosis, typhus and typhoid fevers and malaria which it was making in 1914.

It is a curious and significant circumstance that in this article, as in a preceding one of like tenor, Mr. FOLKS finds occasion to make but the slightest of passing references to the Germans, and in not one of those references is there any intimation that he holds that people to any heavier responsibility for the terrible calamities and alarming conditions he describes than he does the British, the French, the Belgians or the Serbians. Instead, it is upon "war," an abstract idea or conception, that he places all the blame, thus violating the principle that responsibility is always personal, and giving no hint whatever that to him there is any moral difference between war as Germany conducted it and as carried on by the Allies.

This is to be regretted, for, in very and unquestionable truth, there is such a difference, and a large one, between the fighting done by a would-be conqueror of his neighbors for the sake of power and plunder and the fighting those neighbors do in self-defense. To ignore that unlikeness tends to prevent the perpetuation of "hate," and there are those who hold that, like peace, to be worth any price, but "hate" is a name sometimes applied to just and righteous indignation by those unable to feel that emotion or who recoil from the obligation to expensive and often dangerous action which it carries with it.

An Effect Viewed as a Cause.

Further consideration of Mr. FOLKS'S valuable article suggests a question: Is its title, "War the Best Friend of Disease," in accord with the facts? In the first place, the most confirmed of pacifists does not hesitate to commend or to participate in "wars" against the diseases mentioned by Mr. FOLKS, though in those "wars," too, there are both fatalities and "horrors" not a few. Thereby the pacifists confess, at least metaphorically, that motive is what makes good or bad the taking part in any particular conflict, and not the conditions that attend its progress, but those that mark its end.

In the next place, to ask another question, is it not true that the sanitary and hygienic regressions which everybody will join Mr. FOLKS in regretting are the result not of "war," but of the same thing of which the war was itself the result? In other words, is not the relation between them and war that of sequence or contemporaneity, rather than that of cause and effect?

Neither Mr. FOLKS, nor anybody else would have to search very long or very hard to find what, or rather who, gave the convicted bacteria and the microbes a suspension of sentence. And when he does discover who they were, he will have an excellent subject for another highly interesting article.

What Is Success, Anyhow?

It is with less of irritation and with more of edification than usual that one reads the rules for attaining success in life which CHARLES M. SCHWAB, speaking from experience and therefore as an expert, offered this week for the consideration of the interested and attentive students of Princeton.

Of course he, like all advisers of like authority, was too cautious to attempt a definition of "success in life." Had he done so, some disputatious hearer might have declared that what he called success was really failure, and that would have been embarrassing. It was pure luck, too, that nobody laughed out loud when he laid down as the very first of his rules that he who would be successful must abandon the hope of having a good time. History tells us—but there! What's the use?

Mr. SCHWAB risked no troublesome controversies or untimely reminiscences when he advised the would-be succeeder to be of rigorous integrity, to be a loyal worker, to get an education as liberal as he could, to make friends instead of enemies, to concentrate attention and energy on a chosen object, and to change from one employment to another only for better reasons than that difficulties have come up and troubles arisen.

Those are all fine rules, and of them there is room for doubt of their efficacy—of their invariable efficacy, that is—in winning success. Something else is needed. What it is Mr. SCHWAB did not disclose, not from an ungenerous tendency toward secrecy, but because neither he nor anybody else knows just what that something is. Observance of all his rules leads as often or oftener to what he might call failure than to what he would call success—to obscurity and a narrow house, instead of to fame and wealth.

Revolution Has Its Seriousness.

In one of yesterday's dispatches an unimpressed observer of events in Germany was moved to describe what he had seen this week as an "operetta revolution." From present indications and from some points of view the term is fairly applicable, but the judicious JOSEPH CONRAD long ago protested in his mild and yet effective way against calling the frequent overturns of Governments in Central and South America "comic opera wars."

He did not deny that those wars had their amusing features and incidents, but he said that the men killed in them were as thoroughly dead as men could be, that the regions devastated by them did not soon recover prosperity, and that there is nothing at all funny in being reduced to beggary, as many families are by every one of these little wars.

As revolutions go, not many people have been shot—as yet—in this latest of German disturbances of political equilibrium, but still the number of dead and wounded is considerable and the victims will not reappear on the scene hereafter.

After all, revolution is serious business, always, for those who take part in it.

The Dollar in Vienna.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your readers may be interested to learn of conditions in Vienna, the once gay capital of Austria. Food conditions are terrible and cannot be exaggerated. We are grateful for America's help, but much more relief is needed. At the present time one American dollar is equivalent to 300 kronen and one can live here for 400 kronen a day and can obtain good beer, good music and dancing. But the Viennese people have no money and are hungry. Americans here are buying carloads of antiques, rugs, leather wares, &c. For a couple of thousand dollars you can acquire a castle or a house in the centre of this beautiful city.

THE APE.

I yearned to romp and frolic,
I yearned to laugh and play,
I yearned to be a rover
Along the gypsy way,
And wander blithely singing
Forever and a day.

There was an ape that saw me.
"You are my slave!" he cried.
He seized my hands and bound them,
My dancing feet he tied.
"Oh, let me loose!" I pleaded.
Said he: "Have you no pride?"

I wailed: "Farewell to gladness!"
"Be thankful!" muttered he.
"Just think of what a scandal
If you escaped from me!
I'll hold you chained forever;
I am your Dignity!"

WELCOME RESPONSIBILITY.

It Will Vastly Increase the Country's Influence and Prosperity.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Most of the Republican Senators in their attitude toward Article X. of the Treaty of Versailles have, it seems to me, evinced a sort of morbid self-consciousness, a feeling that in some way not clearly apparent all other parties to the treaty have conspired, in the language of the day, to "put something over" on the United States, and a fear that by the adoption of this article the honor and sovereignty of the United States are in some way compromised or imperiled. This feeling is, perhaps, not wholly unnatural in view of our hitherto traditional aloofness from participation in European affairs, but it is, I believe, wholly unjustified. The United States is only one of many parties to the treaty, each of whom may reasonably be considered as equally jealous of its own honor and sovereignty and each of whom assumes the same obligation—and no one has disputed the fact that our obligations, of whatever nature, must be performed through our own particular constitutional methods.

But, aside from any such question, would not the assumption by the United States of its obligations under this article vastly increase not only its influence in the maintenance of peace but its own material prosperity? Can there be any doubt that the presence in the councils of the world of a representative of this country, not as an intruder but as a member by right, and whose presence is not merely tolerated but eagerly desired, would have a weight impossible to overestimate in smoothing out troublesome problems in their very inception? Does not the present unsettled condition of all business demonstrate how sensitive is our industrial and commercial life to disturbances in any part of the world? Is the judgment of our business associations and leading business men all over the country, evidenced by constant appeals for the prompt ratification of the treaty, entitled to no weight in the Senate? Why should the dictation of a small group of Republican irreconcilables, who will not in any event follow the leadership of Senator Lodge, be tolerated as controlling the action of a majority of the Republican Senators?

I write as a Republican, eager to see the present Democratic Administration displaced by a Republican one, but I do not assent to the failure hitherto of the majority of the Republican Senators to recognise the obligation, which logically attends our participation in the war, to stand firmly with the rest of the world in maintaining future peace. Let Senator Lodge disregard the Republican irreconcilables, as Senator Hitchcock disregards the Democratic irreconcilables. Any policy which allows the treaty to fail for lack of our whole-hearted participation will never be approved by the voters of the country.

SOUTH ALBANIAN LINE.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I read in THE TIMES a letter from Mr. Chekrezi in which he criticises your editorial article "Albania."

Mr. Chekrezi, of course, criticises your statement that the Greek claim to the provinces of Korytsa and Argyrocastro is valid. But what are the facts?

His statement that the Greeks consider the Christian inhabitants of these districts Greeks because they are members of the Orthodox Church is false and misleading. Mr. Venizelos has never based his claim to these provinces on any other argument except on the will of the majority to be united with Greece.

The Albanians claim that every Northern Epirote is an Albanian because he speaks an Albanian patois. On that score every German-speaking Helvetian is a German.

Mr. Venizelos asked for a plebiscite in 1913, but Italy and Austria refused. In 1913 the powers gave Northern Epirus to Albania, but the Christians rose and fought and defeated the Albanians, and, through the Pact of Corfu, won their autonomy. In the city of Korytsa, now held by the French, the Christians send 2,300 pupils to the Greek schools and only 200 to the Albanian schools. Only three months ago the Albanians in America sent a commission to Northern Epirus to solicit signatures to be attached to a memorial for the Peace Conference expressing the sentiment of the Christians in favor of union with Albania. In Korytsa, under threats on the part of the Moslem Albanian police force, only 10 per cent. signed the petition; in Premeti, only 15 per cent.; in Argyrocastro, only 5 per cent.

I refer the readers of THE TIMES to the Rev. Mr. Kennedy, an American missionary at Korytsa, who in a confidential statement to an American major said that if a plebiscite were applied in Korytsa the Albanians would have no chance. The persons referred to by Mr. Chekrezi have never expressed themselves as to the wish of the majority of the Christians.

In the note of Dec. 9 Argyrocastro was recognized Greek. Korytsa was also recognized Greek by France, England and America. Only Italy has objections, and Greece and Italy were asked to negotiate. In the note of Jan. 20 Italy also yielded to Greece. In the notes of the President to the Allies he is silent on Korytsa, which signifies very clearly that he has no objection to the decision reached by the Allies in the note of January 20 that Korytsa, too, should go to Greece.

The Bronx Zoo.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It seems to me the people, not only of New York City but of the entire State of New York, should rise up and protect Dr. Hornaday from the politicians who want to turn the Bronx Zoological Park into another political job. The present large collection of animals is largely due to Dr. Hornaday's personal popularity. Sportsmen from all over the world who are his friends have collected and sent to the Bronx Zoological Park hundreds of specimens that would never haven been given if any one but Dr. Hornaday had been head of the park. The collection of heads and horns is really nothing more or less than personal tribute to Dr. Hornaday. It is the most splendid collection in the world, and has been given to the park almost entirely by friends of Dr. Hornaday's, and now a few politicians who begrudge the paltry salary of $8,000 the city pays him, and who want to fill the park positions with men who are absolutely under their control politically, have attacked Dr. Hornaday. It is a shame and an outrage that such things can exist in a civilized community. I know the sportsmen of the United States will not stand for such a thing.

The Bronx Zoological Park is a national institution; sportsmen from all over the world have contributed to it, and it does not belong to New York City alone.

K'ANG-HSI JAR BRINGS $1,000

Schirmer Collection of Antique Porcelains Auctioned for $9,585.

Antique porcelains, collection of the late Rudolph E. Schirmer and the late Mrs. Martha B. Schirmer, selling at the American Art Galleries yesterday afternoon, brought returns of $9,585 for 344 numbers. An apple-green oviform jar of the K'ang-hsi period brought the highest price of the afternoon, going to the Long Sang Ti Company for $1,000.

A pair of ornamental trees, gilt wood with leaves and blossoms of jade and coral, in Peking enamel jardinieres, went to Samuel Schlepps for $185; a black hawthorn jar of the K'ang-hsi period, the glaze with iridescent metallic lustre, an inverted pear shape, being the lower section of a beaker, ground down, went to C. H. Brannon for $700, and a powder-blue decorated vase went to E. E. Newell for $180.

A famille vert vase of the K'ang-hsi period sold to the Long Sang Ti Co. for $850, and for a green hawthorn beaker, K'ang-hsi, with a brilliant monochrome glaze, O. G. Sonneck paid $375. A finely carved teakwood table with inset panels of cinnabar lacquer sold for $210.

CHARGES STATE NEGLECT.

Cares for Only One-Tenth of 40,000 Defectives, Says Commission.

"The State has not met its obligations in the matter of caring for mental defectives," according to the first annual report to the State Legislature by the State Commission for Mental Defectives, submitted yesterday, which states that "conservative estimates from reliable sources agree in showing that there are at least 40,000 mental defectives in the State outside of institutions, while the State is caring for only about 4,000, or one-tenth."

The report continues:

"We need at once 10,000 beds. If this 10,000 mark could be reached, the problem of custodial care for the feeble-minded would be met for the present.

"There are four State schools for mental defectives in the State, located at Rome, Newark, Syracuse and Thiells. In connection with one of the State schools, the one at Rome, N. Y., of which Dr. Charles Bernstein is superintendent, the girls and boys from the school have been successfully cared for in colony groups. After a period of training in the institution they are sent out either on farms under supervisors or to rented houses in neighboring villages and towns, where they are available for general housework or other occupations.

"Regarding work outside the institution, the commission has this year asked from the Legislature appropriations for four positions to be known as field agents. The commission believes that if every defective leaving the ungraded classes in the public schools could be supervised, could be assisted to positions which they are capable of holding, and if the parents could be instructed, many defectives might be saved from becoming institution charges.

"It is practically certain that the Legislature will grant these four field agents, and then the commission intends to begin this sort of prevention work in New York City.

"In order to reach the community still more widely the commission has, with six other State Departments, entered into a plan for Statewide mental clinics. The most expert advice on mental disease and mental defect is available, and the great response which the clinics have met show how widely the need is felt."

FAVOR RISE FOR TEACHERS.

Republican Women Urge Passage of Lockwood-Donohue Bill.

At a meeting yesterday of the women members of the New York Republican County Committee at Republican headquarters, 105 West Fortieth Street, resolutions were adopted to be presented to the Governor and members of the Legislature, urging the passage of the Lockwood-Donohue teachers' salary bill to increase the pay of school teachers. The resolutions stated that the increase is necessary to attract and retain capable men and women teachers.

If the Department of Education acts upon the suggestion made yesterday by F. H. La Guardia, President of the Board of Aldermen, all teachers will be able to receive money due them for back refunds for the year 1918. He said Controller Craig would co-operate with him in obtaining the necessary data and added:

"We find that there are 1,638 teachers having claims, 70 janitors and 2 caretakers. The total is 1,707. The total amount due the teachers is $105,476.60; janitors, $7,538.66; caretakers, $94.84, and the total amount due to retirement fund, $91,072.72. This totals $204,182.82. The largest amount is due to Harold A. Hally, amounting to $2,068.74, and the smallest amount is due to Marion E. Wagstaff, amounting to 68 cents.

"I am now submitting the figures to the Department of Education, and all they will have to do is make request, submit all of the figures as required by law, and I am sure there will be no delay in the money being appropriated, and these just claims, now two years overdue, will be paid."

PORT COMMISSION PLANNED.

Bill Presented at Albany to Abolish Dock Department.

The abolition of the Dock Department and the substitution of a Port Commission consisting of three members who will have entire jurisdiction over the Port of New York, to be appointed by the Mayor, is provided in a bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Edward J. Dowling, it was announced yesterday. The salary of the President of the commission is placed at $7,500 a year and that of the other two Commissioners at $6,000 each.

The bill also provides for taking all control of the Dock Department entirely out of the hands of the Sinking Fund Commission by vesting with the new commission all matters relating to docks and piers or making recommendations to the Board of Estimate for the issue of corporate stock.

By the terms of the bill the new commission is required to report to the Mayor and the Governor, within ninety days after appointment, a definite project, feasible under existing laws, accompanied by plans and estimates of costs, for the development of the Port of New York. The Mayor is said to favor the bill.

TO STABILIZE COAL TRADE.

Senator Frelinghuysen Has Three Bills to Regulate Distribution.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Three bills designed to remove existing evils of inequality and instability in the production and distribution of coal were introduced in the Senate today by Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who headed a committee which recently completed a thorough investigation of the coal situation.

One bill provides for repeal of provisions of the Lever act conferring on the President power to control the distribution and price of coal.

Another provides for the appointment of a Federal Coal Commissioner, whose duty shall be to keep constantly in touch with all angles of the fuel situation, so that he can foresee and prevent conditions tending to cause unnecessary loss or embarrassment to business, the public or the coal miners.

The third provides that freight rates on coal shall be 20 per cent. lower in the Spring and Summer than in the Autumn and Winter.

All the bills were referred to the Interstate Commerce Committee, which is to be urged by Senator Frelinghuysen to give them early consideration.

In support of the bill for a differential freight rate based on seasons Senator Frelinghuysen read a statement by E. E. Clark, Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Clark indorsed the idea.

WAITED FIVE MONTHS FOR STAFF, SAYS SIMS

Admiral Tells Senators His Plea Was Ignored Until Benson Repeated It.

CHARGES OTHER DELAY

Four Months Were Lost, He Asserts, in Arranging for Battleship Docking.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Again centring his fire at the Navy Department on his charges that it insisted on directing all war operations from Washington, Rear Admiral Sims told the Senate Investigating Committee today that his urgent appeals for an adequate staff in London were ignored until November, 1917.

Admiral Benson, Chief of Operations, reached London that month, Admiral Sims said, and quickly convinced himself of the "necessity for establishing a real advanced base headquarters of the Navy Department abroad, with an adequate staff, to make possible full cooperation with the Admiralty and coordinating all activities with the Allies."

"I had been recommending such action for five months, and specifically in my letters of May 16, July 16 and Oct. 23, 1917, had pointed out the necessity for the establishment of such an advanced base headquarters abroad," said Admiral Sims.

After Admiral Benson had reported the Department changed its attitude, he continued, and a cable to Benson, Nov. 17, said a decision had been reached that it would be advantageous to have a permanent war staff in England to work with the plans department of the British Admiralty.

Admiral Benson then asked that Captain F. H. Schofield and Commander Knox be ordered to report to Admiral Sims and Admiral Jellicoe for such duty, and this was done at once, Admiral Sims testified, while his own recommendations for nearly six months for the same action had been disregarded.

"The soundness of the policy," said the Admiral, "was again demonstrated by the fact that the department adopted it and throughout the remainder of the war continued to recognize, though sometime grudgingly, the necessity for what had been continually recommended and which should have been obvious from the very first."

There was continued delay on vitally important recommendations, because officials in Washington did not consider that sufficient information had been sent from London, Admiral Sims said. In many cases, he added, the necessity for secrecy or his lack of assistants prevented full reports.

It took months to arrange a docking system for battleships abroad, because of the department's insistence on details when he could have made all the arrangements "in ten minutes' conversation in Washington with the proper officers," the Admiral declared, adding that arrangements were finally completed only after the armistice.

Admiral Sims is expected to conclude tomorrow his long statement, begun more than a week ago. Cross-examination probably will not be taken up before Saturday, or possibly next week.

BURR SLATED FOR BENCH.

Friends Feel Corporation Counsel Will Be Named by Governor.

Corporation Counsel William P. Burr is to be appointed Justice of the Supreme Court within a few days by Governor Smith, to succeed either Justice Francis K. Pendleton, who resigned recently, or the late Justice Eugene A. Philbin, of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, it was persistently rumored in political circles yesterday. The deaths of Justice Philbin and Justice P. Henry Dugro, with the resignation of Justice Pendleton, have made three vacancies in two weeks in the Supreme Court of the First District.

Mr. Burr was slated to succeed Justice Dugro, it was said, but Edward J. McGoldrick, an Assistant Corporation Counsel, was appointed. Friends of the Corporation Counsel believe he will be selected next. The terms of the Governor's appointees will expire December 31, but they are practically sure of a nomination by the Democratic Party to succeed themselves. Mr. Burr receives $15,000 a year. As Supreme Court Justice his salary would be $17,500.

FIND CAUSE OF OLIVE POISON

Due to Insufficient Heat in Sterilizing, Chemists Assert.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Failure of some packers to use a sufficiently high temperature during sterilization of ripe olives in glass containers permitted development of the botulinus germ, which caused the deaths of twenty-five persons two months ago, said a report of specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry, who have just concluded an investigation in co-operation with the Public Health Service.

The poison would develop just the same in tin containers, the report showed, if the olives were not sufficiently processed, but as there is no danger of breakage involved in tin, the packer does not hesitate to apply the proper degree of heat to kill the germ in sterilization.

The investigation disclosed only one fatality where a tin container was involved, but this contained a relish consisting of minced ripe olives, the poison forming through inadequate processing.

MISS REESE WEDDED TO RUSSIAN ENVOY

Secretly Married by Newark Peace Justice to Basil Soldatenkov.

NIECE OF MARTIN VOGEL

Her Relatives Had Withheld Consent Owing to a Disparity of Seventeen Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Soldatenkov yesterday surprised their relatives and friends by announcing they had been married in Newark, N. J., on Tuesday. Mrs. Soldatenkov was formerly Miss Madeleine Reese, niece of Martin Vogel, Assistant United States Treasurer, and Mrs. Vogel with whom she had resided since the death of her mother six years ago.

Mr. Soldatenkov, who was a special envoy of the provisional Government of Russia, had been attentive to Miss Reese for some time, but Mr. and Mrs. Vogel withheld their consent to the marriage, owing chiefly to the disparity of their ages, their niece being only twenty years of age, and Mr. Soldatenkov about seventeen years her senior.

They wished her to wait a while longer, but Miss Reese decided to get married at once, and so, accompanied by a few friends, the couple went to Newark where they were married by a Justice of the Peace. They returned to the Ritz-Carlton for dinner, where both have been living, and the bride notified her uncle of her marriage. Mrs. Soldatenkov is a débutante of this season. Mr. Soldatenkov has been married before. His first wife was the Princess Gotchakoff of Russia, from whom he was divorced last November.

Mr. Soldatenkov was Under Secretary of State in Russia under the Milyoukof régime. He met and took charge of Elihu Root and the American Mission when it arrived in Russia, and returned here with the Mission. On his arrival he was thanked personally by President Wilson and Mr. Root and was presented with a cigarette case bearing an inscription in acknowledgment of his services to the Americanu Mission.

The couple will remain here for the present. They will go to Europe later, but will return here to live permanently.

Rose—Obendorfer.

The marriage of William J. Rose, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Rose, and Miss Alice Obendorfer, elder daughter of Mrs. J. J. Obendorfer of 306 West Ninety-third Street, took place last evening at the Astor. The bride, in white satin and tulle, embroidered in pearls and crystals, was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Obendorfer, in orchid-tinted silver cloth, and her uncle, Henry Rosenbaum, gave her in marriage. Sidney Rose was his brother's best man, the ushers were Felix Bauer, Nat Hast, Herbert Obendorfer and William Rose. The bride's grandfather, the Rev. Bernhard Hast, performed the ceremony, and a dinner and dancing followed.

Miss Heller to Wed T. H. Embry.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Heller of 400 West End Avenue, this city, and New Canaan, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Louise Heller, to Tarlton Henry Embry of Cincinnati, a son of Mrs. N. J. Embry of Lexington, Ky. Miss Heller was graduated from the Spence School in the 1918 class. She served during the war in Lafayette House, and it was there she met Mr. Embry, then a Lieutenant, when he was invalided home from France. He served with the 132d Infantry, A. E. F., and was severely wounded.

Jones-Hoagland Wedding Today.

The wedding of Miss Katharine Hoagland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoagland of 817 Fifth Avenue, and Charles M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stuart Jones of Red Bank, N. J., will take place this afternoon in St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Hoagland is a granddaughter of the late Joseph C. Hoagland.

Hanford-Ballard.

George Bennett Hanford, the youngest son of the late George B. Hanford and of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hanford of Bloomfield, N. J., and Miss Margaret Eveland Ballard, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ballard, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's parents in Bloomfield by the Rev. B. F. Dickinson. The bride's sister, Mrs. Frederick Elder Tucker, was the matron of honor and Chalmers Hanford was his brother's best man. They will live in Orange, N. J.

Engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. Franz Graf of 506 West 148th Street, this city, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Martha Graf, to A. G. Grunebaum, of the brokerage firm of H. L. Doherty & Co. No date has been announced for the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lincoln Banister of 440 Fifteenth Avenue, Paterson, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Joralemon Banister, to William Albert Sumner, also of Paterson.

Benefit Entertainments.

A concert for the benefit of the New York Home for Homeless Boys will be held tonight at the Ritz-Carlton, under the auspices of the women's auxiliary, of which Mrs. P. A. S. Franklin is chairman. George Gordon Battle is to speak on behalf of the home. The Letz Quartet and Miss Harriet Van Emden, soprano, will appear on the program.

A Springtime Bazaar will be held by Hartley House, 413 West Forty-sixth Street, on Friday and Saturday to raise funds to carry on the work of its settlement farm, Hartley Farm, at Towaco, N. J. There is to be a circus with side shows, and in the evening dancing and fortune telling. J. G. Phelps Stokes is the President of the Board of Directors of Hartley House, and Mrs. Helen Hartley Jenkins is the Vice President.

A dance is to be held on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Junior League Hotel, at the foot of East Seventy-eighth Street, for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse Service Campaign. Mrs. Cortlandt D. Barnes, Mrs. Willard D. Straight and Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb are on the executive committee of the Junior League Hotel.

The annual dance in aid of the Blue Ridge Industrial School of Greene County, Va., will be held tonight at the Hotel Vanderbilt. Mrs. Stuart G. Gibboney is Chairman of the committee in charge.

DR. MANNING SEES HARM IN SPIRITISM

ADDS NOTHING TO RELIGION

Would Deplore Nation Becoming Addicted to Wizards, Mediums and Ouija Boards.

The Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, rebels against a possibility of the American people being given to wizards, mediums and ouija boards. He told last evening of his abhorrence of Christian people trying to get satisfaction out of spiritism, before an audience which packed St. Augustine's Chapel, 105 East Houston Street. Dr. Manning's topic was "Communication With the Dead; Can We Look for Help From Spiritism?"

"The question for us Christians is not whether those that have gone from us are still alive," said Dr. Manning. "We know they are.

"The first question for us as Christians is, Is it right for us to try to communicate with the dead? We do believe it is possible for them to communicate with us, if it is God's will.

"In the Old Testament the Jews were distinctly forbidden to try to communicate with the dead. And the mind of the Christian Church has always been against it, although there is no pronouncement in our own communion against it.

"Does spiritism offer us a means that we can rightly use, that we could accept as genuine? Are the methods that spiritism uses for establishing communication with the dead such as are calculated to inspire us with confidence? I think any open-minded person will admit that the methods are not reassuring.

"The darkened room, the tapping of tables, the mystery, the mediums, which may prove to be fraudulent, do not seem in harmony with a high and holy purpose. It is difficult to think of a spirt board as a fitting communication with those who are now in Paradise.

"The next question is: Have we really reason to regard these messages and communications as trustworthy? It is to my mind an astonishing and also a very touching thing that any educated people should be willing to accept these communications.

"Possibilities of error, deception and even of deliberate fraud are acknowledged to exist. The known facts as to telepathy, that one man can read the workings of the sub-conscious mind leave the origin of the messages in the highest degree uncertain.

"It seems to be acknowledged, so far as I can find, that it is at least very doubtful whether any message has ever been received which is not fully explained by telepathy. Why, then, are we asked to assume the agency of spirits in the matter?

"Have these alleged communications added anything to our knowledge of our life beyond death, even if we accept them at their face value? It cannot be claimed that they have. The most striking classification of them is an utter triviality and lack of any moral value whatever. It would certainly show a terrible mental deterioration of those who have gone before if these communications were genuine.

"Does spiritism make people more unselfish and fit them more to live in this world? No, the facts on the whole prove quite the reverse. In many cases it produces positive injury to body, mind and morals. I have myself seen cases of physical and mental disaster as the result of consulting mediums.

"Does any one believe that it would be to our benefit if we as a nation became addicted to wizards, mediums and ouija boards?

"In the light of what we know as to the physical, mental and moral results, I think we may at least be gravely doubtful as to whether spiritism has any contribution to make to religion. The evidence does not show that usually the practice of spiritualism had any tendency to bring people to a deeper sense of their duty to God and a truer faith in Jesus Christ. The evidence all points strongly the other way."

STANDS BY MOTHER CHURCH

Christian Science Congregation Votes to Suspend Publications.

The congregation of the First Church, Christian Scientists, Central Park West and Ninety-sixth Street, on Tuesday night voted almost unanimously to suspend the purchase, sale, and distribution of periodicals published by the Christian Science Publishing Company in Boston until the Trustees of the Publishing company shall again come under the jurisdiction of the Mother Church and have evidenced obedience to the manual of the church. The First Church, in taking this action, is the tenth of the fourteen Christian Science churches in Manhattan and Brooklyn to exclude these publications.

The church approved a report of the Executive Committee of Delegates of New York State dealing with the desirability of intervening in the Boston litigation, an action brought by First Member Emily B. Hulin and Mr. Jackson and which will be heard on Tuesday. In this application it is contended that the court has heard the trustees and the directors and it should now hear the members of the church who are really the principal beneficiaries under the Eddy deed of trust. The suit also asks for the removal of the trustees of the publishing society.

SOCIETY AT BALL GAME.

Palm Beach Colonists See Yankees Defeat Cincinnati Reds.

Special to The New York Times.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 17.—The feature of St. Patrick's Day at Palm Beach was the ball game. Upward of 4,000 people, certainly the biggest crowd over here at this time of year, watched the New York Americans beat the Cincinnati Reds 7 to 2. Of the gate receipts each team got $1,264 and West Palm Beach branch of the American Legion, which with the Poinciana and The Breakers Hotels arranged the match, received $843. The grand stand seats 1,500 and soon overflowed, the vast crowd sitting about on camp stools and on the grass.

Many luncheons at the clubs preceded the game, most of those entertained arriving in wheel chairs at the last moment, and among these were Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Salmon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dillingham, Mrs. Harry Darlington, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Thaw, 3d, Mr. and Mrs. John C. King, Mr. and Mrs. T. De Witt Cuyler, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sewell, Mrs. J. Lorimer Worden, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Work, Mr. and Mrs. Quintin Feitner, Miss Constance Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barbour.

Mrs. William McNair, Mrs. George Easton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson Pope, Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherfurd, Miss Lorna Mallison, Miss Delphine Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewisohn, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frelinghuysen, Joseph Dilworth, Frederick Humphreys, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Thomas, Jason Waiers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Carlisle, Willis Sharpe Kilmer, and Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden.

W. S. VALENTINE DIES IN ATLANTIC CITY.

New York Mining and Oil Man Known as "King of Honduras" Succumbs After Operation.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 17.—Washington S. Valentine of 310 West Sixty-first Street, New York City, died this morning in the Atlantic City Hospital a few hours after an operation for strangulated hernia.

Mr. Valentine, who was born in St. Louis in 1859, went to Honduras as a youth of 20, and, owing to his activities in obtaining mining and oil concessions leading to extensive development of the region, he acquired the sobriquet of "King of Honduras."

He was Chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York and Honduras Rosario Mining Company, President of the San Pedro Electric Light and Power Company, and Vice President of the Sinclair Central American Oil Company. He was credited with making a large fortune from his Central American enterprises. In 1918 General Manuel Lardizabal of Honduras sued for an accounting of $500,000 in connection with certain oil grants which the General said he had aided Mr. Valentine to secure. In 1910 Lincoln Valentine, a nephew, returned from Honduras with the statement that he had secured in that country the most valuable oil concession ever granted by a Latin-American Government.

He was a brother of the late Dr. Ferdinand C. Valentine, who left a large sum to medical research in which he was a pioneer.

GIRL GIVES LIFE TO SAVE CHILDREN IN BLIZZARD

Heroine of North Dakota Storm Gave Wraps to Brother and Sister.

BISMARCK, N. D., March 17.—Five known dead and thousands of dollars' damage to property was the toll of the two-day blizzard which swept this State —the worst in more than thirty years.

One girl gave her life to save her sister and brother, while the heroic effort of a youth proved futile and he and his three brothers perished on the prairies.

When their car which was wrecked near Center by the wind, Hazel Minor, aged 18, took off her coat and wrapped it and blankets around her small brother and sister. For twenty-four hours they lay in the snowdrifts before they were found by searching parties. Hazel was dead, but her action in bundling up the little ones saved their lives.

Adolph Wohlka, son of Gust Wohlka, a farmer living near Ryder, made a gallant attempt to bring assistance to his three brothers when the team of horses he was driving home died from exhaustion. After making his two brothers as comfortable as possible he set out for help. Twenty-four hours later his father found him and the other three children frozen in deep snowdrifts.

PRAISED NAVY VICE SQUAD.

First Court of Inquiry Commended Work in Newport.

NEWPORT, March 17.—The conclusions and recommendations of a naval court which investigated vice conditions here a year ago were read today by the court of inquiry which is investigating the methods employed by a naval anti-vice squad in this district. The conclusions of the earlier court were that there was traffic in cocaine and narcotic drugs and that immoral conditions existed in lodging houses, the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A., the naval hospital, the naval training station and the naval coaling station.

The court recommended an immediate and thorough investigation into alleged immoral conduct of certain civilians and that certain regulations be established governing the liberties of men in the city. It reported eighteen men for general court-martial on charge of immoral and scandalous conduct and recommended that notation be made in the service records commending several men who acted as operatives in the anti-vice squad. Twelve of these are interested parties before the court now sitting.

Lieutenant Commander Foster, President of the first court of inquiry, said that some of the men on the squad had testified to committing immoral acts.

"Do you recall if any of the men who were subsequently recommended for notation testified that they had committed immoral acts?" he was asked.

"They must have to collect evidence," he replied, adding that the purpose in recommending the men for notation was to show that they had been witnesses before the court of inquiry, and to prevent any prejudice to their future status in the service because of their testimony.

PADEREWSKI STEPSON SUES

Files Claim Here for $20,033 Against Louis N. Hammerling.

A second attachment against the property of Louis N. Hammerling, formerly head of the Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, in connection with the affairs of the Poland Export Corporation of 1,138 Broadway, was granted yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Newburger. Waclaw O. Gorski, stepson of Ignace Paderewski, Polish Premier, claims $20,033 in the suit filed yesterday, and alleges that Hammerling has gone to Europe to avoid his creditors. The first attack by the corporation demanded $39,000 on the ground of alleged fraud.

Gorski alleges in his complaint that Hammerling induced him to become President of the corporation, and represented that the corporation would make $100,000 a year, and Gorski's share would be $25,000. He says that he and Hammerling went to Europe Aug. 21 last, and that Hammerling told him he had $250,000 in a belt strapped around his waist. The defendant's wife followed on the next steamer, Gorski says.

VENIREMEN AGAINST REDS.

Winitsky Trial Delayed—Salesman Opposes Dry Government.

Most men summoned for jury duty in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court for the trial of Harry Winitsky, Executive Secretary of the New York Communist Party, on the charge of criminal anarchy, express so much hostility to the doctrines of the Communists that attorneys are finding it difficult to get a jury. When the court adjourned yesterday, after three days' work, only six jurors had been accepted tentatively. Theodore Wallace, a salesman, of 411 West End Avenue, was excused because he attacked the Eighteenth Amendment and criticised methods of the Federal Government for enforcement of prohibition here.

"When the Government passes a law like this prohibition law, which the people don't want, I am against it," declared Mr. Wallace, in reply to questions from Assistant District Attorney Alexander I. Rorke as to his attitude toward the Government. "Only a couple of days ago," continued Wallace, "I we heard of a Government agent shooting down a man because he had a little whisky in his possession, and the Government is apparently behind the man who did the shooting."

MRS. REID GETS DIVORCE.

Rumored That Husband Gives $200,000 and $30,000 a Year.

Supreme Court Justice Finch granted a divorce yesterday to Mrs. Margaret Carrere Reid from Daniel G. Reid, capitalist, as a result of the verdict of a jury finding that Mr. Reid was guilty of misconduct charged by Mrs. Reid in her counterclaim to her husband's suit. Mr. Reid offered no testimony against his wife, whereas she alleged that he had been guilty of misconduct with her modiste.

Mrs. Reid was on the witness stand yesterday long enough to testify that she had not condoned the acts of which her husband was charged, and alleged that a financial settlement had been arranged in lieu of alimony. It was said at the time of the trial that Mrs. Reid got $200,000 outright and is to have $30,000 a year.

WM. H. LIPPINCOTT, NOTED ARTIST, DIES

American Portrait and Landscape Painter a Sudden Victim of Heart Disease.

A NATIONAL ACADEMICIAN

His Best Known Works Include "The Duck's Breakfast," "Helena" and "Pink of Old Fashion."

William Henry Lippincott, 71 years old, noted American painter of portraits, figure compositions and landscapes, died suddenly Tuesday of heart disease at 1 West Seventy-second Street. He was born in Philadelphia, and was the son of Isaac and Emily L. Lippincott. He was educated at the Friends Private School, Philadelphia, and began the study of art at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. He became a designer of illustrations and later turned to scenic painting.

In 1874 Mr. Lippincott journeyed to Paris and became a pupil of Leon Bonnat. He remained for eight years in Paris, during which time he regularly exhibited his work at the salons. In 1882 he returned to this country and established a studio in this city. Soon after he became Professor of Painting at the National Academy of Design, where he remained for three years.

Until very recently he was a regular contributor of American art exhibitions, but devoted most of his time to scenic painting, having contributed several scenes at the Metropolitan Opera House. Among his best known paintings are "The Duck's Breakfast," "Up Jour de Cons," "Pink of Old Fashion," "Helena," "Infantry in Arms," "Love's Ambush" and "Pleasant Reflections."

Mr. Lippincott was made an Associate National Academician in 1884, and twelve years later was honored as a National Academician. He also was a member of the American Water Color Society, the Society of American Etchers and the Century Association.

CROSS—Suddenly,

YANKEES HAND WORLD'S CHAMPION REDS ANOTHER SOUND BEATING

YANKEES CONQUER CHAMPIONS AGAIN

RALLY NETS FIVE RUNS

Collins, Rookie Pitcher, Shows Dazzling Speed and Makes Strong Impression on Huggins.

Special to The New York Times.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 17.—The Yankees threw the champion Reds for another loss here today, making it two out of three, against the National Leaguers in three successive days. To-day's score was 7 to 3. The game was anything but a walk-over for the New Yorkers. A flock of hits in the eighth inning sent five Yankees home and put an end to what had been an interesting battle.

The game was played amid tropical surroundings with a thick cluster of palm trees forming a background for the batsman. Playing on an unincloised field beside the Royal Poinciana Hotel, the two teams battled before a crowd of about 3,000. The small stand was inadequate and most of the crowd sat on the ground or stood in a fringe around the field. A ground rule was made, limiting all hits into the outfield crowd to three bases and Eddie Roush was the only player who got one of these drives. However, many long drives carried far afield and the spectators gave way to allow the outfielders to make pretty catches.

Mogridge Starts Game.

Huggins started the game with George Mogridge, the veteran southpaw, and five hits which the Reds collected off the southpaw were well scattered. The Reds pushed over a run in the fifth inning, the last that Mogridge toiled, on a brace of doubles, the first by Rube Bressler and the second by Jake Daubert. With the score 2 to 1 in New York's favor, Huggins sent a rookie pitcher to the hill at the start of the sixth inning. Rip Collins, a Texas League graduate, with a world of speed drew the task of keeping the National Leaguers in check, and did exceptionaliy well. His wildness got him into some trouble, but his great speed proved bewildering to the Reds, and he was able to get out of his predicaments. The run scored by the Reds off Collins in the ninth, when Daubert drew a pass, and was allowed to move along to second and then to third base without a play being made on him. Under the new rules Jake got no stolen bases for his efforts. He scored on an infield out. In his four innings of service Collins clown six Reds on strikes, quite a performance for a rookie.

Bressler Helps Own Cause.

Moran used Rube Bressler for five innings, and the Yankees took no undue liberties with the veteran. A double and a pair of scratch hits made up the New York total when the Rube retired after five frames. He had doubled and scored Cincinnati's lone run up to this time, for his fine pitching and hitting were not enough to keep his team in front. Two of New York's hits were bunched with a sacrifice hit and an error in the first frame, two runs resulting.

Rube's successor was one Smith, as much of a rookie as Collines, as he has just been added to the Cincinnati cast. His start was most impressive, but he ran into a cyclone of hits in New York's eighth inning and was badly punished. Babe Ruth failed to reach first base on any of his first three trips to the plate, but in the eighth inning he started the Huggins troupe on its way to victory. With the score a tie and Pipp on second base, Ruth hit one that carromed off Jake Daubert's shin and continued on its way to centre field. Babe made two bases on this tobacco smash, and Pipp's run put the Yanks in front. Ruth later carried in what proved to be the winning run, but a few more were added after Babe registered.

Yankees Off in Front.

The Yankees went to the front in the first inning, scoring two runs. Fewster doubled to centre, Peck singled past third and Fewster counted. Pipp sacrificed Peck to second, Ruth was called out on strikes and when Rapp fumbled a drive by Ward, Peck scored.

The Reds got a run back in the fifth on doubles by Bressler and Daubert and they tied the score in the seventh, with Collins pitching, on singles by Rath and Daubert and an infield out.

In New York's eighth Pipp and Ruth landed on Smith for doubles. Ward sacrificed and then came singles by Vick, Bodie, Ruel and Fewster, the rally netting five runs.

In Cincinnati's ninth Daubert walked, was allowed to take second and third and scored on Roush's infield out.

Player's Leg Is Broken by Batted Ball in Practice

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 17.—Harold Burton Whipp of Fall River broke his leg this afternoon in the Yale baseball cage in a peculiar accident. He was running bases in practice and slid into second base, when a batted ball struck his right leg below the knee, causing a fracture. He was taken to the General Hospital, where the broken bones were set. He was an outfielder but will be benched for the season. He was a freshman in the Sheffield Scientific School.

GIANTS UP IN AIR, BUT WIN AT THAT

Soaring Is Actual, Not Figurative, for They Ride with Aviators and Beat Them.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 17.—The Giants mixed aviation with baseball today with most gratifying results. They spent the day at Kelly Field, wheer they defeated the Aviators' ball team by a score of 16 to 6, and before, during and after the game, players were taken up for flights over San Antonio. John McGraw and most of his regulars, most of the rookies, Dr. Birs, the club dentist, and three of the newspaper men accompanying the club made flights.

The airmen who piloted the machines which gave the visitors all the thrills they really needed were under command of Colonel Archie Miller, late of Mineola. Major W. G. Schauffler took the Giant manager up in the air, while the other members of the party were piloted by Lieutenants E. M. Pooley, C. R. McIver, D. H. Dunton, B. A. Doyle, H. S. Spencer, J. M. Woodard, H. L. Speck and B. R. Morton.

Lew McCarty, who flew with Lieutenant Woodard, remained in the air 45 minutes and attained an attitude of 4,000 feet.

The ball game was rather a jobe affair, though for a time it seemed as though the joke might be in the Giants. At the start, facing the offerings of Lieutenant Miller, the Giants struck at about everything tossed up at them and naturally made but little headway.

Eller led the early attack on the offerings of Wilber Hubbell with a home run in the second inning and the aviators piled up a lead of 5 to 2 on the big leaguers before the game was half over. Then the Giants tightened up and made Eller pitch to them, with the result that that young man soon blew up. He was succeeded by Lieutenant Taylor, who was hit hard. Phil. Douglas finished the game for the Giants.

The bout with the airmen gave the Giants a good workout, and McGraw put several of his recruits into the lineup in the closing innings.

The players and correspondents were treatedly royally at the field. They made the trip out by automobile in the morning and had luncheon at the officers' club. Colonel Miller endeavored to persuade McGraw to keep the players out at the field all night but the Giant manager declined. His team is slated to play the San Antonio Club tomorrow and receipts of the game will be presented to a local charitable organization.

YOUNG ROBINS IN BATFEST.

Marsans of Red Sox Helps Brooklyn Yanigans Beat Regulars.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17—Armando Marsans of the Red Sox arrived in the Robins' training camp here this afternoon and broke into the game between the Regulars and Yanigans. The Cuban coverel left field for the Yanigans and made two hits in five times at bat. He looks to be in good shape, as he has played ball nearly all Winter in Havana. He will leave tonight for the Red Sox training camp at Hot Springs.

Cecil Causey, former Giant and Brave, but now a member of the Phillies, was a spectator at the game. The sorrel-topped hurler is on his way to Birmingham, Ala., where Cravath is getting his team into condition.

The combat at Barr's Field today was a slugging match and the Yanigans proved to be the heavier hitters, collecting eighteen safe blows to the Regulars' sixteen. The final score was 10 to 6 in favor of the Yanigans.

Just before the game Manager Robbie called his regulars together and took them out to second base, where he held a meeting. This enraged the youngsters, and in the first frame of the battle they pounced on John Miljus and scored eight runs. They made seven hits off him in the inning and he twirled to thirteen batters. Baird was at bat twice during the merry-go-round and made a single and a double. Miljus, Heitman and Vines each pitched three frames for the regulars and Mohart, Smith and Schreiber divided the box work for the angry Yanigans.

In the fourth frame the Yanigans scored another. Mitchell, the first man up, hit to deep right and the ball rolled through a hole in the fence. Neis stuck his hands under the boards and recovered the pellet but before it was thrown to the plate Mitchell had circled the bases.

CORNELL CREW ON WATER.

Gets First Outdoor Work Over Half-Mile Course.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 17.—A Cornell crew got out on the water for the first time this afternoon. Under the direction of Coach Courtney, a huge ice cake that had been jammed in front of the boathouse was broken up and a channel a half-mile long from the boathouse to the Buffalo Street Bridge was cleared. Over this course a 'Varsity crew paddled in the first outdoor practice of the season. Coach Courtney is hopeful that by next week all of the Cornell crews can man gigs and begin regular outdoor rowing.

The old man announced that he had decided not to make public the list of his combinations for the present, and intimated that he might refrain from giving them out until just before the first race of the season, that with Yale and Princeton on May 15. He said that he thought publication of the combinations might in the past have been detrimental.

LICENSE IS DENIED TO JOHNNY LOFTUS

Jockey Club Refuses Permission to Premier Rider to Take Mounts This Year.

Johnny Loftus, America's premier jockey and one of the best riders developed in this country in many years, has been denied a license to ride this year. This action was taken yesterday at a meeting of the Jockey Club when the case of Loftus was taken up for special consideration. The announcement was made without any mention of the reasons for the decision.

The denial of a license to Loftus did not come as a surprise to turf followers, but rather as a confirmation of recent reports that such action would be taken. However, it did come as a shock to many followers of racing who admire the jockey's ability, and it was generally felt that a reason for the action should have been given, particularly as no charge had ever been publicly made against him. Loftus finished the season last year in apparent good standing so far as the public knew.

It has been hinted that the Stewards had had occasion to criticize some of Loftus's rides last season and that this formed the basis of their decision. There were only three races in which Loftus rode last season in which serious fault was found with his work. The first of these was at Empire City during the Summer meeting, when he lost with Sun Briar, another when he lost on Man o' War at Saratoga and again when he lost with Sir Barton at Pimlico in the Autumn.

Loftus himself admitted that his ride on Sun Briar was a bad one and declared that he could not account for the matter otherwise than to say that he used very poor judgment. Sun Briar had been made favorite in a race which it seemed he should win quite handily. Loftus was not only severely criticized for that ride but he was questioned by the Stewards, and it was some days before he was again seen in the saddle.

Loftus has never been charged with any deliberate wrongdoing in his dealings with Man o' War at Saratoga in the Sanford Memorial, although he did ride atrociously and was solely responsible for the single defeat of that great colt. Loftus got left at the post and then when finally away ran Man o' War into two or three pockets before he finally went to the outside to finish second to Upset. It was clearly a badly bungled ride, but there was never any charge that Loftus did anything other than lose his head, and he continued to ride Man o' War as long as that colt remained in training.

Loftus put up a bad ride on Sir Barton at Pimlico when the great three-year-old was defeated badly and Commander J. K. L. Ross immediately called upon Sande for further mounts on his racer.

Loftus was under contract to ride for Samuel D. Riddle and Walter M. Jeffords this season, at a salary reported to be $15,000. These horsemen are the owners of Man o' War and Golden Broom, among others, and Loftus was expected to ride the two remarkable colts in their important engagements.

Loftus is the most skilful rider the turf has had in recent years, and for season after season in every country and was soon unable to accept mounts which required him to weigh less than 115 pounds. He finished the season riding only in stake events, where high weights prevailed, and had he been licensed this season he would undoubtedly have been seen only in such races.

DECIDES AGAINST BOWIE.

Circuit Court Not Empowered to Issue Race Track License.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 17.—The Court of Appeals today upheld the lower court, which last Summer decided that the Circuit Court did not have authority to issue licenses for racing at Bowie track. For several years racing has been conducted at Bowie under permits issued by the Circuit Court for the Spring and Autumn meetings.

The decision means that following the Spring meeting, which begins April 1, Bowie will not be permitted to conduct racing unless some measure reversing the present condition is passed by the Legislature. An old law which has never been repealed permits fifteen days of racing each year in Prince George's County and under this statute the Spring meeting can be held.

In the meantime, the race track promoters are seeking the passabe of the Burke Commission bill, which would provide a State commission for the control of all four of the Maryland tracks and thus bring them all under one authority.

After an appeal had been taken from the decision of the lower court last Summer, the race track promoters obtained an injunction to prevent the authorities from halting racing at Bowie in the November meeting and the decision on the injunction was not made until after the meeting was over.

HARVARD AGAINST SYSTEM.

Opposes Experimenting with Definite Number of Football Plays.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 17.—The Harvard football team will not participate in any experimental trial of the Coffin plan to limit the duration of playing periods by a definite number of plays if Head Coach Robert T. Fisher can prevent it. The coach declared today that he was unalterably opposed to the plan and would not favor its use by the Harvard eleven as an experiment even in an early season game.

"The attempt of the Rules Committee to make a touchdown worth more than two field goals, by the elimination of the punt-out, was an excellent move," said Coach Fisher, "but elimination of the stop-watch from the game would be disastrous, and I oppose even its trial by a Harvard team in competition."

Assurance that the Haughton "system" will continue to be the basis of Harvard's football was given by Fisher.

"We will never discard the Haughton system while it is successful," he stated, "but this does not mean that new wrinkles will not be developed. The graduate football committee has been at work on new plays which we believe will strengthen the attack and these innovations will get a thorough trial in the Stadium this Spring."

LOUISIANA DERBY EASY FOR DAMASK

Whitney Entry Wins Getaway Day Feature at Jefferson Park and Sets Record.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 17.—The Winter racing season came to a close at Jefferson Park today in a blaze of glory with the first running of the Louisiana Derby at a mile and a furlong for three-year-olds, which was won with the greatest of ease by Harry Payne Whitney's Damask. This fleet son of All Gold-Crinoline 2d so completely outclassed his field that he won with six lengths to spare and set a new track record for the distance of 1.51 4-5. Damask did what had been generally expected of him and the manner in which he won justified the price of 1 to 5 which had been laid against his chances. Bullet Proof was second and Bread Man third.

The race was witnessed by the largest crowd that has ever jammed its way into the Jefferson Park inclosure. The stands were packed to overflowing and all the available space from which the track could be seen at all was filled. A good brand of weather helped to bring out this record attendance. Though the sky was clauded over, there was no threat of rain and the track was as fast as is possible for this course.

The running of the derby was a reminder of old times to many of the veteran race-goers who remembered when New Orleans offered many big racing events and generous purses. The Louisiana Derby today had $5,000 added and was worth $4,975 to the winner.

There seemed never to be any doubt in the minds of the majority but what Damask would win the race. This colt had already proved he was the best of the three-year-olds racing here. In his last start he had picked up 126 pounds and won with almost as much ease as he did today, and that despite the fact that his jockey broke a stirrup. He easily outclassed the five rivals which went to the post with him and under derby conditions they had to carry equal weight with him. This applied to all but Allivan, which carried 113.

Backed Down in a Hurry.

There was no brisk speculating on the event. Damask opened at 7 to 20, and the first rush of support brought the price down to 1 to 5, where it remained. Most of the play was by those who tried to pick the horses which would finish second and third.

The start was not as good as might be desired in a race of this importance. Three of the six starters did not get away well, but Damask was not one of the unfortunates. Ambrose sent the Whitney colt away with a bound right on the heels of Allivan, and in a hundred yards he had gone to the front. Ambrose kept him close to the rail and the colt drew away so steadily that there was no question about the result. Though Allivan had got the jump on the field at the barrier she tired quickly trying to hold Damask, and the latter was soon running all alone.

Bullet Proof, which had been one of the backward ones at the start, made the drawing once he was under way and gained steadily on the field until, rounding the turn into the stretch, he moved into second place and left the balance of the rivals to trail far back. But Damask by this time was six lengths in front and Ambrose was not making

FAVORITES PUT OUT IN WOMEN'S TENNIS

Mrs. Hartmann Scores Unexpected Victory Over Mrs. Pritchard.

MISS BANCROFT IS OUSTED

Loses Spectacular Match to Miss Winn—Miss Sigourney and Miss Pollak Win in Lower Bracket.

Two more startling upsets marked the advance of the women tennis players to the semi-final round of the national indoor championship on the courts of the Seventh Regiment Armory yesterday. Miss Coroma Winn pulled out a spectacular victory against Miss Leslie Bancroft of Boston, and Mrs. Ingo Hartmann triumphed unexpectedly over her clubmate of the New York Tennis Club, Mrs. W. H. Pritchard. In both cases the winners lost the opening set by the one-sided count of 6—1, squared the match after being close to defeat, and then won out in a hard fought rubber.

The other two semi-finalists, Miss Edith Sigourney and Miss Helene Pollak, were not extended in attaining their brackets. These two will meet this morning in what should be one of the feature matches of the tournament, Miss Winn will face Mrs. Hartmann in the upper half.

When Miss Winn and Miss Bancroft took the court yesterday morning, it looked for a time as though the Boston girl would have a walkover, and those who had anticipated a close match resigned themselves to disappointment. Both of these players are left-handers, and both hit the ball hard, with a free swing on beckhand as well as forehand shots. In the opening set Miss Bancroft seemed the stronger by far, getting much more speed into her drives ,and finding the corners with the most consistent accuracy. Hers is the type of game that becomes almost irresistible when everything is working properly, but may easily be its own undoing if the breaks begin to go the wrong way. This is exactly what happened yesterday.

Miss Bancroft Loses Confidence.

The Bostonian had swept through the first set with little real opposition, and appeared a certain winner when she led at 5—3 in the second. But Miss Winn was fighting back with the greatest courage and, by following her service to the net and taking every chance at volleying, she captured one game and temporarily slowed up her opponent. Miss Bancroft suddenly lost confidence in her brilliant strokes and tried to play safe for the deciding points. This proved a fatal error, even though she was once within a point of victory when still leading at 5—4. In her anxiety to keep the ball inside the lines she netted a great number of shots, and two costly double faults aided in her demoralization. Miss Winn tied up the games and eventually took the set at 8—6.

In the rubber the New York girl ran into a quick lead, but Miss Bancroft pulled herself together and caught up again, the games alternating on service up to 4—all. Miss Winn scored once more on her own delivery and then reached the match point on Miss Bancroft's errors. The latter picked up one tally with a good drive, but hit the next one out, and it was all over at 8—6.

Mrs. Pritchard made a similarly good start against Mrs. Hartmann, but tired rapidly in the latter stages of the match. In the opening set her fast and well placed drives brought her the points rapidly, and she had soon put it to her credit at 6—1. Mrs. Hartmann, however, had lots of tennis in reserve and came back with the greatest determination in the second session, making few errors and using more and more speed. The games went to deuce, and then see-sawed up to seven all, when Mrs. Hartmann finally broke through and squared the match at 9—7.

Mrs. Hartmann Wins Rubber.

This reverse seemed to take the heart out of Mrs. Pritchard and her rival soon accumulated a lead of 5—2 in the rubber. The match point came up at this stage, but was lost, and Mrs. Pritchard had another chance to recover when she pulled out the game. Mrs. Hartmann was in the hole at love-forty on her own service and it was still anybody's match, but Mrs. Pritchard lost control and the server tied up the points. Two strenuous rallies of the deep-court driving settled the affair at 6—3, the loser weakening in the pinch, while Mrs. Hartmann gained confidence with every stroke.

Miss Sigourney played the best tennis of the day in her one-sided victory over Mrs. Stenz, allowing her opponent no games in the opening set and only two in the second. The Boston girl, who suggests a feminine Washburn in her style and appearance on the court, made few mistakes of any kind, placing the ball exactly as she wished and outgeneraling the loser most of the time. She also hit harder than in her earlier matches, stroking the ball freely both backhand and forehand, and serving with great effect. Today's match between Miss Sigourney and Miss Pollak should practically decide the winner of the indoor title.

The Middle States champion, Miss Pollak, was also impressive in her play yesterday defeating Mrs. E. H. Thompson without the loss of a game. If her steady driving can hold up under the strain of real opposition she will make a strong bid for first honors.

The summaries follow:

Women's Singles.

EAST-WEST TENNIS MATCH.

Mrs. Wightman and Miss Goss to Meet Miss Baker and Mrs. Bruce.

An East-West lawn tennis match for women is to be played at San Francisco on March 20 and 21, according to an announcement just made by Dr. Sumner Hardy, President of the California Association. This event is bound to attract much attention in the tennis world, as it gives an opportunity to gain an idea of the relative playing ability of the women on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

During the war the California women were unable to come East for the national championship, and except for the series of matches in which Miss Mary K. Browne and the then Miss Molla Bjurstedt played for the benefit of the ambulance fund, there has been very little intersectional play.

Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. George W. Wightman are both on the Pacific Coast at present, where arrangements have been completed to have them meet the best Californian women.

Boston Bookmakers Are Now Taking Bets on Golf Tourneys

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., March 17.—The local "bookies" who heretofore have centred their efforts on horse racing have now entered the field of golf, and there is considerable resentment among players of the game. The bookmakers are making up sheets on the big tournaments being played in the South. In the recent tournament at Belleair, Fla., for the West Coast open championship, they quoted Walter Hagen at 6 to 1 for first place, 2 to 1 for second and even money for third. The same quotations applied for Alex. Smith, the Belleair professional. Literature has been circulated containing the invitation to inquire about the prices on coming tournaments. It is not unlikely that golf followers here will be stirred to action against the practice.

LONDOS AND LEWIS WINNERS ON MAT

Greek Defeats Jack Grant, While Strangler Easily Downs Australian Grappler.

Jack Grant, heralded far and wide as the wrestling champion of the Pacific Coast, ran smack up against a stormy few minutes last night when he made his début in the East. Grant may have a reputation on the other side of the Sierras, but 4,000 Brooklyn fans who crowded the Forty-seventh Regiment Armory are skeptical. A joke was played on Grant, for the promoters matched the forty-year-old veteran against Jim Londos. It took the busy Greek champion a few minutes to size up the stranger and rather less time to topple him.

One of Londos's pet holds is the flying mare. Tackling an opponent around the legs, Londos whirls him around, tips him one way and then another until the struggling rival sees double from dizziness and fancies the roof is joining with the floor in a topsy-turvy mess. That's just what the Greek did to the Californian, and after the usual preliminary whirling Londos promptly tossed Grant to the mat like a sack of flour, sat on his chest for a few seconds, and waited until Referee Chick Olus had made sure the victim's shoulder blades were touching. The time officially given was 13 minutes and 49 seconds, but Grant thought it was longer. Eventually he regained his feet, got his balance, swayed a few times, waited until the armory stopped moving around him and then left the platform.

Grant had an advantage of some twenty-five pounds over the Greek, but his age, coupled with his poor condition, kept him from proving dangerous.

In the other feature attraction of the evening Strangler Lewis pinned Frank Yurka of Australia to the canvas. After wriggling out of one head hold after another the Britisher fell victim to one of Lewis's double wrist locks, and the referee tickled the Strangler on the shoulder after 31:03.

Lewis was wont to take things easy last night. He had an advantage of weight on Yorka and used his legs with greater resourcefulness. Yurka's chief ability was in wriggling out of trouble. Lewis put a head lock on the visitor after three minutes, but Yurka rolled over to the ropes and scrambled out of danger. Lewis repeated his punishing head lock, often alternating it with the body and head scissors, and it was these tactics which finally enabled him to clamp Yurka into the wrist lock.

In the preliminary matches Young Munday of Brooklyn threw Gene Bruce, also of Brooklyn, in 24:50, with a body hold, and Walter Ludecker of Brooklyn grappled to a thirty-minute draw with Cyclone West of North Carolina.

HYDE IS DOUBLE VICTOR.

Defeats Dana and Whitlock in Harvard Club Squash Tourney.

Filmore Van S. Hyde, a former holder of the national squash tennis championship, yesterday reached the final round of the current tournament for the Harvard Club title, winning two matches in succession. He first disposed of Anderson Dana, three times the national runner-up, in straight games, at 15—12, 18—16, and then survived a four-game clash with F. S. Whitlock in the semi-finals. The latter put up a surprisingly good fight and won the first game before the veteran could get complete control of his strokes. After losing the next two, Whitlock made another splendid effort in the final session, which he forced to extra points before succumbing.

Club Championship—Second Round—Geoffrey Taylor defeated F. H. Davis, 15—12, 18—16.
Third Round—F. Van S. Hyde defeated Anderson Dana, 15—12, 18—16.
Semi-Final Round—F. Van S. Hyde defeated F. S. Whitlock, 13—15, 15—6, 18—16.

CORDIER REACHES FINAL.

Amateur Squash Champion Defeats Guernsey in Yale Club Tourney.

Auguste J. Cordier, present holder of the amateur national squash tennis championship, yesterday reached the final round of the Yale Club tournament by defeating Otis Guernsey in three straight games, scored 15—1, 15—10, 18—15. Stuyvesant Wainwright rather unexpectedly eliminated the old football and baseball star, Alan J. Corey, by scores of 17—14, 15—10, and will meet C. J. MacGuire in the semi-final round today for the honor of playing Cordier for the club title.

The champion got the jump on his opponent and throughout the first game Guernsey was completely at sea. The former fullback improved his game considerably after this disastrous session, however, and reached double figures in the second, with the third going into extra points. Cordier always had something in reserve and succeeded in getting the needed aces in the pinch.

KINSELLA TO PLAY GANLEY.

Challenge Match of Leading Squash Pro Booked for March 27.

Walter A. Kinsella, world's open squash tennis champion, and William D. Ganley, professional coach at the Harvard Club, have at last reached an agreement for the playing of a challenge match. They will meet at the Yale Club on Saturday afternoon, March 27, in the best three out of five games. Kinsella is to allow Ganley a handicap of seven points to the game, and under these conditions an exceedingly close battle is assured.

Stevens Leads N. Y. U. on Track.

In informal track events held yesterday afternoon in the Stevens gym in Hoboken, the Stevens team defeated the representatives of New York University, winning three out of five. Only the track events of the dual meet were run off. The field events will be contested at New York University in the near future.

Mel Coogan Wins Bout.

DETROIT, March 17—Mel Coogan of Brooklyn, substituting for Johnny Dundee, outfought Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee in a ten-round bout here tonight.

BRADY GOING GREAT GUNS WITH PUTTER

Wins Florida East Coast Golf Title and Clips Four Strokes from Links Record.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 17.—Mike Brady of Boston pulled out of a third place tie today and won the Florida East Coast open championship.

In order to win Brady had to establish a record for the course. Gil Nicholls and Brady held it jointly before with a 69. Brady had the putter working and cut off four strokes for a 65. He had seven birdies in the round and made only one mistake. This was on the third hole, where he had a five, taking three putts.

Par figures for the course and Brady's card follow:

	Par.
Out	4	4	4	5	3	4	4	5	3	—36
In	4	4	4	5	5	3	5	5	4	—37—73

Brady's Card.

Out	4	3	5	4	3	3	3	4	3	—32
In	4	4	4	3	3	5	3	4	3	—33—65

Leo Diegel of Detroit, who was leading after the first day's play, had the same score for the first nine holes this morning as Brady, making a 32.

In the afternoon Diegel and Brady played the first six holes in par figures, and still were tied.

Both had good tee shots off the seventh. Brady put his mashie niblick within ten feet of the pin. Diegel had a poor lie and could only shoot for the green. Brady sank his putt and was leading by one shot at the eighth.

At this point Diegel started to miss his short putts, taking three on the eighth green, and was two shots behind. At the short ninth Brady was on the green, with Diegel off of the edge with plenty of mud on his ball. He flivvered another short putt and was 3 down at the turn. Brady was out in 33 and Diegel in 36.

On the tenth Brady had a perfect par 4 and Diegel was over the green on his second and failed to make the green with his third. He took a 6 to the hole and was five shots behind. Diegel lost two on the next two holes, but picked up at the short thirteenth, for here he had a 3 to Brady's 4, Brady taking three putts to get down. He picked the shot up on the next hole, only to drop it again at the long fifteenth. On the last three holes Brady picked up three shots. Charles Hoffner of Philadelphia was around in 71 in the afternoon and finished in a tie for third place, having climbed from seventh position.

The summary:

Mike Brady, 292; Leo Diegel, 300; Charlie Hoffner, 310; Clarence Hackney, 310; Jock Hutchison, 312; Wilfred Reid, 315; Herbert Strong, 318; Tom Kerrigan, 319; W. W. Neilson, 320; Tom Bo'd, 321.

AUGUSTUS WINS MATCH.

Belleair Medalist Beats Kennedy in First Round of Match Play.

Special to The New York Times.

BELLEAIR HEIGHTS, Fla., March 17.—Ellsworth Augustus of Cleveland, yesterday's medal winner, won his first round match in the Belleair championship today when he defeated T. W. Kennedy of Dubois, Pa., by 3 and 2.

Milton Wilson of Chicago, after being 5 down at the ninth, came through a winner by 2 and 1 over T. A. Ashley, the Boston entry. The veteran golfer, C. G. Waldo, a former senior champion, showed a good brand of golf when he defeated Paul Coburn of Lakewood by 3 and 2.

Another close match was that between George Morse of Rutland, Vt., and Dr. C. H. Gardiner of Providence. This match was decided on the last green, with the Vermont golfer the winner.

The summary:

First Sixteen.

First Round—Ellsworth Augustus, Mayfield, defeated T. W. Kennedy, Dubois, 3 and 2; Al J. Mendes, Siwanoy, defeated E. L. Pearce of Clearwater, 3 and 2; Burton Preston, Mansfield, Ohio, won by default from A. W. Wallace, Detroit; C. M. Ranson, Buffalo, defeated Clarence Hobart, New York, 1 up; R. W. Harvey, Philadelphia, defeated R. S. Quigley, Williamsport, 4 and 3; Milton Wilson, Onwensia, defeated T. A. Ashley, Boston, 2 and 1; C. G. Waldo, Brooklawn, defeated Paul Coburn, Lakewood, 3 and 2; George Morse, Rutland, defeated C. H. Gardiner, Providence, 1 up.

BOYD WINS CUE TILT.

Defeats Johann, 115 to 89, in Poggenberg Cup Tourney.

Frank W. Boyd advanced to a commanding lead in Section A of the annual 18.2 balkline billiard handicap tournament for the J. F. Poggenberg Cup at the National Recreation Academy in Brooklyn last night, when he won his fourth straight game by defeating J. R. Johann by a score of 115 to 89. In the afternoon match, John Low defeated James R. Langdon, 115 to 89. All of these players are entrants from Class C and, therefore, played on even terms.

Boyd played steady billiards throughout his match with Johann, a fact attested to by his average of 4 3-28, which is good billiards for a Class C player. Johann strove gamely to overtake his rival but was unequal to the occasion.

Low started off like the proverbial house afire in his match and in the first three innings he made a total of 42 points, but then he failed to count in five successive innings. It was this big lead, gained by a run of 24 on his first turn at the table, a run of 16 on his second trip and a run of 2 in his third inning, that enabled Low to win.

The scores by innings follow:

MADDEN EASY FOR FULTON.

Plasterer Wins on Points in Ring at Philadelphia.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—For five rounds tonight at the Olympia Club it looked as though Fred Fulton must have struck up an acquaintance with Hartley Madden, the aspiring Gotham hodcarrier, but in the sixth Fulton went at him in earnest and won on points.

Those five rounds consisted of Madden trying to stay inside and do some damage to Fulton's anatomy. Fulton contented himself with trying to hold Madden's hands.

It was a slow fight. Most of the action was furnished by Madden's right eye which slowly closed under Fulton's long left jabs. A couple of times Madden stung the plasterer with wild swings, but in the sixth Fulton decided to cut loose and show a little of the stuff he was paid for. He walloped Madden all over the ring.

Fulton was far too big for the New Yorker, outranging him by about sixty pounds and at least eight inches in height. Madden was willing but Fulton put up a poor fight, perhaps through pity.

Footless, Drives Dog Team to Victory in Canadian Race

THE PAS, Manitoba, March 17.—Walter Goyne, the Alaskan, won the Hudson Bay dog derby here yesterday. Pranteau was second, and Hayes third. The winner's time was 13 hours, 22 minutes for the hundred-mile course. Goyne, the winner, is the famous crippled Alaskan musher who lost both feet as a result of freezing on the Alaskan trails some years ago. Pranteau, the second man, finished one hour and a half after Goyne.

GARDNER DEFEATED IN POOL TOURNEY

Loses to Moriarity in Hard-Fought Game for National Title with Score of 125 to 110.

Three matches were played in the pocket billiard tournament for the national championship of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players at the New York Athletic Club yesterday afternoon and last evening. J. Moriarty, Schuyler Burdett and Charley Shongood, Jr., were the winners. In the afternoon Burdett defeated C. E. Patterson by a score of 125 to 107, and Shongood defeated William A. Tilt 125 to 111. In the evening J. Moriarity won from Gus Gardner 125 to 110.

While all of the three matches were won and lost by comparatively narrow margins, of chief interest was the defeat of Gus Gardner. After winning the New York State championship and taking his first game in the current tournament Gardner was one of the favorites to win the national title. His defeat by J. Moriarity came as quite a shock to those who have been espousing Gardner's cause. There were many who figured that Gardner came pretty close to being the class of the tournament, but by consistent playing Moriarity took his measure last night in a game that was full of thrills. Both players made many brilliant shots, knocking off difficult cut shots and doing excellent long-range work with their cues. Their position play, too, was of the best.

It was in the third frame that Moriarity took the lead, and thereafter he managed to keep at least a chalk's width in front of his veteran rival. The match was close and interesting. At no time was the ultimate winner able to forge into a commanding lead, and Gardner was always in a position to deliver a decisive and winning blow.

The scores by frames:

PRIMAKOW WINNER AGAIN.

Defeats Frisch Easily in Three-Cushion Title Tourney.

NATIONAL THREE-CUSHION BILLIARD STANDING.

Player.	W.	L.	H.R.	P.C.
J. Primakow	5	0	5	1000
W. Blumenthal	3	1	4	.725
J. Cosgrove	3	1	5	.725
H. Frisch	2	2	6	.500
H. Frantzen	2	2	6	.500
F. G. Owles	1	3	7	.350
C. Maxwell	1	3	4	.250
G. E. Van Arsdale	0	5	5	.000

Showing some of the best three-cushion billiards that has yet been seen in the tournament being played at Joe Thum's Academy for the national championship of the American Amateur Billiard Association, Joseph Primakow increased his lead last night. He defeated a player who was generally conceded to be one of his strongest rivals for the title, Harry Frisch. The score was 50 to 38, and the victory was sufficiently decisive to make Primakow an almost sure winner of the championship. He still has Henry Frantzen and Joseph Cosgrove to play.

Primakow took the lead at the start of the game and held it throughout. After the twentieth inning was passed Primakow generally had a working margin of at least eight points and sometimes this was increased to as much as ten. The game consumed 90 innings and was free from almost any deliberate safety playing by the rivals. Both were out to make shots.

Primakow's high run was a cluster of 5 and Frisch's was 3.

TO RAISE HOCKEY FUND.

American Olympic Team to Raise Money in Pittsburgh Exhibitions.

PITTSBURGH, March 17.—Plans were completed here today to raise money with which to send an American hockey team to the Olympic games at Antwerp in April, it was announced by William S. Haddock, Vice Chairman of the International Skating and Hockey Union and Treasurer of the Olympic Hockey Funds.

It will be necessary to raise between $12,000 and $15,000, Mr. Haddock said, and it is his intention to secure the amount by assembling the American Olympic hockey team in Pittsburgh and having it play four games. The first two games will be played March 22 and 23 and the last two March 29 and 30.

Roy D. Schooley, manager of the Olympic team, in announcing its personnel last night, said that according to present plans twelve players will be taken to Europe, though it is possible the number may be increased to fourteen.

MAT BOUTS AT TWO CLUBS.

Dates for Metropolitan Championship Wrestling Are Awarded.

Two clubs, instead of the customary one, will conduct the annual wrestling championships of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. this year. Officials of the national association yesterday awarded four of the bouts to the New York A. C. and an equal number to the Crescent A. C. of Brooklyn. At the former club the 125, 145, 158 and heavyweight matches will be contested on March 30 and April 1, and on April 14 and 16 the Brooklyn club will hold the 108, 115, 135 and 175 pound bouts. The division of the championships between the two organizations was made in order to escape the topheavy program that has been the case in past years.

Cutler Makes Big Cue Average.

Albert Cutler again demonstrated that he is still very much in the billiard ring last night at Maurice Daly's, when in the second of his series of 18.2 balk-line exhibition matches against Francis S. Appleby he not only defeated Appleby, but ran out the match of 300 points in eight innings, averaging 37 4-8. He made a high run of 158 in his third inning and finally won the match by a score of 300 to 90.

The score by innings follows:

A. Cutler—13 15 158 58 11 31 1 15. Total—300. High run, 158. Average, 37 4-8.
F. S. Appleby—0 18 0 8 11 23 4. Total—90. High run, 23. Average, 8 3-7.

CHALMERS

A car for those who have an eye for beauty and an ear for rhythm

TO stand and look at a new Chalmers is to admire it. For it has a grace of line, an elegance of finish, a care for little details that compel your attention.

The new coach is low in appearance, and therein lies the secret of its beauty.

You can sit in the car and feel yourself at rare ease.

Start the engine, turn loose the power stream, accelerate it, play with it as you will, you cannot help but detect a smoothness, a perfect rhythm that is pleasing to the ear.

Quality First

There are no engine throbs, no vibration, no apparent effort. Hot Spot and Ram's-horn prevent them. Those two products of master intellects refine the gasoline, "digest" it, "break up the lumps," and make it easy for that magnificent engine to supply that rhythm of power which so quickly denotes a Chalmers.

Drive this car once, and you, too, will say Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

DU PONT
WAR SURPLUS EQUIPMENT

Great industries buy used equipment

World's leading industrial concerns take advantage of money-saving opportunities.

Thousands of manufacturers have bought our surplus equipment and material. Among them are the world's leaders in their respective lines.

These firms never bought used equipment or material, prior to 1919. They were prejudiced against it.

Our sale of surplus equipment changed their idea in this respect. It was a revelation in economy. They found, among our stocks, as you can find, equipment guaranteed to be serviceable and in better working condition than some new equipment.

That's why they bought millions of dollars' worth. Look down this list and see the kind of firms that buy Du Pont surplus equipment

Armour & Company	International Nickel Company
American Coke and Chemical Company	H. W. Johns-Manville Company
Barrett Company	McKesson & Robbins, Inc.
Bethlehem Steel Company	Passaic Worsted Spinning Co.
Champion Fibre Company	Proctor & Gamble Company
Henry Disston & Sons, Inc.	J. E. Rhoads & Sons
Ford Motor Company	Sinclair Oil Company
General Motors Corp.	Standard Oil Company
Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.	Texas Company
H. J. Heinz Company	U. S. Steel Corporation
	Utah Copper Company

Other progressive manufacturers, both large and small, are buying equipment and material, not only for present but for future needs. By saving on equipment they save on production cost.

A New England contractor needed a certain kind of equipment, without which he could not complete a contract. He wired to us and we had just what he wanted. He bought the material, got immediate delivery and saved $35,000 on the purchase. And what was more important to him, he made good on his contract.

If you need any kind of equipment, no matter for what industry, ask us about it. Don't miss this opportunity to get dependable surplus material at below market prices.

All offerings subject to prior sale. Write, phone or wire at once stating what you need, or come personally to Wilmington, or the plants listed below.

CITY FAILS TO HALT GAS OIL HEARING

Nixon Calls Plaint That It May Be Used to Fight 80-Cent Gas "Nonsensical."

U. S. SUPPLY IS INADEQUATE

Consolidated Sees Price Rise Unless British Thermal Unit Is Adopted.

The city sought to put an end yesterday to the hearing into the shortage of gas oil before Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon. Assistant Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien made frequent statements that the complaints of the gas companies were designed to influence various pending suits to set aside the eighty-cent gas law. Mr. O'Brien said that testimony showing the increased price of oil might be used in the pending litigation and suggested that the inquiry be discontinued.

Mr. Nixon declined the suggestion and called the objections of Mr. O'Brien "nonsensical."

"You must have a poor case," he said, "if it will not withstand any facts which may be brought out here."

Representatives of various gas companies testified. The Brooklyn Union Gas Company had oil to last until the end of July, when its contract with the Standard Oil Company expires. The Brooklyn Borough Gas Company can operate with oil contracted for during the same period, and so can the Bronx Gas and Electric Company. It was said that gas companies in other States were facing the same situation, and that the present method of manufacture could not be changed in less than two or three years.

Walter R. Addicks of the Consolidated Gas Company testified that there was not sufficient oil produced in this country to supply the demand. The hearing will be continued today.

A statement by the Consolidated Gas Company said it and its subsidiaries had enough oil for this year. It was explained that the company had both coal-gas and water-gas plants, and used less oil than companies which manufacture only water-gas. This company advocates changing the candle power standard of measuring gas to the British thermal unit standard. Its statement calls the 22-candle power standard antiquated, wasteful of oil and productive of no corresponding benefit to the consumer of gas, and says the Legislature may advisably empower the Service Commission to prescribe the British thermal unit standard for the city.

"If this is not done, the new gas rates fixed as a result of pending proceedings in the State and Federal Courts will have to be several cents higher than if a modern heating standard had been prescribed for the quality of gas," the statement continued. "To compel the companies to use needless oil will cost the public money."

Another statement by a representative of the company said that in the last year the price for gasoline had advanced about 40 per cent. and other gas products jumped from 50 to 200 per cent. It said gasoline now is produced at a rate of about 11,000,000 gallons a day, but the demand is in the neighborhood of 14,000,000 gallons.

Dignified in appearance and luxurious in comfort. Not merely an ideal article of use on which tired limbs may recuperate at night, but a pleasing accessory at all times to any refined bedroom.

JERSEY ASYLUM INQUIRY.

Edwards Orders Investigation of State Village for Epileptics.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, March 17.—At the direction of Governor Edwards, Burdette G. Lewis, State Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies, will investigate charges of brutality at the State Village for Epileptics at Skillman. The charges have been made by Mrs. Ida E. Seals and John Little, of Haddonfield, who allege that Mrs. Elsie Little, a patient at the institution, was brutally treated. According to the affidavit of Mrs. Seals, mother of Mrs. Little, she and her son-in-law found Mrs. Little's hair had been pulled out; that she was covered with bruises; that her lips and chin were burned as if by acid, and that "she looked more dead than alive." The woman told her relatives, according to the affidavit, that for no reason she had been abused and beaten unmercifully.

Commissioner Lewis said today that Dr. Weeks had explained that the woman's hair had been falling out and that hair tonic had been prescribed. He admitted there were red marks about the ankles of the patient and explained that during a period of mania the patient's ankles had been fastened to a cot, a towel having been used for this purpose. The condition of the lips, Dr. Weeks explained, was caused by cold sores, which the patient had aggravated.

FIRE SET WHERE MAN SLEPT

Pittsburgh Woman Accused of Trying to Burn Husband.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, March 17.—Accused of setting fire to the room in which her husband, Michael J. Dougherty, was asleep in the Boylan Hotel early this morning, Mrs. Jennie Dougherty, aged 53, of Arch Street, was arrested in her home this afternoon by Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr.

According to Pfarr, the woman stole into the hotel, poured oil on the door of the room in which her husband lay asleep and on the carpet of the hallway, and then set fire to the place. J. P. Boylan, son of the hotel proprietor, smelled smoke, and had an alarm turned in. Dougherty was awakened by another guest after the flames had eaten through the door and were spreading along the hall. Dougherty, choking from smoke, unlocked the door and dashed through the fire to safety.

Mrs. Dougherty, according to the Fire Marshal, appeared at the hotel several days ago dressed in male attire and asked for her husband. Boylan recognized her and ordered her from the place. It was asserted also that Mrs. Dougherty was seen in the neighborhood of the hotel shortly after last midnight. The fire caused several hundred dollars' damage to the hotel.

WARNS OF TOBACCO BAN.

Magistrate Nolan Cites Fate of Liquor to Subway Smokers.

In imposing $2 fines upon a score of subway smokers in Jefferson Market Court yesterday, Magistrate Thomas J. Nolan declared that prohibition was brought about by the same sort of violations of the law and that repeated violations eventually would result in laws against smoking.

"It was the same sort of abuses of the liquor traffic that brought it into disrepute," Magistrate Nolan said. "It ought to be obvious to you that a continuation of such violations of the law and of street and subway etiquette will eventually cause you and others to be deprived of the privilege of smoking."

BOY CORPORAL DECORATED.

Fifteen-Year-Old Soldier at Ellis Island Fought on Saloniki Front.

The outstanding figure in a group of 604 Croats, Slovenes and Serbs who returned to this country from Dalmatia on Monday is a fifteen-year-old Cavalry Corporal, Nicholas Stankovich, who for two years had fought side by side with his father, who left America to fight for his native land.

Corporal Nicholas, who with the rest of the volunteers is still at Ellis Island, proudly displayed the Obolich Medal yesterday, which he received for bravery on the Saloniki front. He was wounded, he said, with a piece of the shell which killed his father in April, 1917.

MOGENSEN & CO. FAIL OWING $2,000,000

Export Firm Forced to Assign by Low Exchange Rate of Recent Months.

RUMANIAN ACCOUNTS BAD

Unable to Collect $400,000 Due—Assets Said to be Equal to Liabilities.

A general assignment for the benefit of creditors was filed yesterday by the firm of George Mogensen & Co., consisting of George Mogensen and Gerome S. Dumont. The liabilities, it was said, would aggregate $2,000,000. The firm did a large export business, and the failure, it was stated, was due mainly to the heavy difference in exchange during the last few months and the refusal of Rumanian merchants to pay more than $400,000 of invoices. The assignment is in favor of William C. Fitts, and covers all partnership and individual property.

Following the assignment H. and J. J. Leaser, attorneys for three creditors whose claims aggregate $2,217, filed in the Federal court an involuntary petition in bankruptcy. The petitioning creditors are the Western Union Telegraph Company, whose claim is for $2,000; Charles Viale & Co., Incorporated, $190, and Morris S. German, $27.

It was said that the assets of the concern are sufficient to meet all of the liabilities. A fear that the unsettled money conditions of the world might seriously embarrass the firm's credit brought Mr. Mogensen home from the Paris office, which he had used as his headquarters, since he was discharged from the navy. On his arrival here he thought it best for the protection of all concerned to make the assignment. Mr. Dumont agreed with him.

In August Mr. Dumont and Solomon Shuldinger, of the United States Brokerage and Trading Company, were accused of having defrauded the Government by making false returns of money received by them from the sale of goods that went astray or were damaged in transit on the railroads. The defendants pleaded not guilty, and each was held in $25,000 bail.

Two employes of the New Jersey Central Railroad Company were indicted for complicity in the alleged wrongdoing. At that time Assignee Fitts, the attorney for the Mogensen Company, issued a statement in which he said that the railroad matter was entirely disconnected with the business of Mogensen & Co. and that the indictments grew out of a controversy between the railroad administration and a small business house conducted under the name of the United States Brokerage Company which was organized by Mr. Dumont but with which he had no connection after his activities were absorbed by Mogensen & Co.

Raises $40,250 for Palestine.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Announcement was made tonight that at the mass meeting Monday night in the interest of the Palestine Restoration Fund $40,250 was raised toward the quota of $80,000, which is the Capital's share of the $1,000,000 fund which the country is raising.

BUSINESS NOTES.

W. B. Dodds, formerly of James T. Leonard & Co., resident buyers, has been appointed manager of the hosiery and underwear departments of the Resident Buying Division of the Bush Terminal Sales Building and, in addition, will also be in charge of the promotion department.

The eleventh semi-annual General Merchandise Show, to be held in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Commodore August 9 to 14, will have 900 lines of domestic and foreign merchandise on exhibition for the benefit of retailers.

Frances, fashionable dressmaker, has moved into a new building at 10 West Fifty-sixth Street, where an exhibition of new models is featuring the formal opening. The new designs include coats, street dresses, evening gowns and millinery.

Samuel A. Lerner, President, and M. Mossessohn, Executive Director, of the United Waist League of America will represent that organization at the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States which opens on April 26 at Atlantic City.

BUSINESS RECORDS

In Town.

GEORGE MOGENSEN and Gerome S. Dumont, heretofore comprising the firm of George Mogensen, exporting, at 50 Broad Street, have assigned to William C. Fitts of 88 Pine Street. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against the firm by the following creditors: Horace S. German, $27; Carl Viale Co., Inc., $190, and the Western Union Telegraph Company, $2,000. For several years the firm engaged extensively in the export business, with offices at 50 Broad Street, as well as in Paris and other European cities. It is said that the liabilities will aggregate about $2,000,000, with assets of a considerable larger amount, if realized upon. The immediate cause of the suspension of business was the heavy difference in exchange during the last few months, taken in connection with the refusal of payments by Rumanian merchants to the amount of over $400,000 of invoices.

MAXIME'S SHOP—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Max Honigman and Hyman Honigman, copartners, doing business as Maxime's Shop, cloaks and suits, at 58 West 125th Street, by the following named creditors: David Brandstein, $2,896; Cohen Bros., $522, and Adolph Auerbach, $345. Judge Hand has appointed Hamilton M. Dawes receiver, in $3,000 bond. It is said that the indebtedness is in excess of $14,000, and that merchandise on hand and accounts payable are not more than $5,000.

THE V. & S. BAKING CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against The V. & S. Baking Co., Inc., bakery and lunch room, at 565 W. 207th St., by the following named creditors: Abraham Winesky, $544; Jacob Rosenberg, $576, and Morris Zwerner, $318.

MARY CHANCE, teacher, residing at 186 W. 80th St., has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $740 and no assets.

FREDERICK W. SCHELLING, grocer, at 2,896 Grand Concourse, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $2,375 and assets of $1,716, consisting of cash, $6; stock, $1,000; fixtures, $500, and accounts due, $210. Judge Hand has appointed Bertha Rensbaugh receiver in $1,000 bond. Among the creditors are Fearlman & Goldsmith, $217; John Blumer & Bros., $194, and George F. Wagner Co., $167.

ROLF E. GAHN—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Rolf E. Gahn, at 2,132 7th Av., with liabilities of $2,600 and no assets. Among the creditors are City Hotel Supply Co., $428, and J. R. Gibney & Co., Inc., $177.

PLAIA WAIST CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Lawrence Plaia and Antonio Plaia, individually and as copartners, trading as Plaia Waist Co., at 130 Bleecker St., by the following named creditors: Henry Benoit, $732; A. Miller, $1,047, and R. Siegel, $2,186. Liabilities are said to be about $25,000 and assets about $2,000.

NOVELTY MIRROR WORKS AND SHOW CASES CO., INC., at 25 West Houston St., has filed schedules in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $26,443 and assets of $5,510, consisting of deposits, $10; property, fixtures, &c., sold at auction, $2,300, and collections to date on accounts receivable, approximately $3,200. Among the creditors are Augustus Mettler, $8,000; Howard Mettler, $7,400; Allison & Dougherty, $5,147, and Louis Cohen, $905.

ALBERT A. FLAMBERG, silks, 70 Fifth Avenue, has filed schedules in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $52,898 and assets of $27,245, consisting of stock, $750; fixtures, $150; accounts due, $4,426, and deposits, $17. Among the creditors are Globe Merchandise Co., Inc., $11,017; Samuel Liebman, $9,402; Goldman & Elsman, $4,487, and Breselor & Kluanner, $2,624.

HANS C. POPPELBAUM—Judge Hand has issued an order dismissing the petition in bankruptcy filed Feb. 17 against Hans C. Poppelbaum, retail grocer at 2,101 Third Avenue, upon a settlement of 30 per cent. in cash with creditors.

PALMER TO ATTACK 30 TRADE GROUPS

Following Hardwood Case Decision, He Lists as Trusts Bodies Exchanging Data.

HIGH COST WAR HELPED

Memphis Victory Opens Way Toward Seeking Evidence Against Produce Exchanges.

WASHINGTON, March 17. — Trade organizations exchanging trade information were placed in the category with trusts by the Department of Justice, which, following the recent court decision in the hardwood lumber case at Memphis, announced tonight its intention to proceed against all commercial groups conducting operations similar to those of the hardwood lumber men.

While the lumber case was of a civil character, Assistant Attorney General Ames, who directed the prosecution, declared it had clearly established the law's application. It was on this basis, he said, that the Government would direct the prosecution of corresponding trade bodies believed to have operated in combination to restrain trade.

It was understood that the department had under consideration data concerning more than thirty such groups. The Memphis decision gave strength to the Government's case in such suits as the action against the cement manufacturers, the Chicago Mesaic and Tiling Company, which involves activities of the Chicago Mantel and Tile Contractors' Association, and the Chicago labor union cases, officials asserted.

In the latter case no entirely new principle would be established in the relationship between capital and labor if a decision faborable to the Government were rendered, it was explained.

Mr. Ames said that no trade organization could feel immune from the Anti-Trust statutes through having filed with the department papers defining its operations. He made it clear that the department had not thus committed itself to show them leniency.

The Memphis decision was the first of its kind, and is viewed as having given the Government new angles to develop in the campaign against the high cost of living. A hint was given that the department expected to start soon seeking evidence against trade bodies composed of dealers in foodstuffs. A case against certain members of the Chicago Butter and Egg Board is now awaiting trial, and there are said to be a score or more of produce exchanges which probably will be subjected to close scrutiny as a result of the Government's victory at Memphis.

The Memphis decision also was said to have furnished a basis for an attempt to end by injunction method, the exchange of trade information with respect to prices and stocks. It was expected, however, that many of the organizations coming within the scope of the law as interpreted by the Memphis District Court, would voluntarily cease practices which Judge McCall held served to induce high prices.

The department will not seek a settlement by this means, however, Mr. Ames declared, that in all cases where violations are discovered "proceedings of an appropriate character" would be instituted.

BOUGHT GERMAN WAR BONDS

Jay Weber Admits Pictorial Review Invested Before 1917.

When the trial of Jay A. Weber, Secretary of the Pictoral Review Company, on a charge of bribing Nathaniel W. Gropper, an agent of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, to swear falsely to the income tax return of the company, was resumed before Federal Judge Cushman yesterday, Judge Charles F. Lynch of the Federal Court of New Jersey was called as a witness by John B. Stanchfield, counsel for the defendant. The witness, in reply to questions, said that an investigation made to ascertain whether William P. Ahnelt, President of the Pictorial Review Company, had done anything inimical to the interest of the United States during the war had revealed nothing reflecting upon Mr. Ahnelt's character or patriotism.

Cross-examined by Benjamin P. DeWitt, the Government prosecutor, the witness stated that he had not learned whether the company had subscribed for 400,000 marks of German war bonds and for only $100 worth of Liberty bonds, and that the investigation did not extend to the activities of the company.

Weber was recalled to the witness chair. Under cross-examination he admitted that the company had bought some German war bonds before the United States entered the war and said that the company and Mr. Ahnelt together had subscribed for $1,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds, but only $500,000 worth was allowed. He was asked how it happened that the company, with $4,000,000 worth of business in 1917, had only a tax of $500. The witness explained by saying the smallness of the amount was due to deductions and expenses. Among the deductions, he said, was $413,000 lost in 1917 in stock transactions and that the net profit for the year was only $17,000.

KAYSER ESTATE TO FAMILY.

Manufacturer's Will Has Bequests for Factory Aid and Charities.

The will of Julius Kayser, glove manufacturer, and head of Julius Kayser & Co., who died March 2 last, at 18 East Seventy-first Street, disposes of an estate of more than $1,000,000. He gave $72,000 in stock of his corporation for the benefit of the Kayser Girls' Auxiliary, and $50,000 in stock to the Julius Kayser Mutual Aid Association. Bequests of $10,000 each went to the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society, Montefiore Home, and the Hebrew Technical School for Girls.

Mr. Kayser left an income of $76,000 a year to his widow, Henrietta B. Kayser; $100,000 in cash to his daughter, Mrs. Laura K. Bayer of 32 East Seventieth Street; a trust fund of $400,000 to his daughter Alice, and divided the residuary estate equally among his two daughters and the two children of Mrs. Bayer, who are to have their share outright when they are 25 years of age. Jules S. Bache, brother-in-law, and Edwin S. Bayer, son-in-law, are named as executors.

Mr. Kayser gave $10,000 to Ellen Drake for faithful services, and $250 to each servant in his employ.

Canadian Fur Offerings.

Announcement of the collections of furs to be sold at the first auction of the Canadian Fur Auction Sales Company, Ltd., which is to be held at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, beginning on Monday next, attracted considerable attention in the local trade yesterday. While most of the quantities are small when compared with the corresponding offerings at the sales in this city and St. Louis, trade comment was to the effect that, for a first sale, the general collection aised up very well. Particular attention is being paid here to the offerings of silver fox and fisher, with muskrats also in the trade eye. All of the offerings are now on show at the warehouse of the company, 180 Lagauchetiere Street West, Montreal.

Selling Credit Terms.

In credit circles there is a feeling that to encourage anticipation of bills more attractive merchandise prices may be offered. The line of reasoning that ventures this opinion is that many manufacturers who are unable to obtain their accustomed loans from the banks will have to depend on their own collections for necessary capital. To get these collections more promptly some inducement must be offered, it is explained, and lower prices should become the bait. When it is considered that lower prices can come only from reduced profits and decreased production costs, it is also thought quite probable that ways will be found to increase production.

Get Many Offerings.

The recent offers of two large manufacturers, one of shirts, the other of coats and suits, to buy up certain materials if offered at attractive prices, resulted in the transfer of quite a large quantity of goods. Many more offers were made than could be accepted, and while they were not all at values thought desirable by the purchasers, a good many bargains were obtained. The garment house, for instance, will find it necessary to lease additional warehouse space in which the newly-acquired goods may be stored.

Rush of Deliveries.

Another condition of business which, along with bad weather, has not improved the feeling in retail circles is the rush of deliveries of both new and back due merchandise. Even with counter sales better than in corresponding months last year the merchants, it is said, get the impression of large surpluses of merchandise in the wholesale trade, when large and overdue shipments keep coming in. It has been natural for manufacturers in lines where the present demand is slack to get busy and clear up back orders. Shipments of these orders, many of them forgotten as they were given months ago, are not calculated, in the opinion of the wholesalers themselves to improve buying sentiment in retail circles.

Silks Continue Unsettled.

Further weakness in raw silk values and continued "unloading" by second hands in need of money, still make for unsettled conditions in the silk trade. While it is claimed that manufacturers of high-grade goods are not suffering to effects from reductions on the cheaper goods, it is the accepted opinion in the market that the trade in general will eventually feel some detriment from the readjustment. Among the makers of good merchandise, the fate which has fallen to the lot of cheap properties and cheaper lines, if anything, been welcomed. According to these factors the throwsters got all the profits on georgette and similar constructions, owing to the character of the material.

Tricolette Blouses.

Unless manufacturers of blouses turn to some other type than tricolette, in the opinion of a well-posted resident buyer, there is apt to be a surplus of such goods built up that will prove hard to handle. He ventured the opinion that blouses are articles of women's apparel that depend to quite some extent on individuality for their successful sale, and too large an output of any one style is quite likely to be turned to the disadvantage of the manufacturers. At present, he said, there is quite an active demand for such goods, but there are already signs, that of the retailers shying clear of them, as the prospect becomes evident of too large and wide a distribution.

Gray Goods Prices Firmer.

Active trading and better prices featured the local gray goods market yesterday. March-April deliveries of 38½-inch 64-60s, were sold at 32½, while at 25 cents a good business was done in 39-inch 68-72s, for April-June shipment. For shipment during the remainder of this month 39-inch 80 squares and 72-76s were disposed of at 31 and 28 cents respectively. In the sheetings May-June lots of 7-yard and 5.50-yard goods were let out, respectively, at 19 and 17 cents. Sateens were somewhat more active, but without especial feature. Not much was done in the fine-yarn goods.

Crude Drug Prices Lower.

The crude drug group, with both foreign and domestic botanicals participating, has played the leading part in the revision of prices here this week. Drug and Chemical Markets will say today, with declines in the majority. Manufacturers have advanced mercurials and denatured alcohol is higher. Peremptory are demanded for the little wood alcohol available. In the heavy chemicals soda ash and caustic soda are advancing rapidly, and a $7 price for the former is expected in this market. In the oils market about the only strength is shown by linseed oil.

A New Use for Hat Straw.

One of the new and attractive methods of arranging straw on the brims of Spring hats is to take wide strips of it and have them run over the brim edge in vertical lines to the crown. The straw, in strings about five or six inches wide, is sewed to the under headband, drawn over the edge of the brim and fastened to the base of the crown at intervals of three or four inches. Ribbon is then drawn through the loops formed in this way and finished at the side with a bow. Sometimes the looped strips are run over a brim of plain straw. Models embodying the loop feature are being shown in steadily increasing numbers here.

New Accounts Being Sought.

Inside information from the shoe trade indicates that many retailers are not accepting the higher prices asked for Fall lines with the grace that previous increases were paid. The feeling everywhere is that shoe prices have got to come down, but, uncertain as to when it will be, there is a disposition on the part of retailers either to hold back or to order in smaller quantities than usual. Partly due to this smaller buying and partly to the increased output which most of the shoe factories are showing, manufacturers are endeavoring to broaden their circle of customers. Salesmen in some cases are being instructed to go after accounts that they never sold before, while in others they are again seeking orders from small retailers that were more or less neglected when the demand was greater and the supply subnormal.

PROF. GOWIN'S WIFE SAYS HE BEAT HER

POUNDED WITH TENT STAKE

Fists, Boots and Ruler Said to Have Been Used—She Is Called Peevish.

Enoch Burton Gowin, professor of business management in the New York University School of Commerce and Vice President and General Manager of the American Institute of Finance at 90 West Broadway, was accused in the Supreme Court yesterday by his wife, Lucy C. Gowin, of extreme cruelty in the last six years, which she said finally compelled her to leave his home at 126 West Eighty-fifth Street on Feb. 29 because she felt that "her life was not safe." Among other things Mrs. Gowin accused her husband of beating her for half an hour with a tent stake, while they were on a camping trip.

Mrs. Gowin asked Supreme Court Justice Gavegan yesterday for $200 a month alimony pending trial of the separation suit, on the ground that her husband has an income of $5,000 a year from his teachings and from books written by him. Professor Gowin appeared before Justice Gavegan personally, and upon his statement that his income was less than his wife alleged the court awarded alimony of $20 a week. Professor Gowin alleges that his wife has been subject to fits of peevishness which resulted in quarrels between them, but denied that his conduct had been as cruel as she charged.

Mrs. Gowin said she married the defendant in Milwaukee in 1911, and in the course of their married life, because of her husband's "manifestations of violent temper," he has knocked her down and kicked her on many occasions. The specific allegations of cruelty made by Mrs. Gowin are:

In March, 1914, at their home at 145 Audubon Avenue, he kicked her out of bed and knocked her down, and when she ran into the bathroom for safety he tied the door with a rope and she had to stay there all night.

In August, 1914, he beat her with his fists, blackened her eye and caused her to run into the hallway, where he continued to beat her in the presence of other tenants until she called for the police.

In February, 1916, at 47 West Fifty-second Street, he knocked her down with his fists and told her if she could not learn anything any other way he would "beat it into her dull skull."

In August, 1916, while they were on a camping trip at Lake George, he ordered her to go into her tent and remove her glasses, then pulled up a tent stake 15 inches long and 3 inches wide, and after knocking her down, he beat her all over the body except on the head for half an hour until she was black and blue and could hardly move. Then he compelled her to take a blanket to the shore of the lake and wash it and stand in front of a fire he built for two hours until it dried.

In June, 1917, at 9 West Forty-seventh Street, he knocked her down, kicked her with his boots and beat her with his fists for ten minutes.

In November, 1919, in his office at 90 West Broadway, where she was employed, he struck her in the presence of a stenographer, Elsa Muller, who said in an affidavit that Professor Gowin quarreled with his wife over a mimeograph machine.

In October, 1919, he dragged her across the floor on her knees, causing wounds which became infected.

In December last, at 126 West Eighty-fifth Street, he kicked her out of bed onto the floor, causing wounds on her body, and when she returned to bed, he kicked her out again, and she had to sleep on the floor.

Shortly before last Christmas, at his office, he struck her in the stomach, causing her great pain, knocked her into a corner and kicked her with his boots, and then got a celluloid ruler and beat her on the arms, chest and hips until he tore a hole in her dress, causing the blood to flow, after he refused to permit her to wash off the blood, but compelled her to sit for two hours writing a statement about errors in the conduct of business.

Mrs. Gowin told the court that her husband has refused to speak to her for the past two months, except on business matters, and that he burned books belonging to her.

SIX SAFES RIFLED IN OFFICE BUILDING

All of the Tenants in Church Street Block Robbed—Thieves Get $3,350.

$5,000 IN GEMS UNTOUCHED

Drilled Hinges and Pried Doors Without Touching Combinations —More Silk Thefts Reported.

Six safes were rifled by burglars on Tuesday night or early yesterday morning in the office building at 96 to 102 Church Street, between Barclay Street and Park Place. The thieves obtained at least $3,350 in cash, Liberty bonds, gems and watches. All of the tenants in the building were robbed. They were William Romaine, clock and watch maker, who lost $800; John D. Cook, diamond cutter, who lost $1,000; Page-Treadway Company, loss $500; American Wire Form Company and Hatchett Cigar Company, whose loss was $500 each, in bonds, and Ezekiel Brothers, whose loss is unknown.

A strong box containing $5,000 in gems and jewelry in the office of Mr. Cook was either overlooked or the robbers were unable to break into it, as the contents were intact yesterday. Mr. Romaine said his loss included a number of watches that had been sent to him by personal customers for repairs. The burglars worked their way through every door of the offices on the six floors of the building. They opened the safes by drilling holes around the hinges and prying the doors out without attempting to work the combinations.

"The thieves got together clothing, office coats, rugs and all other articles they could find to make a bedding for the safe while they worked," said Mr. Romaine. "They turned the safe over on this cushionlike formation and drilled out the hinges of the door. The burglars left four drills in my place, and eight other drills were found by tenants. Part of one of my trays of watches was found on another floor, where the thieves had apparently made a final assortment of what they considered the most valuable."

Other thefts and robberies which the police had not made public, but which became known yesterday, included the theft of silk valued at $6,000 from the wholesale loft of the Mannie Solomon Company, 31 East Thirty-first Street. The Carlisle Textile Company of New Jersey, with offices at 141 Wooster street, has reported the theft of a large number of bolts of silk, the value of which has not been stated. The thieves broke the street door lock with a jimmy in the same way that entrance was gained in the Church Street robberies.

P.P.C. Printing Facts

Type printing, or "letter-press," is far more effective on an antique book paper than on a coated or super stock. The color of the ink is stronger and the absence of glare from the surface of the paper makes for easy reading. When half-tone cuts are used, of course the printing cannot be done on antique stock. Often, however, when there are but few engravings they would look equally well if made into line plates. Not only will you save money, but you will get a far better result.

KNOX CLOTHES
For Men

WITH the purpose in mind of increasing the Knox service to men, a department has been organized which will be given over exclusively to clothes ready for wear.

Men are familiar with the character and standards which have prevailed in connection with Knox Hats. Exactly the same elements have been carefully maintained in the production of Knox Clothes.

Sold, as they are, under the Knox trademark; the tailoring, materials, correctness of style and general desirability need no further warrant.

To give Knox Clothes the presentation befitting their character, a mezzanine floor has been erected in the Four-Fifty-Two Fifth Avenue Store, and the garments will be shown Thursday, March 18th.

Customary Knox ideals of service will prevail, and men will be capably supplied, in accord with their requirements, with "Knox Clothes for every occasion."

CITY THREATENS TO RUN I. R. T. LINES

Burr Says Contract Gives Right of Seizure if Service Is Inadequate.

WRITES LETTER TO DELANEY

Holds That Company Admits That Proper Accommodation Is Not Given.

TO SHIFT RESPONSIBILITY

Board of Estimate Will Have to Pass on Question—Several Remedies Proposed.

The expected move of the city administration to compel the Interborough Rapid Transit Company to render to the public "adequate and comfortable" service on its lines under threat of municipal seizure and operation was taken yesterday. Corporation Counsel Burr sent to Transit Construction Commissioner John H. Delaney a letter explaining the contract between the city and the company with special reference to those sections which specify the sort of public service the company was to render.

Mr. Burr referred to the order of Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon directing the company to add 600 cars to its present subway service and to change the schedules so that the service for nearly twenty-four hours each day would be equivalent to that now given during the rush hours. The company indicated its intention of obeying the order but obtained from the Commissioner a delay until March 25 before filling the new schedules.

In calling Mr. Delaney's attention to this delay Mr. Burr notified him that as Transit Construction Commissioner he was authorized, "upon thirty days' notice of his intention to do so, to serve notice of the default upon the lessee to cure the default within ninety days thereafter or in the event of its failure to do so such of the remedies provided in the contract) will be invoked against it."

The provision referred to include several remedies which may be applied to the situation for the purpose of remedying it. The one that it was intimated would be invoked gives the city the liberty of taking over the property and operating it. Mr. Burr explained yesterday that after serving the necessary notice upon the company the commission would shift the whole matter to the Board of Estimate, which would be required to take appropriate action for carrying on the operation, providing it succeeded in getting possession of the property. He also explained that the company would have the right to appeal to the courts and until a final judicial decision was rendered the property would remain in the company's possession. A final decision, it was said, might be delayed for a long period.

Mr. Burr, in his letter to Mr. Delaney, said that in the inquiry into the traction matters now pending before the Board of Estimate Frank Hedley, President of the Interborough Company, testified that traffic on the subways was increasing to such an extent that the operation of the road "is saturated to that degree that you have not sufficient tracks, and have not sufficient subways. You ought to have more railways in order to give the people decent and comfortable accommodation."

Mr. Burr said that on March 1 the Public Service Commission rendered a judicial opinion to the effect that the service on the east and west subway lines was inadequate. His letter to Mr. Delaney continued:

"In addition to the admissions of President Hedley, we thus have the finding of the Public Service Commission in an official order that the service is 'inadequate' and contrary to the requirement of the contract."

Mr. Burr's letter advised Mr. Delaney that:

"On failure of the Interborough Company to comply with your request to cure such default within the time allowed you, thereupon notify the Board of Estimate of such fact and arrange for a conference to determine upon the particular remedies of those remedies prescribed by the contract it may be deemed necessary and proper to enforce. I would be glad to confer with you as to the form of the notice of default to be served upon the lessee."

The section of the contract permitting the city to take over the property and operate it in case of any default on the part of the company provides that the city may run the lines itself or employ by lease or otherwise some person, firm or corporation to run them. But if the city or its agent shall default in any provisions then the company would have the right to recover possession of the property. One clause in the contract says that the lessees shall not be declared in fault "under any of the conditions, obligations or requirements of the lease, or of any other portion of this contract, in any case in which the performance of any such condition, obligation or requirement is prevented by reason of strikes, injunctions or other causes beyond the control of the lessee."

FLUSHING GETS CARS AGAIN.

New York & North Shore Traction Co. Ordered to Operate Lines.

Deputy Public Service Commissioner Alfred M. Barrett made an order yesterday directing the New York & North Shore Traction Company to immediately resume operation of its lines. The order was sent to George A. Stanley, President of the company. The order stated that the lines from Flushing to Bayside and Whitestone ceased operation on March 2 because the financial condition of the company made it impossible to obtain enough money to clear the tracks of snow and ice. General Manager Moyen of the company told the Commissioner that it would cost $50,000 to renew operations.

Mr. Barrett reminds the company that conditions are getting back to normal, and that there no longer exists any reason why the public should be deprived of the services tha company bound itself to render.

Strike of 15,000 Engineers in England Is Quickly Ended

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Co.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 17.—A strike of 15,000 engineers employed by the British Government department known as the Office of Works, broke out this morning and was settled by evening by the department concerned agreeing to the men's demand.

The trouble arose over the dismissal of a workman by a foreman. Engineers maintained that not only should the workman be reinstated, but that the foreman should be dismissed.

The speedy settlement of the strike is assumed to be due to the fact that Buckingham Palace, the houses of Parliament and numerous public buildings would otherwise have been left without electric light or central heating.

MAYOR ASKS TRUCE IN BUILDING UNIONS

Calls Meeting of Opposing Factions for Friday in Move for Boom.

BROOKLYN LEAGUE TO MEET

Flushing Association Has Plan to Provide Houses for 300 Families from Bridgeport.

In an endeavor to mediate among opposing factions of trade unionists in the building trades, Mayor Hylan announced yesterday that he had called a meeting of representatives of these factions for tomorrow afternoon, following the meeting of the Board of Estimate.

The Mayor has been informed that considerable building in the city is being held up because of labor disputes. Bricklayers unaffiliated with the Building Trades Council refuse to permit that organization to make agreements with their employers, asserting that for thirty-five years they have made their annual agreements direct with their employers.

One faction of the Carpenters' Union remains unaffiliated with the Council, and work by plumbers and other building workers on structures where the insurgent carpenters were employed has been stopped, according to information reaching Mayor Hylan. Construction is being retarded further by the differences between the Iron Erectors' League and the Building Trades Council, which refuses to permit its members to engage in work on buildings where the steel has been erected by the open shop employes of the Iron Erectors' League.

"I am satisfied that seven or eight men in this city who have it within their power to say the word that will launch a building boom which would be the greatest in the history of the world," said Mayor Hylan yesterday.

Will Work for Settlement.

"If these seven or eight men would give and take; if they would put aside old feelings and get away from the arbitrary attitude they have taken, bricklayers would be back at work tomorrow and other mechanics in the building trades would follow and complete the jobs they have begun.

"I am going to ask these seven or eight men to meet on Friday afternoon at the conclusion of the Board of Estimate meeting. They will represent the bricklayers and the building trades which are not in harmony with the bricklayers. Until I meet these men and receive their verdict it would be useless to make any predictions. But, as I have said before, I have great faith in laboring men generally. There is no controversy between union men serious enough to prevent them from answering a great call in the interest of humanity."

The Mayor said he probably would announce early next week the names of the Committee of Eleven for the Erection of Homes.

Homer L. Gray, organizer of a new league to protect the rights of tenants of Brooklyn, announced yesterday that a mass meeting will be held Saturday night at Washington Irving High School, Fifteenth Street and Irving Place, for the purpose of placing the plans of the newly formed organization before tenants.

Invitation Sent to Governor.

Invitations have been sent to Governor Smith, Mayor Hylan and members of the State Legislature. Mr. Gray is President of the Association of Men Teachers and Principals and Secretary of the National Education Conservation Society.

The Rent Committee of the Flushing United Association is making plans to meet an impending crisis in May, when the families of 300 employes of the Remington Arms Company move to Flushing from Bridgeport.

The committee, of which John J. Halleran, former Tax Commissioner of New York City, is Chairman, has been informed that large holders of land near the new Remington plant would be willing to make reasonable terms. He said he also has found merchants ready to supply the lumber and companies and individuals to finance the building of the homes. It is estimated the houses will sell for $4,500 and rent for $40 a month. All that is now necessary, according to Mr. Halleran, is to get a builder to begin construction. The committee will endeavor to confer with representatives of the building trades unions, so that the actual work on the houses may begin.

Plans for a special train to convey 1,000 Bronx citizens to Albany on Tuesday, when housing bills are to be reported, were made last night at a meeting of citizens in Public School 28, Tremont and Mount Hope Avenues. Former Justice John Boyle explained the scope of his bill, which would limit the profit of the landlord to 10 per cent. of his investment and which would impose a 40 per cent. income tax on any landlord obtaining more than 10 per cent.

TO ABOLISH DEATH CHAIR.

Scores of Advocates Urge Boylan-Pellet Bill.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 17.—Advocates of abolishment of the death penalty for capital crimes overwhelmed opposition at a hearing before the joint Codes Committees of the Legislature this afternoon on the Boylan-Pellet bill, which would do away with the electric chair.

The abolition measure, according to Senator Boylan, who introduced the bill, will be reported Tuesday. That there is little chance of it being enacted into law is indicated by the fact that while the hearing was going on men in the State Architect's office were preparing plans for a new death house at Sing Sing Prison.

Scores of officials of civil and humanitarian interests appeared before the committees in favor of the Boylan-Pellet measure. Only one person, James Hoil Long, representing the Massachusetts Civic Alliance, appeared in opposition. Women took an active part in the hearing.

One suggestion made was that the pardon power, now vested in the Governor, be transferred to the Court of Appeals.

BILLS INTRODUCED IN AID OF TENANTS

Ten Lockwood Measures Intended to Prevent Profiteering and Unjust Ejection.

SWEET AT FIRST DEMURS

One Exempts from State Income Tax Mortgages Up to $40,000—Bills Have Priority.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 17.—Bills to curb rent profiteering and in other ways relieve the complex housing problem in New York City were introduced in the Senate and Assembly today with a priority rule that should render their enactment within a week possible, if not probable. The bills were drafted under the auspices of the Lockwood Committee which has been investigating the housing situation since last Summer.

Senator Lockwood, however, after a stormy interview with Speaker Sweet in which the Speaker accused the Senator of trying to "steal his thunder," expressed apprehension regarding the attitude of the Speaker who, with the assistance of up-State members, might be able to block the proposed legislation.

The bills introduced by the Housing Committee make the following provisions:

1. Courts in cities of first and second class have discretionary powers to issue a stay in summary dispossess proceedings against tenants, where the latter consent to tender payment at the old rate, with such additional amount as the court may deem fair and reasonable, and providing further that any clause in a lease, waiving the provisions of this bill, shall be deemed against public policy and void. The act is to take effect immediately and remain in force until Nov. 1, 1922.

2. Summary proceedings to dispossess a tenant for nonpayment of rent shall not be maintainable except where proof is produced that the rent has not been increased over that of the preceding month, and has not been increased by more than 20 per cent. during the twelve months preceding.

3. Shifting to the landlord the burden of proof that increase of rental is fair and reasonable, and provision that a contention to the contrary may be set up as a defense by a tenant.

4. Exemption from State income tax of money invested in mortgages up to $40,000, with a view to inducing Congress to make similar provision regarding the Federal income tax, thus encouraging investment in mortgages and stimulating building.

5. Landlords seeking to dispossess tenants on the ground that they are "objectionable" must establish this fact to the satisfaction of the courts, where, under the present law, they merely need show that they made the allegation in good faith.

6. Tenants must receive thirty days' notice to terminate monthly tenancy.

7. Unless a different time is specified in a verbal lease, it shall end on Oct. 1.

8. Where there has been default in payment of rent and summary dispossess proceedings are brought, the court may grant a stay upon deposit by the tenant with the clerk for payment to the landlord of the amount due.

9. A court may give affirmative relief where a tenant sets up counterclaims as a defense and establishes his contention to the satisfaction of the court.

LOANS NOW TO "NEW POOR."

Salaried Men Replace Wage Earners as Borrowers.

More salaried and professional men than ever before were borrowers last year from the Provident Loan Society of New York, according to the report for 1919 of Otto T. Bannard, its President.

"At first glance the year seems to have been one of paradoxes," Mr. Bannard writes. "The demand for loans has been both less and more. The poor have required less assistance; the "new poor" have required more.

"It is not possible to obtain full data on the character of the borrowers and their reason for borrowing, but there are many indications that the working man who pledges his watch to obtain funds needed by reason of sickness or similar emergency has been supplanted in the line of borrowers by the salaried and professional man who pledges the family jewelry to bridge the gap between income and the cost of living necessitated by existing standards. This change reflects the changed status of classes in the community, but it also indicates that the society has succeeded in large measure in disseminating in the public mind the matter of loans upon personal property from the personality and comment of some of those engaged in the collateral loan business."

The Provident Loan Society in some measure had succeeded in overcoming the reluctance of the middle and upper-middle classes to come to this institution in time of necessity, Mr. Bannard found. Many loans were made to enable people to buy homes and Liberty bonds, while others were necessitated by increase in payments. A rise in value of precious stones permitted the society to revise its loan schedule upward to meet demands for larger individual loans made necessary by the decline of the dollar's purchasing power. Fewer loans were made during 1919 than in any year since 1910, but the amount of loans exceeded any previous year by $8,000,000. Net profits for the year's business of $868,573 was reported.

CLING ALL NIGHT TO RIGGING

Irving Cox and Party Rescued from Stranded Yacht.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17.—The auxiliary schooner yacht Mariner owned by Irving Cox, New York, went ashore last night in a gale at the mouth of St. John's River and probably will be a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. George Bullard, also of New York, were aboard and all were rescued today, with members of the crew, after clinging to the rigging all night with heavy seas breaking over them. The pilot boat Mota took them off by means of lifelines.

The yacht was en route from Nassau to New York.

Mrs. Bacon Divorced from Skater.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 17.—Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins filed an interlocutory decree of divorce today in favor of Mrs. Margaret Peggy Bacon against her husband, Benjamin Frank Bacon, who is a professional skater on the Strand Roof. The plaintiff is allowed to resume the maiden name of Margaret Peggy Anderson. No alimony is fixed in the decree. The couple were married on Jan. 15, 1917, at Minneapolis, Minn., and have no children.

Watchman Slain by Robber.

John Machaurilo, 55 years old, a night watchman at a cement block manufacturing plant at East Forty-third Street and Glenwood Road, Brooklyn, was found dead yesterday morning in a shanty which he used as a shelter. He had been shot in the head. It is believed he was killed by a robber. When found Machaurilo had $110 in bills clutched in his right hand.

Announce Discovery of New Star.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 17.—The discovery of a new star, the sixth in the constellation Sagittarius, was announced by the Harvard College Observatory today. The nova was found by Miss Woods of the observatory staff on photographic plates taken in 1905. It does not appear on recent plates.

Report John Reed Caught in Coal Bunker of Ship in Finnish Port With False Passports

LONDON, March 17.—A dispatch to The Times, London, from Abo, Finland, says that at a preliminary hearing and under cross-examination the man arrested in a coal bunker of a Finnish steamer bound for Sweden recently asserted that his name was John Reed, and declared that he was the editor of two newspapers in Oregon.

The man, who previously had given his name as Casgormlich, and declared that he was an American, said he had arrived in Russia five months ago, according to the dispatch.

A dispatch to The Times from Abo Monday, in announcing the arrest of the man on board a Finnish steamer, said he had English, American and German passports, and diamonds and money aggregating a large sum. Also there was found on him, according to the dispatch, Soviet propaganda literature, cunningly prepared photograph films, reduced to the size of postage stamps, and a very small compass.

John Reed, editor of the Voice of Labor, said to be the party organ of the Communist Labor Party in the United States, was indicted in Chicago last January, charged with conspiracy to overthrow the Government of the United States by force, in violation of the State Syndicalism act.

Reed was born in Portland, Oregon, and is about 32 years old. He is said to be a close friend of both Lenin and Trotsky. In February of last year he appeared before the Congressional committee at Washington investigating propaganda. In his testimony he defended the Russian Soviet Government.

WOOD MEN TO FIGHT FOR JERSEY 'BIG 4'

Ticket to be Placed in Field Against Slate of Republican Organization.

SAY GENERAL IS IN LEAD

Managers Hope to Win District Delegates, Too—Johnson to Tour the State.

The Eastern managers of Major Gen. eral Leonard Wood's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination have decided to make a vigorous contest in New Jersey for the election of four delegates-at-large to the National Convention, pledged for General Wood.

The Republican organization of New Jersey already has decided upon a "Big Four" slate, but it includes only one out-and-out Wood man, Chairman E. C. Stokes, of the Republican State Committee. The other three are U. S. Senator Edge and Frelinghuysen and Thomas Raymond. The Wood managers are convinced that their candidate is popular enough in New Jersey to warrant the placing of a straight Wood ticket in the field with all four delegates pledged to vote for the General.

Although the selection of Wood candidates has not yet been made, the managers are considering ex-Governor William M. Runyon of Essex County, ex-Governor and ex-Attorney General John W. Griggs of Paterson and Austin Colgate. Chairman Stokes, also a former Governor, probably will go on both tickets.

The decision to fight the Republican organization in New Jersey was reached yesterday, it was said, after former Congressman Thomas W. Miller, one of General Wood's Eastern managers, had spent all day in New Jersey conferring with Chairman Stokes and other prominent Republicans. Leaders of Miller said that plans were completed for an active campaign throughout New Jersey with a view of having all the delegates from all the Congressional districts, as well as the delegates at large, pledged to stick to General Wood so long as his name remains before the convention.

Wood Sentiment Reported Growing.

"General Wood is a strong 'first' in New Jersey," said Mr. Miller. "I talked with men from various parts of the State, and all of them reported constantly growing sentiment in favor of General Wood. So far as I am able to ascertain, General Wood has a lead so strong that it cannot be oversome between now and the date of the primary, April 27. There is every reason for believing New Jersey's twenty-eight delegates will go pledged to General Wood."

After Mr. Miller had conferred with the Republican leaders petitions advocating the placing of the names of Runyon, Griggs and Stokes on the list of candidates for delegates at large appeared on the streets of Elizabeth and other towns. If Mr. Raymond remains on the organization ticket and ex-Governor Runyon becomes a Wood candidate, the question of prohibition may figure in the campaign. Raymond is an avowed "wet," while Runyon is one of the leaders of the "dry" forces in the State. The Wood people, however, will pay no attention to the issue.

The Wood managers assert that New Jersey is now thoroughly organized for the candidacy of Leonard Wood clubs having been established in practically every county. The Essex County Club is said to have a membership of 3,200. Captain Robert J. Foster, head of the organization, in a speech Tuesday night asserted that Essex County would send five instructed Wood delegates to the national convention.

United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson is said to be strong in a number of New Jersey districts and his followers there are planning a stiff fight against the Wood candidates. Senator Johnson will tour the State next month.

In the drawings for position on the ballots conducted yesterday by the Board of Elections, Johnson candidates drew first place in the Manhattan districts, first place in one Brooklyn district and last place in eight other districts.

It was rumored yesterday that friends of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler have urged him to abandon his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination on the theory that he cannot obtain the solid delegation from New York even on the first ballot, and that he would strengthen his position as a possible compromise candidate in the event of a deadlock by becoming Temporary Chairman of the convention.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLED HIM.

President of Butler, N. J., Council Poisoned, Says Prosecutor.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., March 17.—Wood alcohol poisoning caused the death Monday night of Smith A. Decker, President of the Common Council and Acting Mayor of Butler, N. J., it was announced here tonight by Prosecutor John M. Mills of Morris County. An autopsy was performed today. Prosecutor Mills said prosecutions would be instituted.

Mr. Decker drank the poisoned liquor in Passaic County, just across the river from his home in Butler Sunday afternoon. Upon his return home he became ill. Monday he could not see very well and at 8 o'clock Monday night he died. He was forty-four years old and was elected Councilman six years ago.

WOOD WINS CHEERS IN 'ENEMY COUNTRY'

Greeted by Great Audiences in the Stronghold of South Dakota Opponents.

OVERFLOW MEETINGS HELD

Farmers, Cattlemen, Business Men and Women Give the General Assurances of Support.

Special to The New York Times.

HURON, S. D., March 17.—In this city, which has been claimed as a stronghold by the anti-Wood factions in South Dakota, Major Gen. Leonard Wood, candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency, spoke tonight to a great audience of cattlemen, farmers, business men and women.

An hour before General Wood started to speak, the Huron Auditorium, which seats more than 2,000 persons, was crowded to its doors. The Wood managers then chartered the local Opera House to care for the overflow, and the playhouse soon was packed with a second audience waiting to hear the General as soon as he concluded his speech in the Auditorium.

As the time for the primary draws near the fight for South Dakota's delegates to the Chicago convention is growing intensely bitter. Every paper in the State is carrying columns of advertisements in which the merits of the various candidates are set forth, while pamphlets and other mailable literature are being scattered to the furthest corners of the State in batches of thousands.

The result in the Minnesota primary, where Governor Lowden ran fourth, was a great disappointment to the supporters of the Illinois Governor in this State. They had been claiming Minnesota for Lowden principally because it was his native State and the Governor made in it one of his most vigorous campaigns. There is no question that the Lowden defeat in Minnesota is having its effect in this State.

At the same time the unexpected showing of Herbert Hoover in Minnesota caused no surprise in South Dakota, so far as THE TIMES correspondent has been able to ascertain. Hoover is strong in this part of the country. The friendship of the people for him is everywhere apparent. In scores of instances prominent Wood supporters have stated that Hoover is their second choice. One can scarcely meet a farmer anywhere who does not have a kind word to say for the former Food Administrator.

More Ovations for Wood.

General Wood had today another series of ovations. He began his third day's campaign of the State at Redfield, the home of Governor Peter Norbeck, who is the Republican candidate for the Senate seat now held by Senator Edwin S. Johnson, Democrat, and who is also one of the strongest Wood supporters in the State. Governor Norbeck is campaigning in Western South Dakota on behalf of General Wood, while Mrs. Norbeck is accompanying the General's party and appealing to the women voters in his behalf.

Arriving at Redfield, General Wood first addressed an audience of between 3,000 and 4,000 cattlemen and farmers who packed the stockmen's pavilion, after which he spoke to a big overflow meeting in the Town Hall.

General Wood devoted most of his speech in Redfield to the problems of the agricultural communities. He made it plain that in his opinion they as one of the greatest stabilizing forces in the nation are entitled to and should receive every legitimate aid that the Government can give them. He told his hearers the burden of the war taxation should be spread over many years and the burden must be worne in its proper proportion by all elements in the population.

There must be no class legislation, he added, for the farmer, the business man, labor or any other group in the American population.

General Wood explained what in his opinion should be the military policy of the United States—a policy, he added, that should provide for some system of universal service which would not only fit the manhood of the country to defend the nation in its hour of emergency, but also would make American youths better men, physically, mentally and morally.

Assured of Support.

At the close of his speech in the Stockmen's Pavilion hundreds of men and women came forward and assured General Wood they would not only vote for him, but would use their every influence to get their neighbors and friends to do likewise.

Arriving in Huron at 7:30 o'clock tonight, General Wood was met at the station by an enthusiastic crowd of admirers, of whom probably one-third were women.

His managers here assured the General that, despite the bitter campaign being waged by his opponents, he had more than an even chance of carrying this city and county.

LIKELY TO INCREASE CITY MILK SUPPLY

DISCUSS CONTRACTS HERE

Fair Price Committee Figures Show Sheffield Farms Profits of 51½% in 1918.

Confronted with a daily production of 2,500,000 quarts of milk in the New York territory, more than is normally consumed, and with the export trade in milk products discontinued on account of the exchange situation, distributers and producers met yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of the New York Milk Conference Board, in the Flatiron Building, to discuss ways of handling the surplus. The result of the conference was not made known, but it was said that both the distributers and producers regard the present situation as serious.

There was no denial that if a greater quantity of milk was brought to New York City and distributed, the price to consumer would be materially lowered, and the opinion was expressed that it was probable that a greater supply of milk would be offered in this city. The lowering of the price would mean a much greater consumption, in the opinion of some distributers as well as representatives of the producers.

Denial was made at the headquarters of the Dairymen's League that any milk was being wasted, as was intimated in statements to District Attorney Swann Tuesday by Loton Horton, President of the Sheffield Farms Company, and its attorney, George W. Alger. So far as the league is concerned all the milk is being purchased by the distributers under contract. One of the matters before the conference yesterday, it was understood, was the matter of contract—as to whether the distributers were going to continue to take the entire production and, if so, whether the price was to be determined as in the past by the butter and cheese market.

The Borden's Farm Products Company has not only not asked for a curtailment of the production of milk, but Patrick D. Fox, President of the company, has asserted that any attempt to seriously curtail the milk production at this time because there is a surplus would mean that "we will find ourselves facing a shortage in the months of scant production."

"This company is eager to reduce its price to the consumer," Mr. Fox said, "and this could be done if consumption were advanced to a point where it would require unstinted production to satisfy it." He said that his company would assist financially or otherwise in an educational campaign by the Department of Health or some public welfare body to stimulate the consumption of milk.

Milk is due for a drop on April 1 anyway, and in the opinion of Mr. Fox a substantial increase in consumption would mean a still lower price to the consumer.

Health Commissioner Copeland yesterday met James B. Stafford of Buffalo, Federal Fair Price Commissioner of New York State, and the whole milk situation was discussed. It was Mr. Stafford who first discovered the notice posted by the Sheffield Company at Franklinville. Mr. Stafford also saw District Attorney Swann, and turned over to him the following statistics which he said were compiled by Frank S. Wilson, Deputy Fair Price Commissioner, from the Sheffield Farms Company business in 1918:

"Actual net profits $774,000 or 51½ per cent, which is three and a half times the profit made in 1917."

"In 1918 the United States was at war," he continues. "The price of milk reached the highest point it had ever reached in our history. The Sheffield Farms Company took the biggest dividend (14 per cent.) it had ever taken in its history. They charrged off the largest amount for depreciation they had ever taken ($553,465 which is about twice the amount charged off for depreciations during the past five years). They set aside a surplus of $492,231, the largest amount they had ever set aside (about twice the amount set aside as surplus during the last five years). The surplus of the Sheffield Farms Company is greater than its capital."

WOOD OBTAINS MORE MINNESOTA DELEGATES

St. Paul Declares for the General, While Minneapolis Names Two Uninstructed.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 17.—Two delegates uninstructed and two others pledged to vote for Leonard Wood for the nomination for President at the National Republican Convention in Chicago were named today at two district conventions.

F. H. Carpenter and W. J. Williamson were the uninstructed delegates chosen in Minneapolis to represent the Fifth Congressional District. At St. Paul General Wood was indorsed, and Herbert Keller and Leavitt Corning were named to go to Chicago in his interest to represent the Fourth Congressional District.

At the Minneapolis meeting an attempt made to have the delegates instructed for Senator Johnson of California failed. Eight other district conventions are to be held on Friday.

At the St. Paul meeting the Wood forces produced a maximum of 270 votes out of a total of 502. They named the Credentials Committee and elected Keller Chairman. Keller is also Chairman of the Ramsey County Wood organization.

With the naming of two uninstructed delegates at Minneapolis today, there are now only two delegates in doubt out of Minnesota's twenty-four, it having been conceded that Wood will obtain the four delegates at large at the State Convention.

WOOD MEN TO FIGHT FOR EASTERN STATES

Managers Say They Will Oppose Crane in Massachusetts and Penrose in Pennsylvania.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 17.—An aggressive campaign in the East was determined upon today by General Wood's campaign managers. Colonel Procter announced that candidates for delegates would be entered in eight or nine Massachusetts districts, and in a majority of Congressional districts in Pennsylvania.

"We have reached the determination that Mr. Crane cannot be permitted to 'pussyfoot' any longer in national party affairs," was the comment of one of the Wood managers. "We will give him a fight on his own ground and will have substantially all the Massachusetts delegation instructed for Wood. We have nothing to lose and everything to gain."

As to Pennsylvania, this statement was made:

"We know that Penrose is against us, so why should we worry about him? There will be plenty of Wood delegates in the running when the time arrives for voting, and we expect to have a majority of the Pennsylvania delegation tied to Wood, regardless of Sproul or any other dark horse with whom Penrose may be dallying."

Allenby Puts Restrictions on Egyptian Law Makers

CAIRO, Egypt, March 17.—Field Marshal Allenby, British High Commissioner in Egypt and the Sudan, has issued a proclamation which sternly forbids any meetings or proceedings or resolutions by the Legislative Assembly, or the provincial councils or other elective bodies or members of them outside their legal competence.

Violations of the proclamation are to be dealt with by martial law.

STRANGLES HIS WIFE, TRIES SUICIDE HERE

New Britain Laborer Confesses He Choked Woman and Hid Her Body in Trunk.

THEN FLED TO THIS CITY

Slashes His Throat with Glass and Tells of the Crime in the Hospital.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., March 17.—The body of Mrs. George Evans, aged twenty, was found by her sister, Mrs. Albert W. Powell, in a trunk in her rooms today. She had been strangled apparently by use of reins from a toy horse belonging to Mrs. Evans's four-year-old son.

The local police were notified this afternoon that Evans had attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat at the Park Avenue Hotel in New York City, whence he had fled, and had confessed at Bellevue Hospital to having killed his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Powell at 652 West Main Street. Evans was discharged from a local hospital yesterday and he was last seen by Mrs. Powell, according to her statement, about noon. She had seen her sister an hour before.

Today Mrs. Powell upon entering her sister's room noticed articles of clothing strewn about. As she began to gather up these she tried to move a trunk which had been displaced. Surprised at its weight, Mrs. Powell opened the lid. Her sister had been dead for many hours, possibly twenty.

Mrs. Powell says that her sister was married to Evans at the age of 14 years, and they had lived together for six years. She can suggest no motive which would have led to a homicide.

Investigation by the police revealed that Evans was jealous of his wife. He was seen leaving the house with his three-year-old son yesterday shortly after noon. He brought the boy to the home of his mother-in-law, asking her to look after him, as he was going to take his wife to Waterbury to see a specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell last night believed that Mr. and Mrs. Evans had been detained in Waterbury, and Mrs. Powell suspected nothing wrong until today she found clothes which she knew her sister needed if she had gone away. Two police officers unstrapped the trunk at Mrs. Powell's request, and the body was found.

Evans, who is a Bulgarian by birth, is a laborer, and before coming here was employed in Colorado. His wife, then a girl under fourteen, went to Colorado to visit relatives about six years ago and met and married Evans.

A man describing himself as George Evans of New Britain, Conn., attempted suicide yesterday in his room on the third floor of the Park Avenue Hotel by cutting his throat with a piece of glass. He was removed to Bellevue Hospital by Dr. Forsythe of the New York Hospital, where he began to rave, saying he had killed his wife and that he wanted to confess to the police.

Assistant Medical Superintendent Dr. John J. Hill was notified, and he immediately communicated with the Police Department. Detective William J. Quinn of the West Thirtieth Street Station and Detectives Connor and Anderson of the Thirty-fifth Street Station were sent to the hospital, where the man said his name was George Evans, that he lived at 562 West Main Street, New Britain, Conn., and that he had registered at the Park Avenue Hotel Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, coming from Waterbury.

He admitted to the detectives, they said, that after a quarrel with his wife Anna on Tuesday morning over domestic problems he strangled her with her little son's toy reins.

Evans is in a critical condition at the hospital and has been placed under arrest.

ATTACKS MINNESOTA VOTE.

Johnson Calls Primary a "Pretense" and Cries "Strong-Arm Tactics."

DETROIT, Mich., March 17.—The Minnesota Republican primary was characterized as a "pretense" and the "first strong arm tactics of the 1920 campaign" by Senator Hiram W. Johnson in a signed statement issued here this forenoon. He charged that "the Republican State machine is in absolute control" of affairs in Minnesota, and added: "This machine has been conducting the Wood fight."

Although the State's Presidential preference primary law had been repealed, Senator Johnson said, "the Republican organization in Minnesota called what it termed a primary, with a preferential vote for President." Fixing of the time of voting between 7:30 P. M. and 8:30 P. M., with county chairmen empowered to fix the hours 7 to 9 P. M., he alleged, meant in the country districts no primary at all. "In mid-Winter, with the present condition of the roads," he added, "it was the disfranchisement of the farmers."

"This one-hour, machine controlled primary was a travesty on the right of free expression."

Four Arrested and Roulette Wheels Sized in West 74th Street.

Henry Harlan, 47 years old, a broker, of 231 West Seventy-fourth Street; Joseph Campbell, 53 years old, a salesman, of 326 West Fifty-first Street; Charles Jones, 38 years old, a salesman, of 224 West Forty-seventh Street, and Ernest Coleman, a negro, 35 years old, a porter, of 239 West 143d Street, were arrested early this morning by detectives attached to Chief Inspector Daly's staff in a raid conducted on an alleged gambling house in West Seventy-fourth Street near Broadway.

Harlan was locked up in the West Sixty-eighth Street Station as the alleged keeper of a gambling house. The others were charged with acting in concert.

The police say the house has been in operation for some time and that it has been under observation for more than a month. They also say that $50,000 or more has been wagered in a night in the house. The majority of those frequenting the house wore evening clothes.

The raid was made over the head of Inspector Dominick Henry of the Fourth Inspection District. The house is opposite the Hotel Ansonia, and many of the guests of the hotel joined the crowd of onlookers in the street. Two roulette wheels, twelve decks of cards and two bags of poker chips were confiscated by the detectives.

LIBERALS COUNT MAJORITY FOR BEER

Sweet and Thompson Promise It, but Walters Is Fighting Binding of Republicans.

GILLETT MAY DROP WINE

With Majority of One in Senate and Four in Assembly "Wets" Are Confident.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 17.—An offensive and defensive bi-partisan alliance was formed today between Senate supporters of the 3.50 per cent. beer bill introduced by James J. Walker, minority leader, and the Assembly forces backing the wine and beer bill of Colonel Ransom H. Gillett. Senator Walker and Assemblyman Gillett agreed to concentrate their efforts on a 3.50 per cent. beer bill, but did not attempt to push a 10 per cent. wine bill as the Gillett bill now does.

To the advocates in and out of the Legislature of the rigid enforcement law provided by the Thompson bill drafted by the Anti-Saloon League the new liberal combination came as a complete and disquieting surprise. They had depended on friction between those who who favored wine and beer and those who wanted beer only for the success of the Anti-Saloon League program. Such a condition last year compelled Senator Walters to withdraw, when victory seemed certain, a bill legalizing the sale of beer in hotels and restaurants.

With the liberal forces in both houses prepared to present a solid front, Anti-Saloon League hopes of forcing to final passage the Thompson bill or any measure like it have been shattered. Spokesmen for the "dry" forces admitted tonight that they had virtually abandoned hopes. "Only a caucus of the Republican Senators and Assemblymen on the Thompson-Slater bill can save the day for honest enforcement," was their cry.

Speaker Sweet virtually has assured them that he will leave nothing undone to insure a caucus, but they have been unable to get such a promise from Mr. Walters, leader of the Republican force in the Senate. They have been assured by Senator Thompson that he has a sufficient number of Republican votes to compel the calling of a caucus and that he proposes to take steps early next week to have one called.

Senator Walters is in open opposition to rigid enforcement and is equally frank in his support of the bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.50 per cent. beer. He said today that he was opposed to making enforcement a caucus measure, and declared emphatically that if a caucus was called he would refuse to attend it.

Senator Thompson served formal notice that at some future date he would make a motion to have the Anti-Saloon League bill taken from the custody of the Senate Judiciary Committee for debate and action in the open. Under this notice he can bring on his fight whenever he sees fit. Minority Leader Walker announced that he would move for discussion of his 3.50 per cent. beer bill at the same time.

"But doesn't the Senator know that Supt. Anderson of the Anti-Saloon League has pronounced his benediction upon the Thompson bill as the one 'holy' bill before the Legislature before which there must be none other?" asked Senator Walters.

"There are men in this State, and I am one among them, with red blood in their veins that refuse to be led by a band of bigots who presume to tell the rest of us what we shall eat and drink!" exclaimed Senator Walker.

Senator Thompson said after the session that he would get the necessary signatures for a caucus call. He claims twenty-five Republican votes in the Senate for rigid enforcement and his opponents admit there may be twenty-three. Only sixteen signatures, a majority of the Republican representation in the upper house, will be required to compel the calling of a conference, which by the same number of votes may be turned into a caucus.

When Senator Walters was asked if he would attend a caucus he insisted that there would be none.

There has been some talk today of a concerted move on the part of Senator Thompson's forces to "dethrone" the Senate leader. This is Secretary Houston's Tax Suggestions Stimulate Buying of Stocks.

The stock market was divided yesterday along a sharply defined line of cleavage between a period of weakness and one of strength. Call money got as low as 6 per cent., but it seemed as though the consideration of reduced carrying charges for shares on margin had less to do with the rise of the late afternoon than some other factors. Prices turned from an uncertain and weak trend after Washington dispatches recounted Secretary of the Treasury Houston's comment on future taxation needs in a letter to the Ways and Means Committee of the House. The Secretary's opinion, as the news tickers presented it, to the effect that excess profits imposts should be modified and other forms of taxation found instead, brought a stimulus to speculative purchases of stocks and the movement broadened when the Street considered the Secretary's proposal that undistributed profits of corporations be made subject to heavy taxes under a new revenue law. Traders deducted that the carrying out of such a plan would mean both large stock dividends and increased distribution of cash dividends. Baldwin Locomotive responded to stock dividend talk with an advance of more than 12 points. Motor and railroad equipment issues rose from 2 to 4 points in the final hour, and steel and petroleum shares moved forward. The close of trading came with industrial stocks around their best quotations of the day, their position making a marked contrast with their flabby appearance half way through the session.

Coincident with the easing of demand loans to 6 per cent. occurred a trifling easement in the tone of time loans. Collateral loans, which had been firm at 8½ per cent. on Tuesday, were offered for sixty and ninety days at 8 per cent. by a few lenders, and six months funds were also softer, although the amounts available were not large. From banking comment the time has not yet arrived to speak of a permanent decline of money rates, and it is not too much to expect that before a new complexion comes over the market the Federal Reserve Bank's statement will have to show a decline of borrowings of other institutions. The aggregate of such loans to the local institution, mentioned in the weekly statements as contingent liability as indorser of bills discounted with other Federal Reserve Banks, stood last Saturday at more than $84,500,000.

Steel trade surveys of the week showed yesterday that a tremendous amount of products are being prepared for market despite the handicap of car shortages and its effect on moving materials and fuel. The Iron Age noted that the ingot output of February averaged 142,000 tons daily, a figure close to the highest record. Presumably, the increase of manufacturing during the last four years had something to do with so large a production at a time when transportation facilities were below par. At the same time, the report discloses exceptional activity, which evidently is having a counterpart in finished lines. The fabricating shops were booked in February to 85 per cent. of capacity, the largest month's business for two years. The trade periodical notes that much of this business is for conducting industrial plant extensions, but it is fair to assume that the housing and office necessities of the country are also a driving influence behind the big structural orders. The foreign exchanges were reactionary, a decline being not unexpected after Tuesday's substantial rise.

COAL CO.'S SURPLUS DROPS.

Consolidation Stock Earns $7.48 a Share as Against $12.45 in 1918.

The annual report of the Consolidation Coal Company for the year ended Dec. 31 last shows surplus after charges and Federal taxes of $3,009,278, equivalent to $7.48 a share on the $40,205,448 capital stock outstanding. In the previous year the surplus after charges and taxes was $5,008,691, equal to $12.45 a share.

Total earnings for the year were $23,507,556, and operating expenses, depreciation, depletion, &c., reduced this to $4,585,545. From the latter sum $1,398,173 was deducted for interest and $178,094 for Federal taxes. Dividends paid amounted to $2,411,854, leaving $597,424 to be carried to surplus. The purchase and loss surplus at the end of last year is reported as $56,923,728.

RAILWAYS NOW SEEK FOR SCATTERED CARS

Roads Find 75 Per Cent. of Freight Carriers Away from Home Lines.

6.6% ARE UNSERVICEABLE

Disabled Increased Under Federal Control from 5.8 and 5.4% in 1919 and 1918.

In the first month of this year 6.6 per cent. of the 2,458,227 freight cars on the lines of the railroads controlled by the Government were reported as unserviceable, according to American Railroads, published by the Association of Railway Executives. The article explains some of the difficulties the managers of the carriers face in bringing back to home lines the equipment which has been scattered all over the United States in the two years of Federal control. American Railroads says:

"At the beginning of Federal control, according to the recent annual report of the Division of Operation of the Railroad Administration, 44 per cent. of the freight cars were on home lines. On Jan. 1, 1919, this figure stood at 26.6 per cent. Special attempts were made in the early part of 1919 to relocate cars more in accordance with ownership, with the idea of getting the cars to the home road.

"By July 1, 1919, 31.7 per cent. of the cars were on home lines, but at the present time the number of cars on home lines has again declined to about the same point as Jan. 1, 1919, or approximately half of what may be considered the normal condition. The other 75 per cent. of the cars are scattered throughout all parts of the country.

"During its operation of the railroads the Government purchased only 100,000 freight cars, or about as many as it is estimated was needed to replace the wear and tear of a single year, and while many railroads which have sufficient financial resources to do so have placed car orders already this year, it is apparent that comparatively little can be done this year toward making up for the failure to kepe pace with the development of traffic that has occurred while the railroad properties were out of the hands of their owners.

"During January of this year out of 2,453,227 freight cars on the lines of the railroads under Federal control, 6.6 per cent. were reported as unserviceable as compared with 5.8 per cent. during January, 1919, and 5.4 per cent. in January, 1918, according to the reports of the Operating Statistics Section of the Railroad Administration, and these figures did not include 19,300 cars set aside and classified by the Railroad Administration as condemned cars."

FORMS BIG TRUCKING FIRM.

U. S. Distributing Concern Also Creates a Mining Subsidiary.

The United States Distributing Corporation has announced the formation of two subsidiary companies; the United States Trucking Corporation and the Sheridan-Wyoming Coal Company, Inc. The former is a consolidation of twenty-seven trucking concerns in and about this city. It owns 2,500 horses, 1,500 horse-drawn and 300 motor vehicles and other equipment. Its capitalization consists of $3,000,000 8 per cent. preferred and 80,000 shares of common stock.

The Sheridan-Wyoming Coal Company, which comprises mining properties near Sheridan, Wyoming, has a capital of $3,500,000 first mortgage 7 per cent. bonds, $3,500,000 7 per cent. debenture bonds and 80,000 shares of common stock, all of which have been issued. The United States Distributing Corporation has acquired 41,000 shares of the United States Trucking Corporation's stock and all of the debenture bonds and all of the common stock of the Sheridan-Wyoming Coal Company.

NEW ELECTRIC STOCK ISSUE

General Company Makes $12,300,000 Offer to Shareholders.

The Directors of the General Electric Company have authorized the issuance of about $12,300,000 new stock, at $125 a share, to holders of the company's present stock. The offer is made on the basis of one new share for each ten shares now held, and when issued will give the company a capital stock of approximately $125,300,000.

Shareholders of record on April 6 will receive the rights to this subscription. The subscription period will expire on May 20 and payment for the new stock must be made on or before that date. The sale of this stock will net the company about $15,375,000. It is understood that about $30,000,000 will be needed by the General Electric Company this year, of which $15,000,000 will be required for the maturity of its three-year notes. This sum, however, was recently provided for through the sale of $15,000,000 twenty-year 6 per cent. debentures.

To Vote on Stock Increase.

Stockholders of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company, at their annual meeting April 21, are expected to authorize an increase in the present capitalization of $6,000,000. This action, it is reported, will be followed by the declaration of a stock dividend. The company's capital has been increased three time in the last few years.

STEEL OUTPUT INCREASES.

Shortage of Fuel and Cars Fails to Curtail Production.

There continues to be a marked shortage of coal and a scarcity of cars and motive power, but the production of steel ingots is going ahead at a surprising rate, according to the Iron Age. The February output, which averaged about 142,000 tons a day, was close to the high record. Equipment orders also are being received in large volume, the weekly reports showing receipt of orders for 100 locomotives and 4,000 cars. The first rail order of the year, for 9,000 tons, has been given out by the Missouri Pacific.

The Iron Trade Review in its weekly survey says:

"Shipments of iron and steel are beginning to surmount the various obstacles that have held them back, but the improvement is not sufficiently pronounced to lend much encouragement or confidence. A new factor this week has been the flood conditions in the Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Eastern Pennsylvania districts, which has further curtailed production. Car and fuel shortages still represent the dominating influence. On all sides stock piles of finished steel in mill yards still are growing, as the production keeps ahead of transportation. A McKeesport, Pa., plant has 125,000 boxes of tin plate awaiting cars. Another interest has 60,000 boxes. A Pittsburgh wire company has been accumulating over 25 per cent. of its output. The National Tube Company last week managed to ship all but about 2,000 tons of its production. Mahoning Valley plants are operating on a hand-to-mouth basis as respects fuel.

MAKES AETNA AWARDS.

Court Authorizes Allowances in Company's Settlement.

Awards under the terms of the settlement of the Aetna Explosives Company were made yesterday by Federal Judge Mayer.

The principal allowances for expenses and services rendered were: The New York Bondholders' Committee, $12,160; Finance Trading and Federal Accounting Corporation, $10,000; Stetson, Jennings & Russell, $9,000; Sullivan & Cromwell, $62,267; J. & W. Seligman & Co., $100,000; the Lovell Committee, $10,000; Stanchfield & Levy, $62,042; F. H. Prince & Co., $60,000, and balance due the Court Committee, $75,000.

Banco Internacional de Cuba.

Report of the Banco Internacional de Cuba for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1919, which has just been made public, shows a gain in total deposits of $6,283,911.20. Cash on hand shows an increase from $4,715,411.20 as of June, 1919, to $6,446,083.33. Loans and discounts have advanced from $8,584,927 to $14,572,768. Improvement of the bank's resources is also reflected in the increase from $596,912 to $1,181,004 in bonds and security holdings.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Call Money Easier.

As was predicted on Tuesday afternoon, yesterday's call money market was quite easy. It opened and renewed at 6 per cent., but got down to 6 per cent. in the afternoon and, as usually follows when rates move in this way, there was a plentiful supply and a none too vigorous demand. The turnover at the Clearing House was reduced from the previous day's high sum of $1,216,742,762 to $858,093,889, which probably indicated that the big shifting of accounts on Monday has about been readjusted.

Shrinking Gold.

Apparently shipping gold on a battleship is an expensive operation, for it must be a terrific abrasion which reduces $250,000,000 of the metal to a mere $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 within less than a week. Either that or else German gold is particularly soft. At all events, there should be huge profits awaiting the enterprising persons who reclaim the $220,000,000 which has disappeared from the "high seas" since last week.

German Trusts.

Word that a second great German trust company has been formed, with backing as strong as that of the first, would seem to indicate that the Germans are very serious in their efforts to regain trade by the simple barter method. Presumably, they are using this in conjunction with all other possible means of furthering their commerce. The new trust, like the older one, is to supply an intermediary through which outside countries will be able to ship raw materials to Germany, allow the Germans to translate the raws into finished goods and then receive in payment for their raws a certain portion of the completed articles. The system, it is said, has been worked with great success for some months past and apparently the Germans are well enough pleased with it to be willing and anxious to increase its scope.

Silver Coins.

It is reported that the Canadian Minister of Finance is anxious to have the fineness of Canadian silver coins reduced from 925-1000 to 800-1000, the idea being to make it less profitable for individuals to export or melt down the coins for their bullion value. This, of course, is debasement, a thing much deplored by all "sound money" advocates. But, after all, silver has lost much of its "money" value. The Latin Union virtually is a thing of the past and, except in the Far East, silver is not in demand as "bank money." At the present time it is little more than metal, with none of the psychological attributes it once enjoyed.

Car Supply Improves.

Railroad managers are not inclined to welcome questions as to immediate improvement in the car supply or the service extended to shippers on the ground that not enough time has elapsed since the return of the roads for any difference to be discernible. At the same time some of the steel men in the Pittsburgh district report that the situation has materially improved and that the supply of cars is much greater. Explaining this, the railroad managers assert that improved weather has permitted moving the cars. No big increase in the car supply, they say, should be expected for the next month or so, and possible not until the new crop movement begins.

The Six months' Guarantee.

Definite news as to how many of the railroads accepted and how many rejected the proposed extension of the compensation guarantee until Aug. 31, 1920, has not as yet been received from the Interstate Commerce Commission. Local railroad organizations pointed out to their members an interpretation of the law regarding the guarantee with suggestions that to secure the extension there should be definite notice sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission by March 15. The functioning of the local organizations ceased in the matter at that point and only the final count by the commission will show how many rejections and how many acceptances were received. So far only two roads, the Pere Marquette and the Southern Railway, have failed to accept the extension. Yesterday it was learned that the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, which earned 75 per cent of its standard return in 1919, had accepted the extension. Some surprise was expressed at the news of the Southern Railway's decision, as that road earned only 57.1 per cent. of its standard return last year. In the preceding year 158.2 per cent. was earned.

Small Buyers Taking Bail Bonds.

In the last few days it has been evident that small investors have been picking up good railroad bonds which show attractive yields at present prices, and while there has been no very marked improvement in quotations, there has been a steady upward trend. The institutions apparently are not buying rail bonds in these days of tight money when favorable rates may be obtained for the use of their funds, and some observers consider the undertone as particularly strong with most of the dealing being done in small pieces. Among the rails the general mortgage 4s, which are selling at prices yielding 5 per cent. and better, seem to be finding more than usual favor with the small investor.

PORT WORKERS MAY AID LONGSHOREMEN

FEDERAL CONCILIATOR HERE

Negroes Attacked by Union Men—One Striker Stabbed—Piers Filled with Freight.

There was no indication yesterday of an early settlement of the strike of coastwise longshoremen, which has virtually tied up all shipping along the Atlantic Coast since last Saturday. Some union leaders professed to see the possibility of a spread of the strike in an announcement that marine engineers, railway port and terminal workers, master mates and pilots and lighterage captains will hold a joint meeting tomorrow to formulate demands for wage increases of 10 to 15 per cent. F. Paul Vaccarelli, business agent of the Harbor Boatmen's Union, declared that the strike would not spread to any other class of workers, as the railroads had agreed to meet with them this week and consider the demands of the several different organizations.

The managers of the coastwise lines will hold a meeting this morning in the office of E. R. Richardson, Chairman of the Committee of Managers, and Vice President and general manager of the Ocean Steamship Company. Mr. Richardson said yesterday that at this meeting they would likely hear General Robert McWade, United States Conciliator of the Department of Labor, who was in the city to sail on the Southern Pacific Line for his annual vacation, but found the line tied up on account of the strike.

The first clash between union men and strikebreakers occurred yesterday morning at Fulton and West Streets. The strikebreakers, twenty-five negroes, said to be on their way to the Fall River pier, were attacked by union men. Two strikers were knocked down but not seriously injured. Later George Geaney, a longshoreman, doing picket duty in the vicinity of the Fall River lines, was severely slashed with a knife. John Williams, a negro, 28 years old, of 265 Third Avenue, was arrested later on a charge of felonious assault, but discharged for lack of evidence.

J. Holland Gardner of the Fall River Line announced yesterday that an embargo had been placed on all freight coming by the steamers of the New England Steamship companies. It is said that teamsters working to aid the cause of the striking longshoremen have intimidated merchants and to a large extent prevented the moving of merchandise consigned to them. The result is that the five piers of the New England steamers are piled to the roof with freight. One hundred barrels of fish was sent to Pier 40 and put into cold storage.

Two hunared longshoremen and dock workers who have been employed on Pier 19 of the Metropolitan Line, East River, joined the longshoremen's strike yesterday.

Joseph Ryan, Vice President of the International Longshoremen's Association, and President of a new affiliation of workers engaged in the transportation trade, has called a meeting of this organization to be held this afternoon at 216 West Fifty-eighth Street. The meeting in some sources was regarded as a move toward a sympathetic strike.

The statement in yesterday's NEW YORK TIMES relative to the large amount of lumber from Southern ports being delayed on account of the strike gave builders some concern yesterday. Charles J. Kelly, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Building Trade Employers' Association, said that the delay in shipments of lumber from the South was particularly distressing at this time, when every one is so anxious to push the $100,000,000 housing campaign. There are 2,000,000 feet of lumber held on coastwise ships in the harbor now, according to E. A. Kelly, Assistant General Manager of the Clyde and Mallory Lines.

Unofficial word was received by steamship men from Washington yesterday that there was no hope for an increase in freight rates before about Sept. 1. The steamship owners have stated that it is impossible for them to increase the pay of the longshoremen until they are permitted to charge a higher freight rate. In their view, the only thing to end the strike is for the longshoremen to return to work and wait until the increase is granted.

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

From a letter by J. Nelson Shreve, Esq., President of the Company, we summarize as follows:

BUSINESS: The constituent companies have been engaged in the manufacture and sale of insulated wires and cables for many years. Leading customers include the Western Electric Co., American Telephone and Telegraph Co., New York Edison Company and other large users of electric power.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: To retire $177,000 par value bonds of Habirshaw Electric Cable Co., Inc., and to provide additional working capital, which, due to large growth of business since ending of war, can be utilized to great advantage.

PROPERTY: The constituent companies own three large, modern plants advantageously located at Yonkers, N. Y.; Bridgeport, Conn., and Nepperhan, N. Y., having present yearly capacity of over $15,000,000 gross business.

SECURITY: No mortgage may be placed upon present property while any of these Debentures are outstanding, unless ratably securing this issue. Combined net current assets must always be maintained equal to 115% of these and other Debentures which may be issued. The Company plans to acquire direct title to business and assets of the constituent companies.

EARNINGS: For the past four years combined earnings applicable to interest charges on this issue averaged $475,728 per annum. For year ending December 31, 1920, such earnings are estimated at $1,300,000, equivalent to over nine times interest requirements on the $2,000,000 Debentures, leaving a balance, after interest, sinking fund, depreciation, preferred dividends and taxes, estimated at $4.70 per share on the 135,000 shares Common Stock of no par value, proposed to be issued.

SINKING FUND: A fixed annual Sinking Fund of 3% of the largest amount of Debentures at any time issued will retire at least $60,000 bonds per annum and an additional sinking fund of 10% of net earnings after charges is expected to retire a substantial additional amount annually.

When, as and if issued and received by us, temporary bonds will be delivered on or about March 25th exchangeable for permanent engraved bonds when ready.

MARCH COTTON AGAIN SETS NEW RECORD

Most of the Near Months Also Reach High Marks in Last-Hour Trading.

MARKET STRONG AT CLOSE

May and July in Brisk Demand, with Large Speculative Interest Increasing.

After a rather uncertain morning and an early afternoon in which little was accomplished, the cotton market became aggressively strong and in the last hour most of the near months sold at new high records. March, the spot option, again scored a new high record for all time, and May and July were in brisk demand which lifted them 52 and 57 points, respectively, above the closing of the previous day. The distant months were firm but did not enjoy the gains that were made by the late months of the present crop.

With regard to the strength in the May and July contracts, these options have been the recent leaders on all the bulges for the reason that most people in the trade are now coming around to the belief that cotton will remain very strong at least throughout the present season. Further, it is felt that the present spot price of about 40 cents will be maintained, which means that as May and July draw toward maturity they will mount considerably. May stood at about 37¾ and July at 34⅛ cents last night, and if the theory that they are to advance to around 40 cents before they expire is worth anything, it is worth a good gamble now. Therefore, there is a fairly large and rather aggressive speculative interest in these months, and the interest is growing.

Yesterday's advance of the mid-afternoon were well sustained to the close and at the end of the day the market was strong.

The Liverpool market started somewhat uncertain but improved as the day advanced. Spots were reported to be in good demand but the price eased off 35 English points. Futures, on the other hand, closed at gains ranging from 25 to 45 points, after opening 13 to 28 points off from the preceding day.

Exports for the day totalled 31,436 bales, of which close to 20,000 bales were for Great Britain. On the week to date the movement has been 63,056 bales, against 129,239 bales at this time last week.

Yesterday's quotations follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Day.
March	40.10	40.24	40.15	40.15@40.24	40.00

Chicago City Railway Income.

The Chicago City Railway, reporting for 1919, shows a net income, after all charges, amounting to $1,303,937, which was equal to $7.24 a share earned on the $18,000,000 capital stock. In the preceding year $4.70 was earned on the stock. Total income of the company for the year was $3,084,821 as compared with $2,601,403 in 1918, while surplus was $403,937 as compared with a deficit of $53,814 in the year before.

VANADIUM TO BUILD ROAD.

Corporation Declares Dividend and Plans to Double Output.

Directors of the Vanadium Corporation of American yesterday declared an initial quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on the capital stock, payable April 15 to stockholders of record April 1. J. Leonard Replogle, President of the corporation, said after the meeting:

"We have placed a contract with the Foundation Company for a railroad from the mines in Peru to Lake Pun Run, covering twelve miles of the most difficult section of our transportation. The railroad should be completed about July 1, after which we expect to double or triple our output. We have a large stock of ore mines and ready for shipment."

Colonel M. G. Baker, Vice President of the company, will sail for Peru in April to superintend the construction of the railroad.

P. R. T. Profits Increase.

The report of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company for 1919 shows a surplus, after the deduction of charges and Federal taxes, amounting to $1,715,876. This was equivalent to $2.86 a share earned on the $29,991,660 $50 par value capital stock outstanding, in the preceding year $2.55 was earned on the stock. Gross income is shown as $36,039,519 as compared with $31,704,427, and net was $11,665,890 as compared with $11,334,856 in 1918.

Aiding American Commerce in France

EQUIPPED with a remarkable railway system covering nearly 32,000 miles, or about 154 miles of railway per thousand square miles, France has set to work to rebuild her war ruined industries. Already new railways have been pushed into Alsace and Lorraine. Rapid progress has been made in rebuilding 27,000 factories and nearly half a million homes. France looks to America to replenish 300,000 farm implements carried away in the war.

In Paris, the center of French finance and commerce, at No. 1 Rue Taitbout, is a branch of the Park-Union Foreign Banking Corporation, established there for the specific purpose of aiding American business men to cement closer and more cordial business relations with France. We shall be glad to place the facilities of this branch at your disposal.

CHEAP SUIT QUEUES LINE LONDON STRAND

Mallaby Deely, M. P., Sells 10,000 a Day in War on Profiteers' Trust.

PRICES $13.50 TO $23.50

Customers Get Good Cloth and Fair Fitting in Five Minutes After Entering.

"London is the cheapest place to buy clothing in the world for men at the present time," said Captain Frank H. Claret of the Atlantic Transport liner Bardic, which arrived yesterday from England with a number of valuable horses and breeding cattle, "through the efforts of Mallaby Deely, a member of Parliament, to break the profiteering tailors' trust.

"Deely denounced the manner in which the public were being robbed in a speech made in the House of Commons, and then proceeded to show the Government that good clothes could be sold at a moderate price. He bought the machinery that had been used during the war in the Government clothing factories to make uniforms, and then bought the cloth direct from the mills in Yorkshire and Lancashire and opened a tailor's shop in the Strand at the corner of Savoy Hill.

"From the day the doors were opened," Captain Claret continued, "the men have stood in long queues stretching along the Strand to Wellington Street and down the Savoy Hill to the Thames embankment all day long waiting to buy the ready-to-wear suits, which are sold at £2 17s. 6d., about $13.50 when the exchange is normal, to £4 17s. 6d., or $23.50, the top price in the shop. The cloth is of good wool and the cut is good enough for the needs of business men in moderate circumstances, who have had to pay three and four times the price for inferior goods to the profiteers. An expert tailor stands near the doors and as the customer enters he calls out 'Gray, blue, brown or black,' the colors of the suitings in stock, and then measuring the man with his eye the tailor shouts to an assistant standing by the racks of suits 'gray, 36 plump, medium or thin,' as the case may be. The coat is fitted on directly and the customer leaves with his new suit within five minutes from the time he enters the shop.

"Men who have not the time to wait employ boys at a shilling an hour to keep their places for them until they can reach the place, and the crowd, especially on Fridays and Saturdays, is so great that the police reserves from Bow Street have all they can do to keep the traffic in the Strand moving.

"Just before I left London, said Captain Claret, 'Mallaby Deely, M. P., who knew nothing about tailoring before he started to 'bust' the profiteers, was selling 10,000 suits a day. I tried to get into the shop to see what the blue serges were like and was nearly knocked down by a spirited cab horse which had become indignant at being shoved by the crowd. Mallaby Deely is the password now all over London, in the streets, funny papers and on the stage."

As the Bardic was being warped into Pier 58 yesterday morning her bow removed a little paint off the stern of the French liner France but did not do any damage to the big liner which is to sail today for Havre with a big list of passengers.

C. P. R. NET EARNINGS DOWN

Operating Costs Increased More Than Gross Revenue.

The preliminary income account of the Canadian Pacific Railway for last year shows a gross business of $176,920,060, an increase of more than $19,000,000 over 1918. The increase in operating expenses, however, was about $21,000,000, so that net was $32,933,036, as compared with $34,502,988 in 1918. The surplus available for dividends was $31,320,869, or the equivalent after preferred dividends of $10.36 a share on the $260,000,000 outstanding common stock. The amount earned on the common stock the previous year was $16.97. Of the total earnings available for the common stock last year $7.52 a share was derived from the operation of railway lines and lake steamers and $3.45 a share from special income. After the payment of regular preferred and common dividends there was a surplus of $2,000,883, compared with a surplus of $2,582,372 earned in 1918.

PUBLIC SERVICE DIVIDEND.

New Jersey Corporation Declares Quarterly Return.

Quarterly dividends of 1 per cent on the common and 2 per cent. on the preferred stock have been declared by the Directors of the Public Service Corporation, President Thomas N. McCarter announced yesterday in a statement which said: "The Electric Company and the Gas Company now are functioning properly and making satisfactory earnings, while the Railway Company has been allowed a rate sufficient to enable it to pay its operating expenses and fixed charges without yielding any substantial return upon the investment.

"The Railway Company has suffered from excessive operating expenses caused by abnormal weather conditions," Mr. McCarter said. "The early months are relatively lean in the public utility business, the profits being made in the latter part of the year."

Cleveland Bank Bandits Get $12,000

CLEVELAND, March 17.—Two armed bandits entered the Lorraine Avenue branch of the Cleveland Trust Company when the bank opened this morning, held up the cashier, George Travnikar, while he was making up a payroll, seized $12,000 in cash and escaped in an automobile.

TO HOLDERS OF CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT FOR EVANSVILLE & INDIANAPOLIS RAILROAD COMPANY FIRST MORTGAGE SIX PER CENT. BONDS DUE JULY 1, 1924, AND EVANSVILLE & INDIANAPOLIS RAILROAD COMPANY FIRST CONSOLIDATED MORTGAGE SIX PER CENT. BONDS DUE JANUARY 1, 1926, ISSUED UNDER AGREEMENT DATED JULY 9, 1914, BETWEEN THE COMMITTEE THEREIN NAMED AND THE HOLDERS OF SAID BONDS WHO SHOULD BECOME PARTIES THERETO:

NOTICE is hereby given that a Plan and Agreement, dated March 16, 1920, for the reorganization of Evansville & Indianapolis Railroad Company has been prepared and adopted and approved by the undersigned Committee under said Agreement dated July 9, 1914, as modified and amended, and that a copy of said Plan and Agreement has been filed with The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, the Depositary under said Agreement dated July 9, 1914.

Any holder of a Certificate of Deposit issued under said Agreement of July 9, 1914, may, within the thirty-day period prescribed by said Agreement (which thirty days will expire on April 30, 1920) file with The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, the Depositary, at its office, No. 22 William Street, New York City, a written notice of dissent from said Plan and Agreement, specifying the date or dates and the number or numbers of the Certificates of Deposit held by him. Unless holders of outstanding Certificates of Deposit issued under said Agreement of July 9, 1914, representing more than one-third in amount of said Evansville & Indianapolis Railroad Company First Mortgage Bonds or more than one-third in amount of said Evansville & Indianapolis Railroad Company First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds deposited under said Agreement shall file such written notice of dissent from said Plan and Agreement in the manner and within the period in said Agreement of July 9, 1914, prescribed, said Plan and Agreement shall be effective and binding on all holders of Certificates of Deposit issued and outstanding under said Agreement of July 9, 1914, and all such holders will become parties to said Plan and Agreement without the issue of new Certificate of Deposit.

Holders of said First Mortgage Bonds or First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds not heretofore deposited under said Agreement of July 9, 1914, may deposit the same with the Depositary thereunder on or before April 30, 1920, together with the coupons maturing July 1, 1914, and all subsequent coupons, and receive therefor Certificates of Deposit of said Depositary.

Holders of Certificates of Deposit, in order to avail themselves of the privilege of becoming Subscribing Depositors as in said Plan and Agreement provided, must, on or before April 30, 1920, present their Certificates of Deposit to The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Depositary under said Plan and Agreement, at its office, No. 22 William Street, New York City, for appropriate stamping, and must, on or before May 10, 1920, pay to said Depositary, for account of the Committee, the sums required in the Plan.

The Committee will act as Reorganization Managers.

Copies of said Plan and Agreement, to which reference is hereby made for a full statement of the terms, conditions and provisions thereof, may be obtained from the said Depositary.

French Internal 5% Loan of 1920

These bonds will be a direct obligation of the French Republic. They are redeemable on interest dates (May 1st and November 1st) by semi-annual drawings at 1,500 Francs per 1,000-Franc Bond, the whole issue being redeemed through these operations within sixty years. Bonds not drawn in this manner are subject to redemption at the option of the Government at 1,500 Francs per 1,000-Franc Bond at any time. Interest and principal are payable in Francs.

The bonds will be dated May 1, 1920, and will be issued in denominations of 1,000, 2,000, 10,000 and 20,000 Francs, but the face of the bonds, in accordance with the French custom, will indicate the annual income and not the principal.

Interest is payable May 1st and November 1st. The first coupon will be paid November 1, 1920, and will be for 35 Francs, which includes the regular semi-annual coupon of 25 Francs and 10 Francs to cover the interest accrued to May 1st.

Principal, interest and premium of this loan are payable free of French taxes.

We are authorized by the French Government to receive subscriptions for this loan from February 19th until March 20th (unless subscription books are closed earlier by their order) at the price of 1,000 Francs per 1,000-Franc Bond.

The subscription price is payable in full at the time of subscription at the current rate of exchange on Paris for the previous day, as fixed by the French Finance Agency in New York City.

The rate for subscriptions received on MARCH 18th has been fixed at 13.55, at which rate the price of the bonds is

$73.80 per 1000-Franc Bond

Our receipts exchangeable for Interim Certificates, when received from the French Government, will be issued against payment in full in dollars.

M'GEE DESCRIBES ARNSTEIN HUNT

Tells of Visiting Pittsburgh, Rochester and Syracuse Without Seeing His Client.

DID MEET AN EMISSARY

Testifies in Bankruptcy Proceedings That He Does Not Know Where Fugitive Is Now.

Eugene F. McGee, of counsel for "Nicky" Arnstein, still a fugitive from justice on an indictment connecting him with the alleged plot to steal securities worth millions from brokerage houses in the financial district, yesterday testified before Alexander Gilchrist, United States Commissioner, in the bankruptcy proceeding against Arnstein. He was subpoenaed by Saul S. Myers, counsel for the National Surety Company, petitioner in the bankruptcy, to tell of the trip he made with three city detectives in quest of the fugitive to cities in Pennsylvania and up the State.

McGee refused to answer certain questions, on the ground that it would be a violation of his relations with his client. After he had spent several hours on the witness stand, the hearing was adjourned until Saturday.

He declared that for the ten days he and Detective Sergeants Mayer, Brown and Gegan were waiting in Pittsburgh, Rochester and Syracuse for Arnstein to surrender himself he never met the fugitive. He told of meeting Arnstein at the Winton Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, three days before he started with the detectives in quest of the fugitive, and he admitted that soon after his arrival in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Feb. 28, he received a letter from Arnstein, which, by request, he destroyed.

"His letter said in effect," continued the witness, "that he would not come to New York until he was certain his bail had been arranged. He also declared in the letter that you were trying to fix the crime on him," said McGee, addressing Myers. "It is the biggest joke I ever heard of,' Arnstein said in his letter, 'and I don't propose to lay in the Tombs until my bail is arranged.'"

McGee said that when he arrived in Pittsburgh on Feb. 28 he registered at the William Penn Hotel as John Rogers. He said the three detectives stopped at the Fort Pitt Hotel, nearby.

"I stayed in my room all day, but during the day I received a telephone call from Henry Stern, a stranger to me, who said he was a friend of Arnstein's, whom I was to meet at that hotel at 11 o'clock that day. Later I received the letter from Arnstein, in which he said he would not return until his bail was arranged."

"Who is Henry Stern?" was asked.

"Is he Nick Cohen, or Charles Gondolf or Fred Gondolf?"

"I don't know any of them."

He said he received another telephone call from Stern the next day, Sunday.

"Stern asked me what had been done about Arnstein's bail, and I told him to tell Arnstein not to fear. At his suggestion I wrote a letter to Arnstein, in which I explained that it was not possible to arrange the matter of bail until Arnstein had surrendered himself in General Sessions. The next Tuesday I had another telephone talk with Stern, and he said that Arnstein wanted me to go to the Hotel Rochester in Rochester, N. Y., where Arnstein would get in touch with me and arrange to surrender himself.

"Where is Arnstein now?" asked Myers.

"I don't know," replied McGee.

BERGDOLL WAIVES DEFENSE.

Indications Point to Conviction and Jail Sentence.

That Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, who fled from the draft, is convicted of desertion and sentenced for a term in an army prison is indicated by the procedure of the general court-martial at the conclusion of the trial on Governors Island yesterday, when the defense closed its case without calling witnesses or introducing evidence.

The findings of the court will not be made public until after review, but had Bergdoll been exonerated or had the court reached a verdict not calling for a prison sentence, he would have been immediately released from confinement, under the court-martial rules. Late last night Bergdoll was still a prisoner in Castle Williams, and Lieut. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, commander of the Eastern Department, had received no communication from the Judge Advocate General's Office.

Witnesses had been subpoenaed, and the defense was expected to open an involved case yesterday morning, but Mr. Gibboney announced that no defense would be entered. Although he expressed confidence that the prosecution had not proved its case, he requested the court to state whether, in the event of a conviction, it had been instructed to act under the peace-time regulation which imposes a maximum penalty for desertion of eighteen months. This request the court refused.

AID FOR VIENNA FIREMEN.

Fire Chief Kenlon Issues Appeal for Funds for Food.

Fire Chief John Kenlon sent to every fire house in Greater New York last night an appeal to the members of the uniformed force for funds with which to procure food for the members of the Vienna Fire Brigade and their starving families. Chief Kenlon asked the members of his own command for a small contribution, so that dollar packages of food may be sent to the firemen abroad.

The appeal contains a copy of a letter from the Fire Director of Vienna to Chief Kenlon, saying the firemen there are forced to kill a fire horse to get meat. The food rations for firemen in Vienna, the appeal states, are now at a minimum. There are 1,250 members of the Vienna Fire Brigade, who with their families total 3,200 persons, of whom 350 are children under 14 years of age. Honorary Deputy Fire Chief Robert H. Mainzer last night sent Chief Kenlon a check for $100, as did his mother, Mrs.

ANOTHER LABOR MAN SLAIN.

Lieutenant of Murdered Enright Is Found Shot in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Chicago's labor war, dormant since the murder of Maurice "Mossy" Enright on Feb. 3, broke out again today with the finding of the dead body of Joe Hurley, labor leader and Enright lieutenant, lying in the street in the south side "bad lands." Hurley had been shot in the back. A trail of blood led from the body to a nearby saloon, noted as a gathering place for labor leaders.

Hurley was a pal of "Sonny" Dunn, brother-in-law of Enright, who recently forfeited his bonds in a grand larceny case and disappeared.

Frank McQuade, owner of the saloon to which the blood trail led, and John Cronin, his bartender, were arrested and are being held incommunicado.

Police are also hunting the owners of a cost found spread over the body and a hat lying nearby. Both men are known.

BRITISH INQUIRY FINDS PROFITEERING IN LAMPS

Committee Makes Charges Against a British Company Under General Electric Control.

Copyright, 1920, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, March 17.—Electric lamps are the subject of the latest inquiry under the Profiteering Act. A sub-committee appointed by the standing committee on trusts finds that there is a trade combination—the Electric Lamp Manufacturers' Association—which includes from 90 to 95 per cent. of the industry, controls factors and retailers, fixed prices at all stages and regulates output.

Standard vacuum lamps now sold to the public at three shillings each could be sold at two shillings. One and a quarter million half-watt lamps sold to the public in 1919 at twelve shillings and sixpence each were bought in Holland by the three associated manufacturers at three shillings each and a profit made on them of something like $1,000,000 over and above what the sub-committee thinks reasonable.

As the largest of the three dominant firms, the British Thomson-Houston Company, is under the majority control of the General Electric Company of America, it is the opinion of the sub-committee that there is danger of British interests being subordinated to American.

The sub-committee also finds that there is a possibility of an international combination, comprising British, Dutch and American manufacturers, which would be able to control supplies and domestic prices over a considerable part of the world.

The sub-committee recommends supervision and control by a department of the Government as necessary to safeguard the public.

KEPT FROM POTTER'S FIELD.

Knights of Columbus Arrange for Burial of Veteran.

The body of Oliver Dana Deyer, formerly a private in the 102d Machine Gun Battalion of the 26th Division, who died in the City Hospital on Blackwell's Island last Sunday morning, was saved from burial in Potter's Field yesterday when the Knights of Columbus learned of the death of the ex-soldier and arranged for a church funeral.

Deyer enlisted in the army on Aug. 7, 1917, at New Haven, and narrowly escaped death many times while fighting in France. He fought in France at Chemin des Dames, Château-Thierry, the St. Mihiel sector, and was gassed in the Argonne and sent to a base hospital. When he returned to his home in Massachusetts he found his mother had died and his sister, 14 years old, in an orphan asylum. He came to New York in an effort to look for work. Failing to get it he enlisted in the navy, but after a few months he became ill and was discharged. Three weeks ago he was taken ill in a furnished room.

SYDNAES' SURVIVORS HERE.

Captain and Eleven Men Arrive on Vaarli—Others Missing.

Captain A. Andreassen and eleven members of the crew of the Norwegian bark Sydnaes, which was abandoned 1,000 miles east of the Virginia Capes on March 2, arrived here yesterday on the Norwegian steamship Vaarli from Valencia, which had picked them up March 13 about 200 miles northeast of Bermuda. Another lifeboat containing the mate and eleven members of the crew, has not been heard from. When the crew abandoned the Syndaes on March 2 she was still afloat and drifting before the wind, the men said yesterday.

Captain Andreassen said there was a chance the missing lifeboat's crew had been rescued by a vessel not equipped with wireless. He said he believed the Sydnaes turned over and sunk, as she was listed over to fifty degrees.

The Sydnaes was a four-masted steel ship of 2,201 tons register and was built in 1895.

HAWAII GAINS 30 PER CENT.

Census Gives It 249,992, or 58,083 More Than in 1910.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The population of Hawaii is 249,992, the Census Bureau announced today. This is an increase of 58,083, or 30.3 per cent., as compared with 1910. The population is exclusive of persons residing at military and naval stations. The population of the Honolulu district is placed at 80,360.

Other population statistics for cities announced today included Milwaukee, 457,147, an increase of 83,290, or 22.3 per cent. over 1910, and Oswego, N. Y., 23,625, increase 258, or 1.1 per cent.

Milwaukee is the fifth large city the population of which has been announced. Cincinnati, Milwaukee's nearest rival in 1910, returned a population of 401,158 for 1920, an increase of 16.3 per cent over 1910. Washington, D. C., passed Cincinnati in this census, with a population of 437,414, an increase of 32.1 per cent.

COMBINE TO BUY CRUDE OIL.

Independent Producers and Refiners Aim to Stabilize Market.

PITTSBURGH, March 17.—In an effort to stabilize the crude oil market, important independent producing and refining interests in Western Pensylvania have orgaized a corporation, with a capital of $1,000,000, it became known here today.

Headquarters, it was stated by well informed oil men, will be in charge of S. S. Measer of Emlenton, Pa., who will make purchases of crude oil and apportion it among the refiner members of the company. No premiums are to be paid, it was asserted, the producers getting an extra profit through dividends from the company.

Sixteen companies were represented at the meeting, the Secretary of which was C. D. Chamberlain of Cleveland. Mr. Chamberlain is also Secretary of the National Petroleum Association.

JEWS HELP UKRAINIANS.

$500,000 Sent from Russia in Year, Says Dr. Salkind.

Jews in Russia, despite poverty, gave $500,000 last year to the relief of their people in Ukrainia, according to Dr. Salkind, a member of the Jewish delegation at Paris, who has come to New York in the interests of Jewish relief. Their contributions have maintained orphanages, feeding centres and medical dispensaries for nearly 3,000,000 Ukrainians, he said.

"The Jewish homes throughout Russia are so poor themselves that you could not grasp the possibilities of further sacrifice on their part," said Dr. Salkind, "but if you visited the devastated districts, where the Jewish population has suffered so terribly from war, from pogroms and from the Bolsheviki, you would see the proof of the aid given."

Marseilles Buys Craft Used in the Third Empire.

PARIS, March 17.—The yacht belonging to Napoleon III., which for some time has been a pontoon, has been sold to Marseilles for 130,000 francs. It will be dismantled. This yacht bore the name of Eagle, and upon it Empress Eugenie sailed to inaugurate the Suez Canal.

Subsequently the boat passed into private hands and was renamed the Rapid, and it is now known as the Swallow.

TRAVIS SEES DANGER IN INCOME TAX LAW

Suggests Constitutional Amendment to Guard Against Increase in Expenditures.

BETTER HARBOR NEEDED

Lack of Facilities Results in Waste, He Says, and Consumers Bear Loss.

The revenue from the State income tax is likely to fall much below expectations, State Controller Travis said yesterday. He refused to make an estimate on the total, but said the returns so far were disappointing.

Only an amendment to the State Constitution can prevent the State income tax from encouraging expenditures by the State until the tax is doubled or trebled, he said.

"In Missouri, it is stated that the income tax has gone up 300 per cent. since it was first instituted, and this, of course, is the natural tendency," he said. "A constitutional check is necessary to prevent the State Government from taking advantage of this source of revenue to increase expenditures, which in turn prodice heavier tax until the limit that the traffic will bear is finally reached. I believe that the time will come in the very near future, when a constitutional enactment will place the limit on it."

Controller Travis said that he had not drafted such an amendment and would not offer one himself, but that he was certain such an amendment would be placed before the people.

In an address before the Metropolitan Life Insurance agents at their annual dinner at the Metropolitan Life Building last night, the Controller said that ordinary business sense applied to New York harbor would cut the cost of living materially in New York City.

"Enough food is lost needlessly in New York harbor every year to feed the people of New York City for a month free," he said. "Because of the lack of a small expenditure for heating the docks 250 carloads of foreign onions were lost this Winter. The price of Porto Rico oranges was doubled. This waste would have been avoided, if sufficient foresight had been used and a sum of money expended which would not be much larger than the city frequently spends on receiving a noted visitor from abroad. Millions of pounds of vegetables have been lost unnecessarily through freezing. The cost of this falls on the consumer and falls very heavily on the New York consumer.

Speaking of reconstruction plans and the need of retrenchment in public expenditures, the Controller pointed out that much glittering generalities of academic value had been offered for the last decade but had resulted, whenever adopted, in an increase rather than in a decrease in the cost of government. He cited the Public Service Commission, which requires this year nearly four times the appropriation needed before its reorganization in 1907.

"The Conservation Industrial Commission and the Department of Farms and Markets furnishes additional instances where reorganization schemes have required enlarged appropriations. While it is not contended that these increases represent a waste, they serve, nevertheless, to illustrate the practical working out of the theories advanced when the changes were contemplated.

FOR DRY AGENT "TO LIMIT."

Government to Back Shevlin in Defense of McMullin.

James Shevlin, chief prohibition enforcement agent in this district, declared yesterday on his return from Washington that he had conferred with officials of the Internal Revenue Department and the Department of Justice in that city regarding the killing of Henry Carlton a week ago by Alexander McMullin, one of Shevlin's aids, and that the officials had promised to back Shevlin's defense of McMullin "to the limit."

He admitted, however, that he thought it against the law for a Government official to employ a man who had lost his citizenship rights through conviction for a felony, and intimated he did not believe McMullin, who is now in the Tombs under indictment charging the murder of Carlton, is the "John Conway" who served six years in State's prison for the holdup of a station agent at Pelham, N. Y., in 1913. It was announced by John F. Joyce, Assistant District Attorney, that McMullin will be arraigned before Judge Malone this morning.

OFFICE WORKERS FLEE FIRE.

Elevator Shaft Blaze Fills World's Tower Building with Smoke.

A fire in the elevator shaft of the World's Tower Building at 110-112 West Fortieth Street drove several hundred office workers to the street yesterday afternoon. The thick smoke spread quickly through the building, filling the halls, corridors and offices.

The fire was extinguished after the firemen ran lines of hose into the building. A large crowd gathered. The origin of the fire is unknown. The damage has not been estimated.

PLAN NEW $2,500,000 TIMES SQUARE HOTEL

TO CONTAIN 850 ROOMS

Henry Claman, Owner, Originally Planned Theatre for Site, Which Measures 200 by 75.

Another hotel project in the Times Square district will be started in a short time, which will involve an outlay of close to $2,500,000 before it is completed. Henry Claman, as President of the West Forty-eighth Street Realty Company, purchased from the Charles A. Christman estate the old buildings at the northeast corner of Eighth Avenue and Forty-third Street, on a plot 75 by 100. Mr. Claman already owns the adjoining excavated plot, 100 by 100, on Forty-third Street, which gives him a building plot with an avenue frontage of 75 feet and a street frontage of 200 feet.

This site will be improved with a fourteen-story hotel to contain 850 rooms and 450 baths. Gronemberg & Leuchtag, architects, who filed the plans yesterday for the operation, estimate the cost of the building at $1,500,000.

The Herman Arms Company, as broker, assembled the plot for Mr. Claman.

It is said that a large moving picture theatre was originally planned for this site, but the great demand for hotel space in the city influenced a change in the plans.

Work will begin in a short time, as soon as existing leases expire.

Brooklyn Realty Deals.

Henry Pierson & Co. sold 378 Sterling Place, a three-story dwelling, lot 19 by 123, for O. H. Lewis. The buyer will occupy.

E. T. Newman sold the four-story flat 359 Sixth Avenue for Patrick J. Clarke to a client for investment.

Bulkley & Horton Company sold 118 McDonough Street, three-story dwelling, lot 20 by 100, for Frederick Reicher to a client for occupancy.

O. E. Allard and J. J. Levey sold 412 Rugby Road, Flatbush, a two-story house on plot 40 by 100, to a client for occupancy.

F. C. Sauter Agency sold the three-story dwelling at 382 Third Street for Morris Joachim to Vincent Veneziano.

B. F. Knowles Company sold 80 Taylor Street, a two-story house, for Mrs. McK. Williams to J. Kasower for occupancy.

Tutino & Cerny sold for Mary G. Sebekos to a client for investment the three-story store and dwelling 5,502 Third Avenue.

Meister Builders sold 138 Tenth Street, a two-story dwelling on a lot 18 by 100. B. Scordato was the broker; also sold to a client of the Stewart Realty Company 117 Fourth Avenue, a three-story building with store on a lot 20 by 100.

L. & A. Pincus purchased from the estate of Anna H. Shea, for $60,000, the four-story elevator loft building at 143 West Fifty-first Street, 25 by 100, with immediate possession. The purchasers were represented by Charles Meyers.

James B. Fisher sold in Flatbush dwellings at 208 Argyle Road, 70 by 100, for Emily A. McIntyre and others to Lewis J. Spence, the present tenant; for Clara A. Parker at 1,314 Avenue I, 40 by 100, with garage to Frank Pendyck; also in Williamsburgh, at 168 Keap Street for Mary L. Walker to Jacob Lewis.

A client of David Gerstenfeld bought 92 Hawthorne Street, Flatbush, a four-story apartment house, 50 by 110, from Mrs. Helen Froelich. The property was held at $70,000.

The Bronx Market.

Alexander Selkin and Carl Jaffe sold for Samuel Katz the four-story apartment house at 1,545 Minford Place, on a plot 33 by 100, to a client for investment.

Cahn & Cahn sold to Ella Rosato 2,237 Grand Avenue, a two-family dwelling, on a lot 25 by 100. J. Martin was the broker.

Alexander Selkin and David Mintz resold 2,678 and 2,680 Creston Avenue, two three-story dwellings, on a plot 40 by 70 each, held at $11,000 each. The brokers were I. Lincoln Seide & Co.

L. G. Losere sold to Arthur J. Roberts the three-story house at 1,842 Teller Avenue.

E. Osborne Smith sold for Hildegard M. Becker the private dwelling at 1,005 Summit Avenue to Thomas J. Kean.

John Lucker sold the four-story flat at 410 East Eighty-fourth Street, on a lot 19.6 by 100, for James M. Power to Bodenlos & Bodenlos.

James H. Cruikshank purchased from Philip Lederer 453 to 457 East 158th Street, at the northeast corner of Elton Avenue, a five-and-one-half-story apartment house, on a plot 27 by 100, valued at $70,000. Harry Sugarman was the broker.

Mrs. Charles R. Knight sold her residence in Lawrence Park, Bronxville, to W. O. Packard of the Bankers Trust Co. of New York City. Maxwell Smith was the broker.

Big Fifth Avenue Sale.

Irving I. Judis and Joseph Silverson bought from the Surrey Investors, Inc., Raleigh C. Gildersleeve, President, the twenty-story building at the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-first Street. The property, a substantial structure, designed for occupancy as stores, offices and lofts, has a base area fronting 56.9 feet on Fifth Avenue and extends back 150 feet along the north side of Thirty-first Street to the Stockton Building, which extends to Thirty-second Street. The property was purchased about seven years ago by the Surrey Investors, Inc., from Henry Corn, who completed the improvement in 1900. It is now principally occupied by F. A. O. Schwartz, toy dealer, who leases the store, basement and first floors to Renald Frères & Co., D. Lissner & Co. and other high-class concerns, who pay rentals aggregating about $285,000. Welling & Koelble were the brokers.

Buying in Westchester.

The residence of Herbert Willard on Hickory Grove Drive, Larchmont Gardens, has been sold to Mrs. Lillian Goodman of Mamaroneck, who will occupy. George Howe was the broker.

Julia Beverley Higgens sold for Mrs. Alice B. Knapp a house and about one-half acre of land at Katonah to the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society of New York.

Burke Stone, Inc., sold the residence of John Young at 9 Park Place, North Pelham, to Anson Smith of Mount Vernon.

Richard Dickson has sold for Rose Stewart to Sarah Jane Dickson 354 South First Avenue, Mount Vernon, on plot 30 by 105, improved with a two-story dwelling and garage.

Fish & Marvin sold for H. P. Nicolls his residence on Highbrook Avenue at Pelham Heights to a client. The property was held at $25,000; also sold for R. W. Middleton his house at Lawrence Park, Bronxville, now occupied by S. E. Ward, to George L. McClintock. The property was held at $23,000; also sold for George P. Westervelt his residence on Millard Avenue at Pelham Manor to Alfred L. Smith of New York City. The property was held at $20,000.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

By Henry Brady.

52d St., 537 West, n s, 350 ft w of 10th Av, 25x100.5, 5-story tenement and stores; E. A. Austen et al against Lena Gebringer et al; $16,886.60; taxes, &c, $900.33; to the plaintiff for $14,000.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

PUBLIC HEARING. U. S. Engineer Office, Providence, R. I.—A Public Hearing will be held in Room 308, New Federal Building, Exchange Place, Providence, R. I., at 2:00 o'clock P. M., Wednesday, March 24, 1920, on the subject of necessity for and advisability of establishment of an anchorage area in the western passage of Narragansett Bay, R. I. All interested parties are invited to be present or to be represented at the hearing. While for accuracy of record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, oral evidence will be heard.

PLAN NEW MOUQUIN'S.

Well-Known Downtown Restaurant to Locate Near Former Home.

Louis Mouquin has purchased 114 and 116 Fulton Street from the Broadway-John Street Corporation, Elias A. Cohen, President, for a consideration, reported to be something less than $325,000. The property, a six-story loft structure, 50 by 80, adjoining the southwest corner of Dutch Street, was obtained by the seller less than a month ago, and is to be completely reconstructed by Mr. Mouquin when possession is obtained on May 1. Moore & Sparks negotiated the transaction.

The old Mouquin place at 149 Fulton Street was closed recently because that property was taken over to provide an extension for the national Park Bank.

Apartment House Deals.

Joseph Shenk sold to a syndicate of tenants the Rodna apartments at 98 Morningside Avenue, southeast corner of 122d Street, a seven-story elevator structure, on a plot 100x100, valued at $300,000. The house contains fifty apartments and returns about $40,000 annually. Last week Mr. Shenk sold to a syndicate of tenants the adjoining Latham apartments at the northeast corner of Morningside Avenue and 122d Street, held at $300,000. Mr. Shenk also sold the five-story apartment house at 65-67 Nagle Avenue, on a plot 50x125, held at $100,000 and renting for about $14,000.

CO-OPERATIVELY OWNED and FREE and CLEAR of MORTGAGE

Is to be the last word in apartment house construction. Ultra modern in every detail. More than a city residence—more than a hotel—where the hourly or double service system of domestic employment is to be inaugurated. This service solves the servant problem and includes a hotel service of the highest, but strictly private order, when desired.

This newest among apartment buildings is to be sixteen stories and occupy the entire block bounded by Park and Vanderbilt Avenues, 48th and 49th Streets.

Over Two Million Dollars
Already Subscribed by Prominent New Yorkers

These prominent residents of New York will occupy their own apartments in the building.

The balance of the issue is now offered to those who wish to purchase an apartment on the co-operative ownership plan which has so successfully solved the high rent problem.

No Further Rent

By paying a sum equivalent to eight years' rental, during construction, all future payments of rent are eliminated. It is anticipated that the income from the apartments retained for leasing will be more than sufficient to pay the fixed charges and operating expenses.

The Advantages of Being an Owner

You have a deed instead of valueless rent receipts.
You have no more rent to pay.
Your income tax is materially reduced.
Your apartment may be arranged to suit.

THE WEATHER.

Pressure has risen considerably east of the Mississippi River and is highest over Lower Michigan. To the westward in the Plains States and the Rocky Mountain region it has fallen rapidly, and the Nevada disturbance of Tuesday night has reached East Colorado, with about the same intensity, with rapidly rising pressure in its rear.

There were light local snows in the lake region and rains in the Atlantic and Gulf States, with heavy showers in portions of South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, in the Central Valleys, the Plains States and the Northwest the weather was generally cloudy, while in the Far West there were snows and rains, except in the North Pacific States.

Temperatures are generally lower in the East and South, and somewhat higher elsewhere, except in Utah and Arizona.

The eastward movement of the Colorado disturbance will probably be attended by rain Thursday night or Friday in the upper lake region and the Lower Ohio Valley and by Friday in the western lower lake region and the Upper Ohio Valley. With the exception of local showers Thursday in the Southeast the weather will be generally fair Thursday and Friday in the Atlantic and Gulf States, although with considerable cloudiness in the South.

It will be somewhat warmer Friday in the Ohio Valley and the lake region.

FORECAST.

Eastern New York—Fair Thursday. Friday fair in east, increasing cloudiness and warmer in west.

Western New York—Fair Thursday. Friday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Southern New England—Fair Thursday and Friday.

Northern New England—Fair, somewhat colder Thursday. Friday fair.

New Jersey and Delaware—Fair Thursday. Friday partly cloudy.

Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair Thursday. Friday increasing cloudiness.

The Language of Figures

TO the class of etymologists should be added the Certified Public Accountant. For it is his function to deal with the Language of Figures.

To analyze a business in terms of figures is one thing. To interpret those figures in terms of the business is quite another.

Accountants' reports should not only cover conditions revealed by audits, but should also interpret the meaning of the figures covered in their reports.

For under such guidance the business executive can translate into action the passive language of bookkeeping facts.

THE INSIDE STORY OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE

A KEEN analysis of the reasons why the advent of Peace finds Europe a seething mass of humanity.
What happened behind the scenes in Paris—truly the inside story of the Peace Conference,—is contained in this remarkable book.
The author, Dr. Edward J. Dillon, had the opportunity to watch every move of the drama at Paris—and the purpose behind each when it was made. This story lights up many dark corners of the world situation today.

BOLIVIA IS WARNED BY WASHINGTON

Two Urgent Messages Sent, and Another Ready, Enjoining Her Not to Attack Peru.

ACTING AT PERU'S REQUEST

Dispute May Go to League of Nations — Chile Suspected of Fomenting Trouble.

WASHINGTON, March 17 (Associated Press).—Insistent representations to Bolivia not to disturb the peace of South America have been made by the American Government as a result of the anti-Peruvian manifestations at La Paz. In connection with the communications it was stated that Peru had sought the good offices of the United States to prevent hostilities.

Two notes have been sent, and a third is ready to go forward unless a reply to the others is received soon. The first was dispatched immediately after official news was received Monday of the attack upon the Peruvian Legation in the Bolivian capital. The second was put on the cables yesterday.

Officials view the situation as serious, and the representations made by the State Department were described as "urgent."

Dispatches to the Peruvian Embassy today said that events in Bolivia resulted from the influence of the Chilean Government and the activity of Chilean agents. It is known that this view is also held in other diplomatic and in some official circles here. Embassy officials expressed the belief that there was an effort to force Peru into a war against its former ally in the war against Chile in the eighties, out of which grew the Arica-Tacna dispute. The Peruvians charge that General Montes, a candidate for the Presidency of Bolivia, who is reported to be leading the anti-Peruvian manifestations, is being supported by Chile and is being supplied with arms and ammunition from that country.

Rigid Censorship at La Paz.

The exact situation in Bolivia is somewhat obscure, owing to the rigid censorship reported to have been imposed at La Paz. Reports reaching Peru that General Montes was mobilizing Bolivian reserves caused deep concern. At the Peruvian Embassy it was said that if this were true Peru would be obliged to call out its reserves, as its standing army consists of only a few thousand men.

Peru and Bolivia are members of the League of Nations, and if they sever diplomatic relations the crisis thus provoked would, under the articles of the League Covenant, be such as to bring the dispute to the official cognizance of the Council of the League.

Some diplomats considered such an eventuality not at all unlikely. They said that such a case would have a peculiar interest, as it would afford the first test of the strength and power of the League.

Should Peru and Bolivia fail to submit the dispute to the League, the Council might be expected to take action on its own initiative. Since the Court of International Justice, provided for the purpose of adjudicating disputes, has not yet been organized, the Allied Supreme Council, it was said, would deal with the matter.

LIMA, March 17.—The Peruvian Foreign Office announces that communication was re-established this morning with the Peruvian Legation at La Paz, Bolivia, which was attacked yesterday by the Bolivians. The Minister reported that the mob had attacked and burned the offices of La Razon, an organ unfavorable to former President Monte.

The dispatch from the Minister added that the situation was becoming tranquil.

Silk Robbers Chased Over Roofs.

Patrolman George Peopella found four men in a loft building at 248 East 118th Street yesterday morning, with a pile of silk sweaters and stockings, which they were about to remove. When they saw the policeman the men ran to the roof. The policeman pursued the robbers over the roofs of several buildings and down into the street. After a chase of several blocks Peopella caught a man, who said he was Carmine Adano, a salesman, of 2,013 First Avenue. The prisoner was held in $3,000 bail by Magistrate Ten Eyck in Harlem Court.

OPPOSE NEW BRITISH PARTY

Lloyd George's Liberal Followers Object to His Proposal.

LONDON, March 17.—Premier Lloyd George's plan of fusing two wings of the coalition into a new party met an unexpected check yesterday, according to the London Times, when he privately addressed Liberal members of the Ministry and urged that it was impossible at present to establish a purely Liberal Government, and that if the Liberals were to share in molding events at this critical time they could only do so in association with others.

Such a large proportion of his colleagues, says the Times, objected to the Premier's views that he was obliged to promise that he would go slow when discussing the situation at a meeting of all the Coalitionists and Liberal members of Parliament fixed for Thursday.

"Miss Amethyst's" Will Offered.

The will of Antoinetta Dox Bonner, also known as "Miss Amethyst," who died from cyanide poisoning, self-administered, on March 5 last, was filed yesterday in the Surrogate's Court by Mrs. Caroline Bonner, her mother. The document disposes of personal property amounting to $400. The mother and sister, Rose Jackson, are the beneficiaries.

SHANTUNG SILK SHIRTS

Quite a while back we bought about a thousand pieces of Shantung at a very low price. Later, a custom shirt maker agreed to tailor them for us "between-times," when the demands of his own exclusive clientele were not too exacting.

There are two styles: Neckband shirts with soft turn-over cuffs; also, collar-attached shirts with the new 2-button barrel cuffs.

We purposely refrain from stressing their price-attractiveness at $4.65, because they are the sort of silk shirts to command favorable notice at a much higher price—and should be respected as such.
